By Faculty action, effective February 1, 1934, CHICAGO-KENT adopted the "four-year plan" for part-time students. A student who now takes the major portion of his work after 5:15 in the afternoon will be restricted to a program of ten semester hours and will not be permitted to elect the three year option.

This plan will provide more time for outside study and should result in greater efficiency.

FOUR YEAR OPTION NOT NEW

The four-year option is not new, but has always been available to students desiring to elect this plan. While primarily arranged for the benefit of part-time students, it has also been popular among full-time students who have desired to pursue their legal studies with more deliberation than is possible if the course is to be completed in three years.

MAY STILL FINISH IN THREE YEARS

Full-time students who have sufficient study time to prepare the schedule required under the three year option may still finish in three years, by arranging their programs so that the major portion of their work is taken in 1:30, 2:15 and 4 o'clock classes.

MORE EARLY CLASSES

The early classes have proved so popular that a 1:30 section has been added to the freshman class, so that students who desire to elect the three year option may schedule freshman classes beginning at 1:30, 2:15 and 4:00 p.m.

SPECIAL STUDY GROUPS

For students experiencing difficulty in handling the work, special class work has been arranged by the College. Small groups have been formed to work under the direction of Mr. Zacharias. These groups meet at various times, so the student may select the one which best suits his convenience. One group meets on Mondays and Wednesdays at 1:30 p.m. and another on the same days, at 7:45 p.m. There are also two Tuesday-Thursday groups, one at 1:30 and one at 7:45, and a Saturday class meets at 1:15 p.m.

TEACH HOW TO STUDY LAW

The primary object of instruction in these groups is to teach the student "how to study law"—how to "extract the law from the case," to distinguish decision from dictum, to "sort out" the essential facts and eliminate non-essential ones; in short, to analyze the cases assigned and to prepare a proper brief of each case.

The "mechanics" of legal study differ to some extent from those of any other subject and the special class work should be of particular value to those who find the difference confusing.

These special classes, however, do not confer credit.

With the coming of the new year, the debate team will swing into action, in a series of seven weekly radio debates, in which they will meet teams from the Midwestern universities. The opponents on this schedule are all noted for strength of their debate teams. As CHICAGO-KENT is the challenger in each, each opponent has selected its own question, its formulation and the side which it chooses to maintain. All have selected topics of live, present interest.

BROADCAST OVER WLS

These debates, as in the past, will be broadcast over radio station WLS. The time will be each Sunday morning at 9 o'clock.

LISTENERS TO DECIDE WINNER

Following the previous custom, the winner will not be announced at the close of the debate, but will be determined by votes of those who listen to the broadcast. Votes should be mailed to "Radio Station WLS, Prairie Farmer Building, 1230 West Washington Blvd., Chicago, Ill."

Since all the effort required to attend these debates is the turning of a radio dial, every student and alumna of CHICAGO-KENT is urged to "listen in" and to vote.

THE SCHEDULE

The schedule, as so far arranged, is as follows:

- Jan. 6 - DePaul University - Modern Advertising
- Jan. 13 - Indiana University - The Gold Standard
- Jan. 20 - Marquette University - Government Monopolies of Manufacture of Arms and Munitions
- Jan. 27 - University of Chicago - The Back to the Farm Movement
- Feb. 3 - Purdue University - Federal Grants to Education
- Feb. 10 - University of Notre Dame - International Shipment of Arms and Munitions
- Feb. 17 - Northwestern University - Labor Affiliation with National or Company Unions

Turn out and support your debate team by "swelling the mail" every Monday at WLS. Vote for the team which, in your opinion, made the best and most effective argument, regardless of your personal opinion on the subject debated.

TRIALOUTS FOR TEAM

If you are an undergraduate student, have not already put in your application, and want to "try out" for a place on the team, see Prof. Edmund W. Burke, Coach of Debate or Harry W. Osborn, Manager of Debate.

To the Alumni,
Chicago-Kent College of Law,
Chicago.

Gentlemen:

It is a pleasure to respond to the request to address the members of our Alumni Association through the medium of the Chicago-Kent News.

It is natural that my first thought is to congratulate the Faculty of Chicago-Kent on their continuing the enviable record of accomplishment in the field of legal education which has been made by the college, a record beginning with the old Chicago College of Law, the law department of Lake Forest University in 1897, and reflected in their success at the present time. Such commendation is deserved, and in making this statement, I express the wholehearted sentiment of the Alumni and Student body. The personnel of the faculty has been wisely chosen. The Faculty is composed of teachers who are highly qualified for the work of imparting legal knowledge and guiding the student to a comprehensive and adequate knowledge of the law. A number of the teachers devote their entire time to the educational welfare of the students; others are actively engaged in the practice; thus preserving the desirable balance between theory and practice and presenting to the law student the law in all fields.

