NEWS OF THE ALUMNI

ALUMNI NOTES.

The need for an active and permanent medium of communication or intermediary between the Alumni and the College has long been recognized and to provide for this necessity the position of Alumni Secretary has been recently created. Ernest E. Tupes '18 has been appointed Alumni Secretary and will assist in keeping the Alumni in closer touch with the current growth and needs of the College. The co-operation of the Alumni is requested and it is hoped that each alumnus will make it a point to communicate with the secretary and will feel free to express his views on policies adopted by the college and send in items of information concerning his activities as well as of the activities of other graduates and former students. Send your items in by mail, or telephone them if you prefer, but by all means send them in. Please keep us informed of any change in your address.

It is a matter of interest that the Alumni of the College now number more than fifty-five hundred and that approximately twenty-five hundred of the more than seven thousand members of the Chicago Bar, are Alumni of Kent.

The published list of the successful candidates in the July, 1926 Bar Examination contains 240 names. Of this number 93 are Kent graduates. This indicates that approximately 40 percent of all who passed are Kent alumni.

The work of the Post Graduate Department started October 4th with a good enrollment. The course includes Office and Court Practice in Common Law and Chancery, Advanced Title Work, Evolution and Development of Law and Specialization Subjects. This course leads to the degree of Master of Laws.

Adolph Kurz C'89 is a member of the first class and has many interesting reminiscences of the early days which he has promised to embody in the form of an article for a future number of the Review.

Lucien E. Harding C'89 is actively engaged in the General Practice of law at 112 W. Adams Street.

Joseph Granick C'89 is another member of the first graduating class who is still actively engaged in the general practice of law. His offices are located at 323-105 N. Clark Street.

W. A. Ball C'89 is with the U. S. Fidelity & Guaranty Company, 231 S. LaSalle Street. Mr. Ball is one of the members of the first graduating class upon whom the years rest lightly.

Harrison B. Riley, C'90, is President of the Chicago Title & Trust Company. Mr. Riley's interest in the college is evidenced in a variety of ways, one of which being as a contributor to the Endowment Fund.

Charles A. Brown, C'90, again delivered his highly instructive course of lectures on Patent Law during the second semester 1925-26. Mr. Brown takes an active interest in College affairs as is evidenced by contributions to the General Endowment Fund and to the Chicago Kent Transcript.

Amos C. Miller, C'91, is senior member of the firm of Miller, Gorham, Wales & Noxon with offices at 39 S. LaSalle Street. Mr. Miller's interest in the college is evidenced by a liberal contribution to the Endowment Fund.

Fred Gerlach, K'93, is practicing Patent Law at 1040 Marquette Building. Mr. Gerlach is one of our Alumni whose interest and staunch support is indicated in a variety of ways. Besides being a contributor to the General Endowment Fund of the College, Mr. Gerlach has a son, Norman F. Gerlach, who graduated with the Class of 1926.

Martin J. Isaacs, C'93, is Master in Chancery of the Superior Court with offices located at 614 Home Insurance Building. Mr. Isaacs is another alumnus whose interest in the welfare of the college has taken substantial form by a contribution to the General Endowment Fund.

It is suggested by Walter J. Gunthorp, K'93, that all alumni, who are members of the Illinois Bar and not now listed in Gunthorp's Legal Directory, send their names and addresses to Richard G. Gunthorp, 132 South Clark Street, Chicago, Illinois for publication in the 1927 edition. This should be done at an early date as revision of the 1926 directory will close about the middle of December.

Dr. G. E. Wire, K'95, is librarian of the Worcester County Law Library, Worcester, Mass. Mr. Wire has held this position since 1898. It is worthy of note that this is one of the large Law Libraries of the country and contains approximately 43,000 books.

Richard W. Saunders, C'95, is Comptroller of the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, Paramount Pictures, 485 Fifth Avenue, New York City. Mr. Saunders was unable to attend the Homecoming on May 19th on account of the laying of the cornerstone of the new Paramount Building on Broadway on the same date. We hope to have Mr. Saunders as an honored guest at the next Homecoming.

