HONOR SOCIETY GIFT IS VALUABLE ADDITION TO CHICAGO-KENT REVIEW

HONOR MEN TO INDEX CHICAGO-KENT REVIEW LEADING ARTICLES. CASE DISCUSSION TO BE INCLUDED—FREQUENT SUPPLEMENTS

Dean's Research Class to Collaborate in Editing Chicago-Kent Review

A comprehensive index of the leading articles and case discussions in the CHICAGO-KENT REVIEW has been prepared under the direction of the Society of Kent Honor Men and is shortly to be published by the Society. The index begins with Volume V and includes Volume XIII, completed with the September, 1935 issue.

TITLE INDEX OF LEADING ARTICLES

The index is composed of three parts. The first part is a title index of the leading articles, the second part is a title index of the case discussions, and the third part is a title index of the REVIEW, including Volume V, published in the college year 1934-35. In preparing this title index, each leading article has been listed alphabetically by title under appropriate headings designating the field of law to which it relates. With this index article is listed the name of the author and date of publication. The volume and page numbers in the REVIEW have been indexed by Roman and Arabic numerals, respectively.

SUBJECT INDEX OF CASE DISCUSSIONS

A subject index of case discussions forms the second part of the index. The discussions of current decisions, which have proved of great assistance to the readers of the REVIEW in keeping abreast of the law, are made accessible and of greater assistance than ever before. Each discussion has been grouped in an alphabetical subject arrangement under the headings used for the title index of leading articles. Whenever there is a case discussion dealing with a subject as a leading article, an appropriate reference has been made in the title index of leading articles. In this way many leading articles are rendered more valuable by constant cross-referencees, indicating changes and trends in the law.

TABLE OF CASES

The index is completed by an alphabetical table of cases discussed. In listing these cases, the citations and dates of the decisions have been included. Through the use of this table, the reader may find quickly any discussion contained in the REVIEW, of a particular case he may have in mind.

HEADINGS FOLLOW CURRICULAR SUBJECTS

The headings used in the index have been chosen to coincide as closely as possible with the courses in the College curriculum. This was done, of course, to make the index of greater assistance to students. However, many additional headings have been used to indicate the content of the articles. Cross indexing has been carried out wherever necessary.

MATERIAL OF PERMANENT VALUE ACCESSIBLE

The inclusion of leading articles in the REVIEW began to have a usual feature with the publication of Volume V. Several important legal discussions appeared in that volume, which was completed in 1927. The REVIEW began to devote some space to discussions of current decisions in 1928 and 1929 with the publication of Volume VII. All of this material, much of which is of permanent value, is useless unless readily accessible to readers of the REVIEW.

LEADING ARTICLES — CASE DISCUSSIONS

A total of sixty-seven leading articles and 145 case discussions form the subject-matter of the index. Thirty-one headings were used for the title index of leading articles and thirty-four for the subject index of case discussions.

MATERIAL COVERS WIDE RANGE OF SUBJECTS

The material in the REVIEW has covered a wide range of subjects and much assistance in research on difficult questions may be had from its use. In particular, Volumes XII and XIII contain discussions of the important cases construing the provisions of the Civil Practice Act. In the same volumes are included the recent important cases dealing with new phases of the law of mortgages and foreclosure of bond issues. These cases are, many of them, the work of the Board of Case Editors directed by Dean Burke, and prove of great assistance to the alumni, since the REVIEW has included much information as to important decisions and changes and developments in the law.

SUPPLEMENTS TO BE PUBLISHED

It is planned to keep the index up to date through the frequent publication of supplements. The members of the Society of Kent Honor Men, under the direction of the index, have prepared, have planned this feature in order to make it of as much utility to students, faculty and alumni as possible.

OTHER PROJECTS PLANNED BY SOCIETY

The comprehensive index is the first of a series of projects planned for the present academic year by the Society of Kent Honor Men. This society has undertaken a program which will prove of distinct service to students and alumni alike.