The student body has, of course, taken a very important part in the success of the School. The co-operation and diligent work of the student is pre-requisite to the establishment of high scholastic records. This co-operation has been earnestly given and we should be mindful of the credit which is due for the zealous manner in which they apply themselves.

The contribution of the alumni to the success and high standing enjoyed by the college is evidenced by the large number of Kent men actively engaged in the practice of law in Chicago and elsewhere, among whom are some of the outstanding authorities of the present day in specialized fields of law. The Alumni is well represented on the Bench and in public service, both in number and quality. As State's Attorney of Cook County, I have had the advantage of the aid of Kent men in my office as Assistant State's Attorneys, and they are doing excellent work. A number of other employees are, at the present time, students at the college.

An opportunity, to be seized wherever possible, is afforded the Alumni group to encourage young men, whom we consider well qualified by character, industry and moral standards to be admitted to the Bar, to enter Chicago-Kent, and on the other hand, to discourage those who do not measure up to the requirements of Kent and of the Bar. Such activity by the Alumni would, I am sure, meet the hearty approval of the College.

There is a matter of vital importance to the legal profession, which we, as Alumni must face squarely, and to which I should not fail to direct your attention and urge you to do your part. The legal profession is suffering in prestige, power and influence because of the dishonorable and dishonest acts of a few members. It is futile to declare that the profession should not be judged by the acts of the few. In our time, more strongly than ever before, the press, the pulpit and the public are bringing the profession to the Bar of public opinion for appraisal, and clamoring for the reform of the law and the elimination of the dishonest practitioner. Unfortunately, there are members of our profession who have proven unfit - the type that is commonly known as a shyster, and in recent years as the scavenger of the law, and the criminal lawyer who crosses the line and becomes a lawyer criminal. These men, often more dangerous and undesirable in a community than gunmen or highwaymen, degrade and disgrace an honorable profession.

The scavenger and the lawyer criminal must be driven out of the practice of law. I call upon you, as loyal members of Chicago-Kent Alumni, to join with other powerful bodies and Associations to achieve this vital need of our times, that the best traditions of the greatest of the professions may be preserved.

Sincerely yours,

[signature]
IN MEMORIAM

JOHN LONG FOGLE

WHEREAS, JOHN L. FOGLE, a member of the faculty of Chicago-Kent College of Law for more than twenty-five years, departed this life on the 11th day of September, A.D. 1934; and

WHEREAS, during that period he taught the subject of Legal Ethics to about three thousand students of law and thereby exercised a lasting influence for good on the minds and lives of these men and women who have since become members of the legal profession:

THEREFORE, BE IT

RESOLVED, that we, the Trustees, in behalf of Chicago-Kent College of Law, its alumni and students, hereby publicly express our deep sense of gratitude for the life, work and character of JOHN L. FOGLE.

RESOLVED FURTHER, that this resolution be spread upon the records of Chicago-Kent College of Law, and that a copy be delivered to the bereaved family whose grief we share and to whom we offer our heartfelt sympathy.

TRUSTEES

In tribute to Mr. Fogle, we join with the Chicago Bar Association which, for thirty years, he served so faithfully and so well. The Association, through the Chicago Bar Record, in expressing its appreciation of his life and work and its regret at his passing, said:

"His devotion to the interests of the legal profession was second to none. They who served as members of the Grievance Committee during those thirty years unanimously attest to the fairness, ability and forcefulness of the services rendered by him in the capacity in which he served. He was always fair in giving to accused lawyers every possible opportunity to present their side of the controversy, always ready and willing to listen, to advise, to help. Having been born in a rugged, mountainous country on the highest point in West Virginia, in early life he learned to view humanity not from the valley but from the hill tops. He was never a prosecutor but always an advocate. He loved justice and hated injustice. He stood for the highest ideals and ethics of the profession to which he belonged. In the matters which he handled before the Grievance Committee he cared not whether the side he represented won or lost, if only he presented the matter with all his ability, fairly and justly.

Throughout his entire legal life, he worked for the betterment of the profession. In the passing of John Long Fogle, Chicago-Kent College of Law has lost a beloved professor, the Chicago and Illinois bar has lost a lawyer of the finest type, and every law student and practicing lawyer in Illinois has lost a friend.

