CHARLES A. BASTAR

Died August 1, 1917

It is with regret that we announce the death of Charles A. Bastar, '19, 4010 W. 12th Street, on August 1, 1917. He is remembered for his splendid work in the Freshman year.

ALUMNI NOTES.

Morton L. Roberts, '90, has been elected commander of the Veteran Corps, Illinois National Guard, for the ensuing year.

Paul R. Wick, '16, was married on June 23rd, to Miss Alma H. Korn. They will reside at 2331 Walton Street.

The office is beginning to be a busy place. New faces are appearing and the enrollment for the ensuing year has started and the number bids fair to outnumber the record of last year.

THE YEAR BOOK

The Transcript, 1917, is the first year-book published by the student body of Chicago-Kent College of Law since 1896. It was published under the direction of this year's Senior class. The book is dedicated to the Hon. Edmund W. Burke, who has been Dean of the College for the past twelve years. The dedication reads as follows: "To Honorable Edmund W. Burke, a lawyer learned in the law, a jurist judicial in his judgments, a man marked with many merits, a gentleman of generous justice, a scholar of certain skill, a philanthropist of frank and friendly force, and an educator of esteemed eminence, this first edition of 'The Transcript' of the Chicago-Kent College of Law is affectionately and respectfully dedicated.

"In Judge Burke we find inspiration to study, to diligence, to achievement, and to fame. In him we find sympathy and understanding, affection and confidence. As Dean of the College for twelve years he has stood for honesty in preparation for the law and for ability in its practice. He represents to the students of the College the highest traditions of the law, the noblest aims of education, and the generous soul of honor.

"May he live long and usefully to gladden the hearts and train the minds of future generations of students in our College, and may he in that distant day to come find his richly earned reward not in the eternal realms above but also in the affectionate and venerating memories of thousands of Kent men."

A brief history of the college by the dean is followed by individual pictures of the faculty with a short sketch of their educational lives.

The book dwells chiefly with the Senior class, which includes the class officers, the history of the class, the class prophecy, individual pictures of each member, snapshots, and jokes in the class room for the past three years. The Junior and Freshman classes are represented by group pictures, their class officers and the lists of members.

The organizations of the college comprise six fraternities, one sorority and a debating society. The department of public speaking and The Chicago-Kent Bulletin, the college newspaper, is given mention.

The latter part of the book includes alumni notes, wherein about one hundred seventy-five graduates are mentioned. Personal cards of about fifty attorneys are followed by the graduating classes of 1915 and 1916. A list of the post-graduate class for 1917 appears after the individual pictures of the Senior class. The humor section comprises jokes, verses, snapshots and cartoons. Jokes and verses are scattered throughout the entire book.

The purchase price for The Transcript is $2.00 and can be obtained from J. Samuel Council, the editor-in-chief, 116 South Michigan Avenue.

THE WAR

The present war is beginning to affect both the American people and American institutions in varying degrees. How will this vast conflict affect our universities and colleges is a vital question of the day. The young men between 18 and 25 years are the ones who are going to make up the major portion of our army. But these same young men are also the ones who have been attending our centers of learning. With these youths and young men at the front, how will the attendance of the next two or three years be maintained? Will the percentage of attendance gradually decrease? And what about the coming Freshman class of Chicago-Kent College of Law—the class of 1920?

Probably a larger percentage of young men studying to be lawyers will go to war than any other class of men. This has been true in the history of the former wars of our country. The lawyer has been one of the first to respond to the call of his country. A young man with an LL.B who goes to his country's defense and returns with an unblemished record has a brilliant future if he cares to grasp it. Has it not ever been thus, the lawyer, the soldier, the statesman. Let him be the first two and the people will make him the third or at least give him a trial in public life to demonstrate his ability.

But along with the chances for those who return there are the chances for the ones who have to stay at home; as is always true men must die in war and the professional ranks will be depleted. There will be need of young professional men. War drives home a responsibility and consequently youth who have hitherto been frivolously throwing away their time and opportunity will become more serious. Their attention will be turned into channels whereby they can equip themselves to better serve their fellowmen and take added responsibilities. Instead of idling away their time they will attempt to concentrate in study and action.

Of these it is likely a large percentage will pursue the study of law. So even though a large number of students will be in arms, the ranks in the class rooms will be swelled by those who must remain at home and who in this time of war have conceived and understood the new responsibilities which face them and which they must meet.

NEVER BE SORRY.

For doing your level best.
For your faith in humanity.
For being kind to the poor.
For hearing before judging.
For being candid and frank.
For thinking before speaking.
For discounting the tale-bearer.
For stopping your ears to gossip.
For asking pardon when in error.
For bridling a slanderous tongue.
For being generous with an enemy.
For sympathizing with the oppressed.

IN RE MATRIMONY

Harry E. Taylor, '18, was married to Miss Suzanne Stark, of Indianapolis, at the bride's home on July 4th. Of course "Dick" always did believe in celebrating the Fourth.