REVIEW EDITORIAL BOARD MEETS WEEKLY TO DISCUSS NEW CASES

During the past school year and summer, Dean Burke, with the assistance of Professors Hemingway and Collins, developed a new method for insuring thorough treatment of interesting current decisions in the CHICAGO-KENT REVIEW. The plan consists in the selection of a board of editors, composed of junior and graduate students, who meet once a week at the College, as a research class, and discuss significant cases from the most recent advance sheets. Certain of these cases are assigned to individual members of the group for investigation and for written comment.

This editorial board has been developed by Dean Burke from his research group, the formation of which was announced in the last issue of the CHICAGO-KENT NEWS.

ILLINOIS LAW EMPHASIZED

Emphasis is placed upon Illinois law, and the cases selected for comment from other jurisdictions are those which are believed to be of potential significance in this state.

EACH COMMENT CONSIDERED BY ENTIRE BOARD

A comment ordinarily involves a brief statement of the facts of a case, discussion of the authorities and other cases in point, and an opinion as to the soundness of the decision and its probable effect. These comments are read before the entire group for criticism and revision.

HAS RECEIVED FAVORABLE COMMENT

The new plan has functioned well and the articles published have produced favorable discussion and comment among both students and lawyers.
The success of our democratic form of government depends to a great extent upon the lawyers in public life and the lawyers who interest themselves in public questions. All lawyers should charge themselves with a duty to the public and become in the life of the State and Nation something more than one who stands at the bar of justice and pleads the causes of individuals. A complete lawyer must be continuously student and educator, and throughout his life carry on that which the law schools began for him.

The second of a series of articles to be contributed by prominent alumni. Governor Horner is an alumnus of the Class of '96, and a former professor of law at CHICAGO-KENT.

The Lawyer in Public Life

Lawyer Owes a Civic Duty to the Public
Trained Minds Needed in Public Affairs
The Profession Itself — A Public Trust

By Honorable Henry Horner,
Governor of Illinois

Lawyers always regarded as leaders by the people generally, and will continue to be so regarded as long as they embrace the opportunity their profession offers. Lawyers are trained in the science of government and it naturally, therefore, becomes their province to guide the public. Admission to the Bar is a privilege. The practice of law is a high public trust and the State and Nation have a right to expect from lawyers particularly an active interest in public affairs.

Lawyers Guided Framing of Constitution

Early in the life of the American government practically every lawyer interested himself in the affairs of the nation and the best legal minds were at the source of government and guided our destinies, resulting in the greatest basic law ever written — the Constitution of the United States.

Bar Has Contributed Eminent Leaders

In the early days the Bar contributed such men as Webster, Calhoun, Clay and Douglas to the United States Senate. Lincoln, the President, was a better leader in the crisis through which he served because he had been "Lincoln, the lawyer."

Lawyer's Duty to Help Inform Public

Many of our fellow citizens do not comprehend legal phraseology, nor do they understand the provisions of our State and National Constitutions; nor, for that matter, do very many citizens understand either the provisions or the effect of our laws. Lawyers know the answer to these and practically all public questions. It is their duty to help inform the public. They can bring much enlightenment to their fellowmen even after making allowance for the possible bias in public statements of some political lawyers who may stress certain features of certain legislation because of partisan politics.

Cannot Escape Responsibility of Service

Although a lawyer may have no desire to serve the public in an official capacity, there can be no excuse whatever for the failure of any lawyer to interest himself in public affairs. Ours is a government of law under the Constitution, and he who is trained to understand the law and the science and machinery of government cannot escape the responsibility of service to his fellowmen. His obligation is the greater in times like these when laymen are taking more of an interest than ever in public questions and need the help and guidance of trained minds.