Not only Chicago-Kent College of Law, but the Chicago bar, the Illinois bar and the entire legal profession, suffered a great loss on September 11, when John L. Fogle, for the past twenty-five years professor of legal ethics at our College, died at his home in Chicago, after a short illness.

John Long Fogle was born February 25, 1875, at Terra Alta, West Virginia. He was the son of Robert Bruce and Beseline Long Fogle, descendants of revolutionary stock. After preliminary education in the West Virginia public schools, he went to Washington to complete his education at Georgetown University, where he received his A.B. degree and later, in 1898, his degree in law.

While still an undergraduate in law, Mr. Fogle married Nellie Caraskadon, of Keyser, West Virginia.

Shortly after he had completed his study of law, Mr. Fogle came to Chicago, where he entered the law offices of Dent & Whitman. In 1904, he became attorney for the Grievance Committee of the Chicago Bar Association, a position which he held until his death.

Mr. Fogle was nationally recognized as an outstanding authority on Legal Ethics, the subject which he taught at Chicago-Kent College of Law. His work in this field has not only influenced the law of Illinois, but also that of other states.

Mr. Fogle is survived by his widow, Mrs. Nellie Fogle, and by eight children: Kenneth, Robert Bruce, Helen, John Dent, Dorothy, Mildred, Marjorie, and William Harrison.

RESEARCH CLASS STUDIES INTERESTING PROBLEMS UNDER LEADERSHIP OF DEAN--DISCUSSION AND COMMENT ON RECENT DECISIONS

Group Meets Every Thursday Evening—Members Constantly Watch Advance Sheets Work Interesting and Practical

Important and interesting questions, constantly arising in the practice of law, as indicated by current decisions, are considered and discussed when a small group meets with Dean Burke each Thursday evening. For the preparation of the members of this group are constantly watching the "advance sheets" for interesting and unusual cases, and especially those which raise points which appear to be of value in application to Illinois practice.

Under the guidance of the Dean, each case is analyzed and discussed. If, upon such analysis and discussion, the case appears worth comment, it is assigned to one of the group to prepare such comment, to be read at a subsequent meeting of the group end, later, published in the Chicago-Kent Review.

The work is intensely interesting and very practical. Those who are so fortunate as to have been selected for participation in the class are gaining real experience in "finding the law," evaluating decisions, reconciling or distinguishing cases apparently in conflict, reducing the result of their investigations to concise written statements expressed in proper legal diction, which adequately cover the subject-matter, and in general, attacking legal problems in the practical manner which will be required of them as practicing lawyers.

PHI ALPHA DELTA WINS TROPHY: KAPPA BETA PI, NOT COMPETING, HAS HIGHEST AVERAGE

Phi Alpha Delta won the inter-fraternity scholarship cup for the last semester, with a grade-point average of 1.532. Delta Theta Phi, having the highest average, did not participate in the competition. The Phi Delta Phi, consistent winners for the past seven semesters, dropped to third place, with an average of 1.400.

The highest average was turned in by the sorority, Kappa Beta Pi, which had a mark of 1.929. They were not, however, in competition for the trophy, for under the rules of the contest, the grade must be figured on a basis of not less than fifteen members, and Kappa Beta Pi have only seven on their membership list. For the same reason, Delta Chi, which turned in a grade of 1.334, did not participate in the competition, as they also have only five members.

The averages attained by all fraternities, participating and non-participating, were as follows:

Kappa Beta Pi (not contesting) - 1.929
Phi Alpha Delta - - - - - - 1.532
Delta Theta Phi - - - - - - 1.421
Phi Delta Phi - - - - - - 1.400
Delta Chi (not contesting) - - - - - - 1.534
Nu Beta Epsilon - - - - - - 1.243
Alpha Sigma Tota - - - - - - 1.217

CALLAGHAN PRIZE

This prize, offered by Callaghan & Company, law book publishers of Chicago, for the best legal study prepared by a member of the senior class consists of $50 in law books. It was awarded to Edwin Gilbert Carpenter.

