Our Organizations
The Gavel

The history of the various graduating classes of Chicago-Kent College of Law points to the existence of a handicap which confronts each senior class at or about the time the class is started and organized. This handicap consists of the absence of a definite program or working basis for the class activities throughout the senior class year as well as the necessary functions incident to graduation. Officers are elected, committees appointed, various suggestions made, but in the absence of any experience or a record of the experience of preceding classes active work along the various lines is unavoidably postponed.

With this thought in mind a number of the seniors of the 1922 graduating class of the Chicago-Kent College of Law inaugurated a plan at the beginning of this year, whereby this difficulty that each senior class experienced could be overcome. After obtaining the signatures of a liberal number of seniors a meeting was held on November 22nd, 1921, for the purpose of discussing and formulating plans for the organization of some form of a body to undertake this much needed work. The result was that there was organized a club known as "The Gavel" with the following officers elected:

President.................................................. A. W. Froehde
Vice-President.......................................... P. R. Monson
Secretary............................................... Wm. N. Wise
Treasurer............................................... W. McHenry
Sergeant-at-Arms.................................... T. H. Griffith

A most salutary provision was incorporated into the constitution of the Gavel which is the one point that is to assure the success of the 1922 class and, if carried into practical effect, of every succeeding class of the Chicago-Kent College of Law. It is especially provided that up to the commencement of the second semester of the senior class work the membership of the Gavel is to constitute seniors. On or about February first of each year there is to be voted into the Gavel a number of the then juniors of the College, such number not to exceed the number of senior members of good standing at that time. In this way the new members can obtain much practical experience which can be utilized by them as seniors during their last College year and having this experience as a foundation or basis, can conveniently and with practical effect assist in the carrying out in an efficient and business-like manner the program that the senior class as a body recommends.

It should be borne in mind that the Gavel is only in its inception and that immediate results cannot be expected. It is a question of time, and given time, it can develop to the degree where its assistance, its willingness to cooperate to the fullest extent in rendering each graduating class of the Chicago-Kent College of Law the greatest in the history of the school, will prove very beneficial.
The Fraternities and Sorority at Chicago-Kent are composed of active members and have assisted in the compilation of the 1922 Transcript.

In the fall of 1911 a group of ambitious students of our school, headed by C. P. Aberg, conceived the idea of organizing and conducting a debating club.
The object of the members was to improve themselves in public speaking and to instill a spirit of confidence in their abilities along this line.

After they had existed as a debating club for some time, it was suggested that they fraternize. The suggestion was favorably acted upon and as a result a new brotherhood came into existence at Chicago-Kent College of Law, which was named PHI KAPPA PHI FRATERNITY.

After the outbreak of the war the activities of the fraternity were suspended and remained so until 1920, during which year the organization was revived and has since continued uninterruptedly.

The fraternity ever since its inception has received the admiration and cooperation of the faculty. Our organization is universal in that it is non-sectarian, by which composition a genuine brotherly spirit has been promoted. The members have been vigorous in school affairs and in the welfare of the student mass.

We strive not on the gridiron,
   To win fame for old Kent,
No gladsome yells of struggle tells
   Of ball team victory bent.
But the men of Kent their aid have lent
   That man shall not man wrong,
And on the scent of man’s content
   Their toil is as a song.

Hail to the men of dear old Kent,
Their is a heritage of justice and right,
Right shall not be suppressed,
Wrong shall be redressed,
And they fight the good fight
That Right makes Might,
This is the song of Kent.

We strive to master our country’s laws
   To add to the glory of Kent,
That the world acclaim its honored name,
   This is our intent.
For the men of Kent in their ascent
   They labor hard and long.
The air is rent with praise of Kent
   And gladsome rings our song.