Andrew Mitchell, C'96, is a member of the firm of Cressy and Mitchell, 140 North Dearborn Street. Mr. Mitchell has just finished compiling the laws of the Sanitary District. He was born at Aberdeen, Scotland, and entered law school here shortly after his arrival in the United States.

John Glass, C'96, United States Commissioner is a candidate for Municipal Court Judge on the Democratic ticket in the November election.

George V. McIntyre, C'96, is Master in Chancery, Superior Court, with offices located at 1444 Marquette Building.

Edward B. Everett, C'96, is engaged in the practice of law at 1400 First National Bank Building with the firm of Winston, Strawn and Shaw. Mr. Everett takes an active interest in the affairs of the college being a contributor to the General Endowment Fund.

John F. Voigt, C'96, is now engaged in General Practice in suite 1444 of the Marquette Building. Mr. Voigt has spent thirty busy years since his graduation and has the unusual distinction of having held official positions as follows: started as City Attorney of Mattoon, Illinois, after which he became attorney for the town of Mattoon. This was followed by a term as State's Attorney of Coles County, Illinois. In 1913, Mr. Voigt was appointed Assistant United States Attorney at Chicago. He was appointed special State's Attorney of Cook County following his term as Assistant United States Attorney. Mr. Voigt served as Secretary and Treasurer of the Illinois State Bar Association for ten years during which period he edited ten volumes of the Illinois Bar Association Reports. We congratulate Mr. Voigt on his generous citizenship and devotion to public welfare.

J. N. Heldman, K'96, is another alumnus upon whom his thirty years as an attorney rests lightly. Besides looking after an extensive practice, Mr. Heldman finds time to take an active interest in the affairs of his alma mater. His interest is evidenced in numerous ways, one of which is a recent donation of books to the college library. While enjoying a vacation at Eagle Lake, Wisconsin, Mr. Heldman won the first prize for the largest bass caught in Eagle Lake during the season. The bass weighed 5½ pounds. It is mounted and on view at Mr. Heldman's office at 715-11 S. LaSalle Street. The inspection of all doubters is invited.

Frank J. Smith, C'97, 207 Marquette Building, is handling legal matters appertaining to Real Property for W. K. Young, realtors.

H. W. Austin, Chicago Business Law School, '98, maintains offices at 179 W. Washington Street. Mr. Austin and family have gone to Europe. They do not expect to return before March 1, 1927.

Hon. Henry Horner, K'98, is just finishing with distinction his third term as Judge of the Probate Court of the County of Cook and is now a candidate for reelection.

Walter J. Gunthorp, K'98, is head of the printing firm bearing his name. Mr. Gunthorp is an active supporter of the college being a member of the Board of Trustees and besides freely contributing of his time is a liberal contributor to the Endowment Fund.

Louis A. Bowman, K'99, is Vice-President and Trust Officer of the American Trust and Savings Deposit Company, 127 North Dearborn Street. Mr. Bowman has the unique experience of being elected to the directorate of two newly organized banking institutions within the period of a few days. The institutions are the Central State Bank of Oak Park and the Chicago State Bank of Evanston. Mr. Bowman is actively identified with many civic and private enterprises. His career is an illustration of the success which comes to the legally trained business man.

Weymouth Kirkland, K'01, has recently returned from a trip to Europe. Mr. Kirkland is head of the firm of Kirkland, Patterson & Fleming located at 7 S. Dearborn Street. He is one of our distinguished alumni who takes an active interest in matters appertaining to the welfare of the college.

Edward H. Barron, '01, is located at 1608 First National Bank Building. Mr. Barron is one of our loyal alumni who takes advantage of every opportunity for directing prospective students to the college. He has for sale a practically new set of Ruling Case Law.

Otto F. Ring, '06, is practicing law at 1901-77 W. Washington Street. Mr. Ring is an alumnus who despite the demands of a large practice always finds time to take an active interest in the affairs of the college.

George H. Meyer, '07, is a former member of the faculty and a contributor to the financial support of the college. Mr. Meyer is engaged in the general practice of law with offices located at 30 N. LaSalle Street.