Two Essentials Absolute

To those who are now students with high hopes for the future, let me say that the fame of the lawyer has not been easily acquired. No profession demands more understanding devotion of its members than does that of the lawyer. The essentials are absolute — integrity and the will to do. Give those qualities and the vision of our country's needs to the law student of today and his leadership in the Bar will follow because there never was a time in the history of our country when lawyers had a better opportunity for service to their fellowmen.
ANNUAL ALUMNI LUNCHEON AND HOMECOMING-COMMENCEMENT

ANNUAL HOMECOMING ATTENDANCE NEARS FIVE HUNDRED-CLASSES OF FORTY-FOUR YEARS REPRESENTED-DEAN OUTLINES FUTURE PLANS, HIGHER STANDARDS

Professor Guernsey's Return Hailed

Talks by Class Representatives

The Forty-eighth Anniversary Luncheon and Homecoming of CHICAGO-KENT was held in the Grand Ballroom of the Hamilton Club on June 17. The attendance reached nearly five hundred graduates, among whom were members of classes from 1891 to 1935.

CLASS OF '10 HAS LARGEST ATTENDANCE

The alumni were seated at class tables, the arrangement which has become traditional at these alumni meetings, as it affords the best opportunity for exchange of reminiscences by the classmates. The largest class group in attendance was that of 1910.

OVATION FOR PROFESSOR GUERNSEY

A great ovation of applause greeted the appearance of Professor Gay Guernsey, who acted as toastmaster — a tribute to his "game" right against the illness which confined him to his home for nearly a year, and an expression of delight that he is back with us again. Professor Guernsey performed the duties of his office in his characteristic style, enlivening his remarks with those flashes of humor so familiar to those who have attended his classes, which he uses in "driving home" the point which he desires to emphasize.

DEAN BURKE SPEAKS

Dean Burke made a short talk in which he discussed the work of the College and its plans for the future, emphasizing the higher standards which are constantly being introduced in every department.

TALKS BY DECENNIAL CLASS REPRESENTATIVES

As in former years, short talks were made by representatives of the classes decennially removed from 1935. The decennial representatives who spoke for their classes were K. B. Gazzonek, '26; Bernard P. Buras, '05; Herman S. Landfield, '15, and David Neuman, '25. These representatives outlined the accomplishments of the members of their respective classes. The emphasis was changed to hopes and promises of future accomplishment, when Robert A. Brown and George H. Hall, Jr., spoke on behalf of the classes of February and June, 1935, respectively.

The Phi Delta Phi won the trophy only one semester, dropping to fourth place in the last contest. Kappa Beta Pi, not having fifteen members, did not participate in the contest.

JANUARY MEETING
The January meeting of Round Table was held in the Electric Club on the 35th floor of the Oppenheimer Building. Mr. Rooks, counsel for the Illinois Commerce Commission, was the speaker. Mr. Rooks explained some of the legal facts that body in its dealings with the various public utilities of the state, and the functioning of the Commerce Commission in setting prices and rates for the benefit of the general public.

FEBRUARY MEETING
The February meeting was addressed by Mr. Luther M. Walter, of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Mr. Walter discussed the powers and functions of that body and explained its importance. The problem of railroad rate making was most carefully outlined and the two controversies, "Long Haul v. Short Haul", or "Less Than Carload" were presented, with explanations for the decisions.

JUDGE PICKETT IN HOSPITAL
On Monday, Feb. 21, it was told of the members that Judge Pickett was a patient at the West Suburban hospital, following a major operation. For a while there was some doubt as to his recovery, but a rugged constitution prevailed and within six weeks, the Judge was once more at liberty.

APRIL MEETING
The speaker for the April meeting was Hon. George E. Johnson, the former United States District Attorney for the District of Illinois, who told of his experiences as Collector of Customs and of the many interesting cases which he handled while serving in that capacity.

MAY MEETING
The May meeting which finished the current year for Round Table, was of a less serious nature. Judge Pickett returned and presided, thus making the luncheon more informal. The speaker was Mr. Anthony Cransnecki, a political editor of the Chicago Daily News, who told of his experiences as Collector of Customs and of the many interesting cases which he handled while serving in that capacity.