Mr. Taylor edited the bunk column of the Bulletin, which was a feature of the past year. At present two papers in their infancy are prodigies of his, one for the officers in training at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indianapolis, and the "Spectator," published in the interest of the families of northern Indiana. With the real newspaper ability "Dick" possess these ventures should grow into something big.

Knowing that you are interested in a live proposition to reach the trade of the six hundred students attending Chicago-Kent College of Law, we invite you to become an advertiser in The Chicago-Kent Bulletin, which is published in the interest of these students.

THEY HAVE CALLED "TAPS."

There is something missing now as one enters the Lake View Building, a familiar face is gone and no more do we hear the "Good evening, boys."

"Cap" Keating, after having been in the employ of the owners of the Lake View building for fourteen years and having attained the position of chief of staff died Wednesday, August 1, 1917. His face was a well-known one to the students and he has interested many with his stories of when he was with the "regulars" in the west in the days when there was real "Injun" fighting. "Cap's" passion was the U. S. A. and his pride was that his four sons are serving the U. S., two being in France at the present time. He was a character distinctly a type which appealed to and interested the students; and he enjoyed the students even if they did cause him lots of worry, for as he said "you can never tell what they are up to."

"Cap" died a real soldier sticking to his post of duty until within three days of the end. Our tribute to him.

The Twenty-ninth Annual Commencement Exercises of the Chicago-Kent College of Law were held at the Auditorium Theatre, Monday, June 11, 1917, when one hundred and fifty members of the Class of 1917 were awarded the degrees of Bachelor of Laws and ten other graduate students received the degrees of Master of Laws.

The commencement exercises were:

The address, "The Lawyer Among Lawyers," by Hon. Evan A. Evans, was an address especially commendable for its clearness, forcefulness and high moral tone. It was a masterly address and gave evidence of advanced ideas of the men who are our "real lawyers" and who become "The Lawyer Among Lawyers."

The Hon. Edmund W. Burke, Dean of the College, gave a few words of well chosen advice to the graduating members and then conferred the degrees. After the conferring of degrees the winners of prizes were announced.

Henry Pendelton Bronson won the Thomas A. Moran Prize, which is awarded to the member of the Senior class, who, during the school year, ranks highest, both in proficiency and attendance.

Tim Mesiah Doggett won the complete set of "Cyc" presented by the American Law Book Co., to the student taking the highest scholarship honor for the period of his Senior year.

Hargrave A. Long won the prize of $50.00 in law books given by Callaghan & Co., Law Booksellers, for the member of the third year class, who, during the third year, prepares the best legal brief, on any subject accepted by the faculty.

Arthur I. Ennis won the $50.00 prize in law books given by the Messrs. T. H. Flood & Co., Law Booksellers, for the best thesis prepared by any member of the third year class on some legal question accepted by the faculty.

The prize winners in the other classes will be announced through the pages of the Bulletin as soon as the winners are decided upon.

"Teach me that sixty minutes make one hour, sixteen ounces one pound, and one hundred cents one dollar. Help me to live so that I can lie down at night with a clear conscience without a gun under my pillow, and unhaunted by the faces of those to whom I have brought pain.

"Grant that I may earn my meal ticket on the square, and that, in earning it, I may not stick the gaff in where it does not belong.

"Deafen me to the jingle of tainted money and the rustle of unholy skirts. Blind me to the faults of the other fellows, but reveal to me mine own.

"Guide me so that each night when I look across the dinner table at my wife, who has been a blessing to me, I shall have nothing to conceal. Keep me young enough to laugh with my children.

"And when come the smell of flowers, and the tread of soft steps, and the crunching of wheels out in front, make the ceremony short and the epitaph simple—HERE LIES A MAN."

—From the "Three Partners."

TAKING CHANCES

There was a man who fancied that by driving good and fast
He'd get his car across the track before the train came past;
He'd miss the engine by an inch, and make the train-hands sore—
There was a man who fancied this; there isn't any more.

NOTES.

The avidity with which the students devour knowledge of the law despite the hot weather precludes any doubts that we may not have material for future Chief Justices.

At least one student believes that knowledge of the law and marriage are not incompatible: Hare showed up one evening and informed us that he had been married that afternoon. There are now as many Benedicts as there are Bachelors in the class.

Mr. Jackson (in torts)—"You call a minister a liar and that is slander. What is it when you call a lawyer a liar?"
Dowd—"Gaelic."

Doc. Austin, in addition to extracting molars and studying the intricacies of the law, is making some record as a public speaker.

Warren Crawford, '19, is prominent in the activities of the Four Minute Men, who are speaking throughout the city.

Williams, '18, is brushing up on the Kings English with a view to doing some travelogue work this Fall.

Yablunky sighs for the opening of the Fall session. He says he is lonely without having 40 pages of law to study each evening.

Sam Council is now identified with the Fidelity and Casualty Co. of New York. Sam sure did some splendid work on that Year Book.