Bertha Duppler Baur, '08, is active in political, civic and social affairs. Mrs. Baur is another example of the success attained in business by one equipped with legal training. She is a contributor to the General Endowment Fund of the College.

Louis Kahn, '09, is President of the Capital Mortgage Company located at 10 N. Clark Street. Mr. Kahn is numbered among those of the Graduates who are contributors to the General Endowment Fund.

Stephen A. Cross, '10, is practicing law at 407 Conway Building. Mr. Cross took a lengthy vacation during the summer and is now back at work with his usual energy and vigor.

Charles C. Cunningham, '10, is actively engaged as trial attorney with the Chicago Surface Lines.

William F. Conlon, '10, who has been actively engaged in the Real Estate business since his graduation, recently returned from a trip to Europe. Mr. Conlon's offices are located at Halsted and Madison Streets. He is a contributor to the General Endowment Fund of the College.

Ernest L. Kreamer, Western College of Law, '11, 7 South Dearborn Street, and Mrs. Kreamer attended the Commercial Law League Convention and also the Lions International Convention at San Francisco, Mr. Kreamer being a delegate to the latter. Mr. Kreamer is a graduate of the Western College of Law, one of the several institutions merged into the Chicago Kent College of Law. We welcome the interest shown by Mr. Kreamer in college affairs.

Joseph F. Sarley, '13, is a generous contributor to the support of his Alma Mater. Mr. Sarley is engaged in the practice of law at 208 S. LaSalle Street.

Manuel Schochet, '13, has made the college the beneficiary of a trust fund, the income of which is used each year by the college in establishing scholarship prizes to be known as the "William Schochet Scholarship", this fund being given in memory of the donor's brother William Schochet who graduated with the class of 1921 and passed away shortly after his graduation.

Miss Luna Bretz, '17, is located at 72 W. Adams Street with the Claim Department of the Chicago North Shore & Milwaukee Railroad.

Joseph F. Novotny, '18, is located in the County Building where he is serving as Assistant Judge of the Probate Court.

Oscar Snook, '18, is located at 134 S. LaSalle Street. Mr. Snook is Assistant Claim Examiner with the Fidelity & Casualty Company.

DeWitt Cleland, '18, is Assistant Attorney General of Illinois in the Chicago office.

Charles F. Murray, '19, is a Patent Attorney located at 53 W. Jackson Blvd. Mr. Murray resides in Evanston and is prominent in Masonic and Evanston Golf Club circles. His son, D. R. Murray is a student in the Senior Class.

Samuel Witting, '20, is Assistant Secretary of the Trust Department of the Continental & Commercial Bank.

Austin L. Wyman, '22, is one of our alumni whose interest in the college has not slackened since his graduation.

Mr. Wyman is also a contributor to the General Endowment Fund of the College.

Mrs. Minna Schmidt, '24, is in business at 920 N. Clark Street. Mrs. Schmidt is a successful business woman and a loyal supporter of the school, financially and otherwise.

Jerome W. Jurewicz, '25, has been appointed Assistant Attorney General of Illinois in the Chicago office under First Assistant Attorney General, Harry A. Ash.

W. Bartlett Jones, '25, has established himself in business at 1530 Marquette Building as a Patent Lawyer and also maintains an association with George Bayard Jones, counsellor in Patent Law.

Thomas J. Courtney, '26, is the Democratic Candidate for State Senator from the 11th District, at the election to be held November 2, 1926.

Clifford Wild, Feb. '26, is practicing law at Logansport, Indiana. His office is located immediately across the street from the court house. It is only a question of a short time until he will control the city of Logansport.

Wm. T. Nenneman, '26, was married to Miss Fannie Petersen on September 25, 1926.

Norman F. Gerlach, '26, passed the Bar Examination in July, 1926 and left for Europe before receiving the news. Mr. Gerlach received a radio message, while on the Atlantic outward bound, from his father informing him of his success. Mr. Gerlach is now associated with his father in the practice of Patent Law at 1040 Marquette Building.