OFFICERS FOR 1935-36
The officers for the college year 1935-36 are Prof. C. F. Pickett, Director; Prof. R. L. Severns, Associate Director; Prof. J. J. Babcock, Secretary and Treasurer. The Executive Committee is composed of Clarence E. Fox, John M. Hadfield, Arnold A. Gallager, Mainland, Hedged McDonald, Milton H. Tuttle and Bernard Wolfe, with Edward J. Friedrich as Chairman, Professor Pickett introduced the eighteen new members who, having attained the required standard of scholarship during the past semester, were admitted to membership. They are Gordon Adler, P. J. Brown, F. G. Florian, I. Koldny, W. F. Krouse, H. W. Lingle, J. H. M. Morissette, W. R. Roe, B. M. Serlin, M. M. Sheffner, G. E. Stephenson, E. M. VanPurrusen, J. White, P. Wilson and Miss Selma Zhiblit.

The speaker was Anthony Cransnecki, political editor of the Chicago Daily News, who told of his experiences as Collector of Customs and of the many interesting cases which he handled while serving in that capacity.

In November, the Round Table was particularly honored by having as the speaker Hon. Francis S. Wilson, Justice of the Illinois Supreme Court. Justice Wilson's talk was interesting, entertaining and instructive. He discussed the present method of selecting judges, the need of a method which will provide for permanent tenure in judicial office, and the evils and difficulties which arise in attempting to work out such a method. He stressed, in particular, the difficulty of placing the "appointing power" where it will be free from political influence. In answer to a question, Judge Wilson said that received and may be told that the "appointing power," in his opinion, is more important than the argument, although the argument is read by the court whenever the "facts, points and authorities" raise close questions.

DECEMBER MEETING
The speaker at the December meeting will be Hon. Otis A. Glenn, former United States Senator from Illinois, who was a student in Professor Pickett's first law class at the University of Illinois. Professor Pickett will preside at this meeting.

MEMBERSHIP CERTIFICATES
Membership certificates have been prepared and are obtainable upon application to Mr. Babcock, at the College. The cost is $1.50.
PHI DELTA PHI

The meeting held by Fuller Inn throughout the spring was also successful in every respect and pointed the way toward one of the finest years the Inn has had. Following the meeting in which the brothers heard a most instructive talk on the interpretation and application of the Illinois Civil Practice Act, held on November 26, in the Board of Education room on the subject of "Air Law," he spent a busy two hours answering questions, ranging from the volume of air express to the jurisdiction of the Federal courts in a question brought under the Illinois Workmen's Compensation act.

The Annual Spring Picnic was held late in June. It was highly successful, attracting the alumni in great numbers, and brought out the active members to a man. Graduates will be glad to know that Judge Pickett has returned, and he will be ably assisted in the work of the Inn by brothers Hemingway and Zacharias.

ALPHA SIGMA IOTA

The installation of officers of Alpha chapter of the Alpha Sigma Iota Fraternity, who were elected for the fall term, was held last June. Dave Berger was installed as chancellor; Arthur Gomberg, vice-chancellor; Milton Shaffner, master of finances; Samuel H. Mages, master of rolls; and David F. Kramer, sergeant at arms. The new administration took a very successful term.

The Grand Council of the Alpha Sigma Iota, representing four chapters, held its semi-annual smoker at the Sherman hotel, October 11, 1935. The speaker of the evening was Judge Schiller of the Municipal Court of Chicago. His affair was very successful, as there was an attendance of over two hundred. Milton Golater, of the "Cleveland Indians," was also present. The climax of the evening was the delicious refreshments offered by chairman Eugene Bernstein, who demonstrated his superb skill as a magician and hypnotist.

The Alpha held its fall smoker at the Bismarck hotel, October 18, 1935. The speaker of the evening was Charles Kirshbaum, an alumni, who is a prominent attorney at law. He told of his experiences as an attorney just beginning the practice of law.

The installation of the pledges took place at the Allerton hotel, October 20, 1935. The after-dinner speaker was Samuel Malkus, a famous Alpha man, now practicing law. Chancellor Berger delivered the address. The pledges outlined their programs as Fraters.

The new members include Gerald Sax, Carl Sussman, Sam Neilberg and Harry Jaffe, all of whom are of high scholastic standing.