Jos. A. Sullivan and J. Sucherman, both '18, successfully passed the recent Bar Exam.

Si Young has returned from the classic confines of Wenona, Ill., and is again ready to receive subscriptions for the "World's Greatest Law Bulletin." Come through, ye students, one and all.

Dan Ryan, '17, is connected with the National Surety Co.

Miller is a close student of economics and philosophy. His dissertation on the High Cost of Living would lead one to suspect that he was a married man.

No doubt many will be sorry to learn that in the recent fire at the Sykes Studio were lost many of the plates of the seniors, whose classic profiles adorned the best looking class picture we have seen in years.

Vaughan Griffith intends to spend his vacation at his home, Plainfield, New Jersey. He may change his mind, however, and spend the vacation and the greater part of the winter at Rockford, Ill.

Oscar F. Lindstrand, '19, has joined the navy and is at the Great Lakes Training Station.

Moore Peregrine has left for Port Royal, S. C., having obtained a commission as an officer in the U. S. Marines.

Henry Piercucini has allied himself with W. H. Brittigan, specializing in Highland Park Real Estate.

Quite a few of the students can be found daily at noon partaking of the mid-day repast at "Bridies."

Cohn and his Apollo-like form are to seen almost any day at the 51st Street Beach. Dowd, Dembufsky, Wassburg, Griffith, Young, Riordan and Pieruccini are among the life savers at the beach at the Chicago Beach Hotel.

Theo. Levine, '18, has been promoted Corporal in the U. S. Marines at Port Royal, S. C.

NOTES

Phillips and Junckerman staged a lively debate a short while ago on the benefits of Socialism.

Keplinger has left the South Side and now watches the fair ones as they travel down Wilson Avenue toward the beach.

"Dixie" Thornton has been rusticated amid the pines of northern Michigan. Ill health prevented him from taking the July Bar Ex.

Among those whose address for the next few months will be Rockford, Ill., are Henry J. Heart and John Michaels.

Where were you in the draft?

Many are called, but few are chosen.

Dust off the Khaki, boys. It is going to be a popular color this Fall.

Fowler has joined the regulars. He wanted to get over there while there was something to do.

Bert Cronson is now Assistant Corporation Counsel, under Saml. Ettleson, a former Kent graduate.

Several of the boys are receiving invitations to a house party at the outskirts of Rockford, Illinois, which will include all of the indoor and outdoor sports that will help us "sock the Kaiser." Conditions are that the boys be physically fit.

Several of the students have applied for places in the second Officers' Reserve Training Camps, to start August 27th.

Ye Editor is hiking back to the land of the Buckeyes to take on some home provender and then get under the banner of your busy Uncle Sam.

John Philip, whose genial smile greets the boys as they purchase their books, is back from a trip through the Dells of Wisconsin.

The summer school has been very well attended. The public Speaking Class has been running along nicely and doing splendid work.

Peters can be found any Thursday evening at Washington Park, listening to the band and also looking over the fair ones.

Harry I. Tiffany, '16, is in the Hospital Corp of the Regular Army at Ft. Riley, Kansas.

Sid Zolotkoff, '16, is among the boys training at Ft. Sheridan.

Joe Gabler, '16, is now in the Quartermaster's Department, U. S. A., and expects to sail for France.

NOTES

Strand Galey, '16, is reputed as being the best marksman in the training camp at Ft. Sheridan.

J. D. Reynolds, '16, has associated himself with Clifford Thorne, with offices in the Lytton Building. They specialize in Interstate Commerce Commission work.

Cards have been received announcing the marriage at Denver, of Lowell J. Thomas, '16, to Miss Francis Ryan. The couple have left on a trip to Europe where Mr. Thomas has been appointed war correspondent for Leslie's Weekly and several metropolitan daily papers.

Frank Murnighen, '16, and Ray Friss, '16, are away up in the call and may winter in Rockford.

We understand one George Henry Joseph McCoffrey is to be married soon.

John Smith spent the summer at the "Dells of Wisconsin." For a little variety he put in part of the time at Long Lake. Have him tell you his "fish stories."

Cary hasn't decided as yet whether he will enter the Army or be private secretary to the head lawyer of a large railroad corporation.

Milt Summers spent a few weeks at Powers Lake.

Allen Gilbert, '17, visited the Germans in their trenches at Milwaukee recently.

W. T. Pridmore, '16, will be at Fort Sheridan.

"Ab" Stillwell received a commission as 1st Lieut. Officers' Reserve.

Fenlon has joined Unit 15 and expects to sail for France soon.

Students or former students who are in service for the U. S. A. are requested to send in their new addresses as the school wishes to remember them.

Geo. Woods has been accepted for the Second Officers' Camp at Fort Sheridan.

Locke received his commission as 2nd Lieut. a few days ago.

Nagle has joined the Hospital Corp of the First.

McCaleb is in Washington on government business.