Gilford R. Windes, '26, was a contributor to the Endowment Fund while an undergraduate. Mr. Windes has successfully passed the July, 1926 bar examination and was a winner of the scholarship prize given in the Senior year.

BRIGHT SAYINGS FROM THE SECOND FLOOR FRONT.

Murray (to the lecturer): "I believe what you are trying to explain to the class is this—"

Smith: "When I came to, I was in the hospital. I looked down and there was my foot—hanging loose from my leg."

Bailey: "Were you alighting on the car?" (Judge Higgins: "The witness is not a bird.")

Smichael: "What steps did you use in getting off the car?" (Judge Higgins: "Probably the Charleston.")

Jacobs: "It is clear to me. It would be to any reasonable man, but to a jury like this—"

Taylor: "She is left with two children. That is, of course, something to be sorry for."

Smith: "Which direction was the railroad coming from?"

Mrs. Adden: "It is written on my brain in letters of fire." Later in her testimony: "I was sitting in the middle of the automobile."

Prof. Tupes: "Now, Mr. Sargent, you give us a statement of the facts in the next case."

Sargent: "I haven't that case, sir—but I have a different one."

Prof. Tupes: "Oh, I must have called on you in the wrong order! I'm sorry—I'll remember that next time."

BURKE DEBATING SOCIETY.

The Burke Debating Society has again commenced its activities for the coming year and the officers extend a cordial invitation to the student body to take part in the interesting and instructive program which has been arranged. It is contemplated, among other events, to arrange a series of private debating contests with other organizations of a like nature, the style of speaking to be extemporaneous, and this competition should prove to be very valuable to those taking part.

It is interesting to note that the Society was founded during the year 1916 as a tribute to the late Judge Edmund W. Burke, then Dean of the College, and it now exists as a living momento of the principles and high ideals of that distinguished jurist. Judge Burke was himself a polished orator of the highest type, and it is said by those who knew him best, that he had a way of expressing the most simple thoughts in an unusual way which lent them unexpected color and interest. He is described by one as a "painter of word pictures." It was this remarkable talent which prompted the founders of the Society to name it for him, and his memory continues to be an inspiration to those who are striving for forensic proficiency. To the prospective lawyer, more than the student of any other profession, the ability to speak readily and convincingly is of inestimable value, and all are earnestly urged to take advantage of the opportunity offered by the Burke Debating Society to develop the art of expression.

The meetings this year will be held on Thursday evenings at 8:45 in the Hearst Building, this being found as the most convenient night for the greatest number.

Officers for the ensuing year are as follows:

Chancellor.....Vincent C. Baldwin
Vice-Chancellor.....David H. Kraft
SecretaryGerald Hartwell
Sergeant-at-Arms....Harry S. Stevenson

SCHOLARSHIP.

A close observer of men and affairs recently suggested that there must be some outstanding qualities and characteristics possessed by students who achieve distinction in their undergraduate work. As a result of the suggestion a study has been made in one institution of individual students who have out-ranked the majority of their fellows. Such students without exception are found to be steady, industrious, modest and not inclined to monopolize recitation periods for the purpose of airing their views or asking questions not directly pertinent to the point under discussion. Their success seems to be due more to persistent application than to genius and to an ability to discriminate between the important and the unimportant in the material under consideration. Personal idiosyncrasies are marked by their absence. In short, they are good fellows who take their work seriously and are making use of their time and opportunities in a way that promises well for success in life.

CO-EDS TO GET TOGETHER.

In order that the women students at Kent may become better acquainted, the Women's Editor of the Review has been requested to announce that each Tuesday evening shortly after five-thirty, the co-eds will meet and have dinner together. Feminine members of the afternoon class are not excluded by this arrangement, for they can drop in for dessert.

Do not wait for an individual invitation, but communicate with Grace Cooper or Kate Zoot as to the place of the next conclave and help in establishing a custom which will make possible the formation of many new friendships and which will undoubtedly be more pleasant than a solitary sandwich before class.

SENIOR CLASS ELECTION VALID.