Alpha is proud to announce the acceptance by Judge Pickett of Edward Newlander and Milton Shaffner into membership in the Round Table.

The Alpha men who have successfully conformed to the requirements laid down by the Supreme Court of the State of Illinois and the Illinois State Board of Law Examiners last July, are Nat Austin, Charles Sohy and Herbert Kent.

Congratulations are extended to Ed Newlander, who proudly boasts that he is the father of a baby girl.

DELTA OMEGON DELTA

On November 3, 1935 a Round Table discussion is being held at the Knickerbocker hotel with Miss Harry Springland, law librarian, as guest speaker.

The Pledge Luncheon is being held November 10, 1935, also at the Knickerbocker hotel.

The sorority's activities for the coming year includes seven major events, the dates of which will be announced later.

DELTA THETA PHI

Webster Senate takes great pleasure in welcoming to the Senate Jim Madden, Bill Warvel, Wayne Will, Ed Bill Campbell, Louis Hayward, Bert Morrisette, George Dilley, Bob Bjork and Bill Gunner.

On July 25, members of Webster Senate took to sea on the good ship "Wendela," the former hour ride was enjoyed by all except James "quick-trigger" Hackett who spent most of the evening running to the rail.

At the October meeting, Webster Senate was especially privileged to have as the speaker Hon. Charles S. Deneen, former United States Senator from Illinois; twice Governor of the State of Illinois; and former State's Attorney of Cook county. The Senator gave the members some very instructive advice as to how to present a criminal case.

The first party of the season was held Friday evening, October 22, at the College Inn of the Hotel. William. Excellent entertainment was provided by George Olson and his orchestra, the ice carnival and the clever Ethel Shutt. A surprise was enjoyed during the amateur hour, recently inaugurated by the College Inn, when George Mangan, assisted by Ethel Shutt, as master of ceremonies.

It is not often that a judge is obliged to deliver a speech at two o'clock in the morning, but such was the case with Judge O'Connell of the Municipal Court of Chicago, guest of honor for the evening. In his brief talk, Judge O'Connell stressed the necessity for loyalty between the Bench and Bar and between members of the Bar. At the end of his talk, Judge O'Connell presented the Delta Theta Phi scholarship certificate to Raymond Rempert and Wilbert Walder, of the class of 1935, Roland Hart, who has also earned a certificate, was unable to attend the party.

Following these last ceremonies, the meeting was adjourned. Everyone agreed that it was a great success.

Alfred J. Berah is president of Webster Senate and James F. Hackett is tribune.

KAPPA KAPPA KAPPA

Agnes Clohesy, a founder and first president of the Elementary Teachers' Union of Chicago, was invited to address the Kappa Kappa Kappa chapter of the University of Chicago, and Mrs. Mangan will make their home in Denver.

Alpha's roll of grilles will shortly include the name of Clela Guthrie, 135, whose engagement to Raymond R. Stern, also a lawyer, has been announced.

Alfred and Sarah Liebenson are the proud parents of a baby girl, Carole.

Sarah Sandor, Veronica Schmitz, Grace Baiger, and Clela Guthrie were admitted to membership at the joint initiation of Chicago chapters at the Chicago Athletic association on May 26.

Clela Guthrie and Bernice Bauersfield received their Bachelor of Laws degree on June 17, at which time the dean of Alpha, Agnes M. Kasper, and the associate dean, Anne G. Carter, received their Masters' degrees. Alpha entertained for the graduates in Mandell's South Ivory room on Saturday June 22. The chapter honor key for 1935 was awarded to Anne G. Carter.

NU BETA EPSILON

With the opening of the 1935-36 school year, Benjamin chapter has again commenced activities. Friday, October 15, marked the running of a successful smoker and party which was staged jointly by the Bar and the Benjamin chapter. The attendance resulted and a good time was had by all.

Dan Cupid has been taking liberties with the "Nu Bails" and so we must report the respective marriages of Sid Hollens and Joe Bohchol, alumnus, and Reuben Kolby.