Legal studies prepared in competition for this prize by Maurice Benjamin Silberman, Joseph M. Stillier and Miss Anne G. Carter, received honorable mention.
ROUND TABLE

FIRST MEETING

Round Table held its first meeting of the fall semester Saturday afternoon, October 6, at the club rooms on the 35th floor of the Civic Opera building. J.C. Laney, '30, a member of the Round Table from his second year in CHICAGO-KENT, was the speaker. He discussed the questions arising under the Workmen's Compensation Act with respect to liability and the poisoning by silica particles. He reviewed the length of the decisions in the Wedron and Burns cases and stated that, in his opinion, the question is not yet finally settled under the Workmen's Compensation Act, for the court still has to pass on the question whether the wording of the act includes cases of this character.

Professor Pickett introduced the twenty-eight new members, who, having attained the required standard of scholarship during the past semester, were admitted to membership:

SECOND MEETING

At the second meeting, on November 3, the speaker was the late Justice Frederic R. DeYoung, of the Supreme Court of the State of Illinois, who delivered one of the most interesting and inspiring talks which Round Table members have had the pleasure of hearing. As usual, his organization of the court's sessions was as smooth as the printed brief. As he discussed the work of the courts, both trial and appellate, illustrating and illuminating his talk by flashes of humor and anecdote. He particularly stressed the need of thorough preparation of cases before their presentation in court, and the uselessness of the practice of presenting to the appellate courts oral argument which is merely a repetition of the printed brief which, as the Justice remarked, "we have to read anyway." Round Table members were fortunate indeed, to have this final opportunity to receive from Mr. Justice DeYoung, a small measure of that knowledge which, with his great love for the profession of the law and his unflagging efforts toward maintenance of its great fundamental principles, made him a great Justice.

TRIBUTE TO JUSTICE DEYOUNG

The regret of Round Table was given expression in the following letter, sent by direction of the Executive Committee, to Mrs. DeYoung:

"Dear Mrs. DeYoung:

It is our wish, as members of the Round Table of Chicago-Kent College of Law, to express our deepest regret at the untimely passing of Justice Frederic R. DeYoung.

Justice DeYoung had been gracious enough to appear before our organization on two different occasions, and we hold his opinions and advice to us in the highest esteem.

We feel that his passing has worked a great loss to the people of Illinois and to the entire legal profession.

With deepest sympathy, we are

The Round Table of Chicago-Kent College of Law

K.W. Munnsert

Chairman.

THIRD MEETING

The speaker on December 8 was Hon. W.J. Fulton, Justice of the Illinois Appellate Court for the Third District. Justice Fulton, who was a student of Professor Pickett, in the professor's first law class at the University of Illinois, after an exchange of plessants and a reminiscence or two with his former mentor, launched into an interesting and instructive talk on the opportunities of the legal profession, as well as its ideals, duties and obligations. He spoke of the attitude antagonistic to lawyers which exists in some communities, and to show its lack of foundation, cited instances of the absolute confidence reposed in lawyers by their clients, personal, family and business confidences which they would reveal to nobody else. He paid high tribute to the standards of the profession and the character of its members as evidenced by the fact that such confidences are never betrayed. Justice Fulton's message throughout, was of encouragement and cheer, especially when he spoke of the rapidly expanding field of activity in which lawyers are called upon to play a part, and the opportunities for specialization which have come as a result of this enlarged field.

HISTORY OF ROUND TABLE

Round Table was organized in December, 1926, as a result of discussions which had been going on for some time among members of the class of '28. A few of the members of this class had been in the habit of meeting informally to discuss cases which had arisen in class. They suggested to Professor Pickett that they would like to have a member of the faculty meet with them and formulate discussions. Professor Pickett called upon to form an organization in which lawyers are valued and appreciated, to show its lack of foundation, cited instances of the absolute confidence reposed in lawyers by their clients, personal, family and business confidences which they would reveal to nobody else. He paid high tribute to the standards of the profession and the character of its members as evidenced by the fact that such confidences are never betrayed. DELTA THETA PHI

With nearly all of last year's actives back in school this fall, Webster Senate has been able to start off in good style. Thus far we have held two rushing smokers which have been successful, as we now have in our fold six pledges: Roland L. Ruff, Raymond A. Rempert, Robert B. Locke, Christopher Romes, William H. Wervol, Walter A. Ross.

Brother Roger Severns, of our senate, who is a member of the faculty of Chicago-Kent, gave a very instructive and enjoyable talk at our first smoker of the year on "The Advantages of Being a De Beer Root." Brother Root, a burke, also of our senate, now a practicing attorney in Chicago, talked to us at our second smoker on "The History of the Fraternity and the Benefits a Practicing Attorney Derives from a Legal Fraternity." During the year we hope to have more of our own alumni members address the senate, as we always like to hear from them.

