OKLAHOMA OPENS DEBATING SEASON FOR KENT

Arrangements have been completed for the first inter-collegiate debate of the season. Through the courtesy of the Chicago Daily News this debate will be broadcast over WMAQ, the Chicago Daily News broadcasting station. The University of Oklahoma will furnish the opposition. On the two previous occasions that the Chicago-Kent College of Law has engaged in a debate with the University of Oklahoma the latter has been victorious. In each instance the University has had teams of exceptional merit. Advance reports from Oklahoma indicate that their team this year will be even stronger than heretofore.

The Chicago-Kent College of Law will be represented by two able speakers; namely, Charles Edwards and John McCaffrey. Mr. Edwards has previously appeared in several debates on behalf of the college. He is a convincing talker, well grounded in the principles of debating and will undoubtedly acquit himself in a manner which will give the boys from Oklahoma something to ponder over. Mr. McCaffrey who is a freshman will make his initial appearance in this debate as a member of the debating teams of the college. In the inter-class contests he clearly demonstrated that he will be of material assistance to the college this coming year in its inter-collegiate forensic activities.

As has been the custom in the past the decision will be given by the radio listeners.

The second inter-collegiate debate will be staged on January 29th. The opponents for this debate have not as yet been selected. It is expected, however, that a definite announcement will soon be forthcoming.

An innovation in inter-collegiate debating at the Chicago-Kent College of Law will be attempted on February 12th when a debate will be held at Wilmette, Illinois, under the auspices of the Wilmette Post of the American Legion. A patriotic program has been arranged by the Post in memory of that great orator Abraham Lincoln. It was thought that no better method than a debate could be devised to celebrate the birthday of one who, largely, through his ability to speak, made a reputation that will live forever.

St. Thomas Military College of St. Paul, Minnesota will take the affirmative side of the question: Resolved; "that the U.S. government should cease to protect by armed forces American capital invested in foreign lands". Further details of this debate will appear in the February issue of the review.

Considerable interest was manifested by the student body of the college last year in its debating activities. It is expected that this interest will be greatly increased this year as all debates have been scheduled at a time that will enable every student to listen in. Each student at the college should make it his or her business to see that these radio debates are called to the attention of their friends in order that they may likewise have an opportunity to tune in on the debates and cast their votes. The only way by which the participants can determine whether or not their efforts are appreciated is by the ballots that are cast and the comments that are made after each debate. The boys who are taking part are doing their share for your college. Will you do yours?
Details of Oklahoma-Kent Debate
Time: January 11, 1928—10:00 P. M.
Place: Studio of WMAQ, the Chicago Daily News Broadcasting Station.
Subject: Resolved; "That a system of compulsory voting should be adopted in the United States."

SHERMAN TO PILOT MID-YEARS
DUFFY HEADS JUNE CLASS
Complete official returns in the Senior Class elections which were held November 28th for the June class and December 21st for the Mid-Years show the following officers elected:

Mid-Years
President—B. H. Sherman.
Vice-President—Miss Florence Dicker.
Secretary—H. Weiss.
Treasurer—R. W. Ibenfeldt.

June Class
President—Jas. J. Duffy.
Vice-President—Peter Wall.
Secretary—Harry Carlson.
Treasurer—R. A. Cavanaugh
Sergeant-at-Arms—G. A. Franklin.

Perhaps for the first time in the history of the College, the much coveted office of President of a Senior Class was uncontested. No greater tribute can be paid to President Duffy of the June Class than the fact that he was the unanimous choice of his classmates. The same tribute was paid to G. A. Franklin, also of the June Class, and H. J. Perry of the Mid-Years.

The contests for the other offices were unusually close, in some cases being decided by a margin of a single vote. The winning candidates were the recipients of hearty congratulations and good wishes from their friends and classmates.