The supper dance at the Biemark hotel, on Friday, October 19, in honor of our Brother Roger Severns, who had devoted so much of his time and effort to the senate, was a grand party.

The Chicago Alumni senate has started something this year, in alumni of alumni smokers. The first of these was held September 29, at the Stevens hotel. All alumni and active members in Chicago were invited and a goodly number attended. Honorable Brother John Gutheuch, Judge of the Municipal Court of Chicago, was the principal speaker. Judge Gutheuch, who spent the past summer making an extensive tour of Europe, gave a very interesting and instructive talk on "The Position and Future of the European." These smokers afford an excellent opportunity for getting Brothers in and out of school acquainted with each other.

The senate is well represented on the "Round Table" this fall and we hope to be able to increase the number of our members in this honorary organization before the school year is complete.

KAPPA BETA PI

Alpha Chapter of Kappa Beta Pi legal sorority held its first meeting on September 8, at which time the following officers were elected, to serve during the ensuing year:

Agnes M. Kasper, Dean; Anne G. Carter, Associate Dean; Emma Lane, Registrar; Ellen M. Bearmeont, Chanceller; Charlotte L. Lewis, Master Signature; Harry Wood, Registrar; Mary Arthur, Chair of the Board of Directors; Katherine E. Bould and Harriet G. Bissell, members of the Board of Directors.

The officers elected at the September meeting were installed at the meeting of October 17, at which meeting Mary Arthur, the newly-elected Chairman of the Board of Directors was the honored guest and received a compact decorated with the sorority crest in honor of her new position as assistant to the head of the law department of the Pullman Company.

Alpha reports with great pleasure that two of her members, Anne G. Carter and Agnes W. Kasper, are now duly licensed attorneys and counsellors at law, having received their licenses at Springfield on October 11. Alpha extends to Agnes Bernard Tardy, its best wishes for a successful trip to Spring Field in November.

NU BETA EPSILON

One of the most successful affairs in the history of Benjamin Chapter took place on Sunday, October 14, at the Medina Michigan Avenue club, where twenty-five fraternity congregated for the initiation of pledges and installation of officers.

The new fraternity is: Gerald Crane, Seymour Hershman, Bernard Pollock, Bernard Wolf, Arnold Yawitz.

Amid impressive ceremonies, the following officers were installed: Lester G. Richman, Chancellor; Daniel C. Gardiner, Vice-Chancellor; David Korman, Master of the Rolls; Harold Fink, Master of the Exchequer; Leon Cook, Corresponding Scribe; Clifford Koth, Marshal.

At the banquet which followed, Chancellor Richman outlined his plans for the term, which included more activity along both social and scholastic lines. His remarks were greeted with enthusiasm by the fraternity who pledged their cooperation.

A smoker was held at the Morrison hotel on September 28. Irving D. Zasoev, prominent attorney, was the principal speaker and gave an interesting talk on the procedure in personal injury litigation.

The fraternity extends its congratulations and best wishes to Philip Misco, Fred Woodman and Earl Blumenthal upon their admission to the Illinois bar.

STUDENTS AND ALUMNI: This is YOUR newspaper. Its success or failure will depend on you. You are all "working on the paper" - the only reporters we have. If you don't "make good" on the job, we will have no news - and no newspaper. So send us NEWS.

What is news? The unusual is always news. "If a dog bites a man, that's not news - if a man bites a dog, that's news." For us, this old newspaper "hoozah" must be qualified. It must be a CHICAGO-KENT man - or a CHICAGO-KENT man's dog.

But it doesn't have to be unusual to be news. It is not unusual for CHICAGO-KENT graduates to be elected or appointed to positions of honor, trust, and confidence. When this happens, it is news for the rest of us like to hear it - it encourages us to keep on trying when "the going is tough."

New additions to families of CHICAGO-KENT men and women are good news. With regret, we have had to tell, in this issue, of the death of several alumni and a beloved professor. That is bad news, but we want to publish all the news - good or bad. And HUMOR - we can use a lot of it.

At this time, Fuller Inn takes great pleasure in announcing the pledging of William V. Zacharias, recently appointed to the faculty of CHICAGO-KENT, and of the following men:

The big Alumni meeting, held Friday evening October 26, at the Bismarck hotel, was a very successful affair, with a large turnout of alumni and undergraduates members.

Fuller Inn extends a cordial invitation to its alumni to be present, not only at its Alumni meetings, but at every other meeting.