On Thursday, October 7th, the class of June, 1927, met at 6:15 in the classroom on the second floor front and nominated the following as candidates for officers during the ensuing year: President: John Loughnane, Roy Roos, and Frank Foley; Vice-President: Tyrell Krum, John Wood, Harold Sharp and Hugh Bailey; Secretary: Martha Anne Burrows and Grace Cooper; Treasurer: Abraham Feldman, and Solomon Libman; Sergeant-at-arms: Nathan Chapman and John Claussen.

It was stated at the time of the nominations that the election would take place on a date to be set by the president of the previous year, the chairman of the meeting at which the nominations were made.

This committee set Tuesday, October

12th, as the date of the final election and at that time the following were chosen:

President: John Loughnane

Vice-President: Tyrell Krum

Secretary: Grace Cooper

Treasurer: Abraham Feldman

Sergeant-at-arms: Nathan Chapman

The race for the last office was the closest, as Mr. Chapman had 25 votes to John Claussen's 23.

On the night of the election, after the votes of the members of the afternoon section had been cast, a notice was circulated which alleged that the nomination of candidates had been illegal. Those who presented this notice urged numerous members of the class not to vote as the election would also be illegal. The grounds for this contention were the fact that the class had no Code of Rules and that consequently all acts which had been done without such regulations were ultra vires; that John Loughnane, who had been elected last year, was therefore illegally holding office and had no authority to act as chairman in the usual fashion of class presidents or to appoint a committee on Election as presidents, by precedent, have always done. Unfortunately, many did not analyze the allegations of the notice and refrained from voting. This merely weakened the standing of the ticket sponsoring the petition, for enough votes were cast without the votes of those who were thereby persuaded to desist.

As a matter of fact, it has not been the custom for classes at Kent to have constitutions. It would perhaps be advisable to have one, but the night of election finals is not the time to decide such a matter; especially when those urging it had been present the night of the nominations, had put forth candidates and had in every way participated in the proceedings. The sponsors of the notice were also present when the date of election was announced and made no objections at that time. Surely the doctrine of laches would destroy the force of their arguments.

The misunderstanding as to the wishes of the class in regard to the election has been largely cleared away, for the notice suggested a meeting in the front room, second floor of the Chicago-Kent building on Friday, October 15, 1926 at 6:20 P. M. and in that room at the appointed hour there were so few present that the most hearty promoter of dissention would not have had the courage to call the meeting.

The notice was unfortunate in being the expression of the opinions of a very small minority who by their own arguments in refuting the lawful right of the class to meet for purposes of nomination, put up barriers to their own power to hold a meeting which would be cloaked with even the semblance of legality.

PHI DELTA PHI NOTES.

Fuller's Inn mourns the fact that graduation has taken in its toll many of her most valued members, ones we know will be hard to replace. We feel greatly indebted for all they have done, and for that reason those of us who are still in school are determined to make Fuller's Inn of Phi Delta Phi something our worthy alumni will long be proud of. Brother Pickett and Brother Wood are giving us their valued support as usual and for that reason we feel confident of the greatest success. Those who graduated last June are: Robert C. Barney; Louis C. Binkley; Norman Gerlach; Axel Hofgren; Chester Kulp; James C. Smith; Paul Speer; Joseph W. Townsend; Herman M. Hansman and John F. Wynkoop.

In the past three weeks the Inn has held several smokers at the Brevoort Hotel which have afforded us considerable pleasure and also have helped us to meet many of our fellow students. We have greatly enjoyed their presence and are pleased to state that several have been pledged. In choosing these men we have endeavored to follow two basic principles, scholarship and estimated ability for accomplishment in the law, combined with personality, and having this in mind we feel confident that the following men whom we have pledged will be of great credit to Phi Delta Phi. This is only half of the pledging story, for with an unusual abundance of eligible material in school this year, we are certain to have a few more good fellows in the ranks with those already adorning their lapels with the truly coveted little blue and white button. Those pledged are: Ralph McDermid, N. W.; Amos Case, Chicago; Myron Steger, Ohio State; Paul Dunikan, Mich.; Wallace Bell, Ill. Wesleyan; James R. Hemingway, Wis.; Edward Burke, N. W.; Eliot Smeeth, H. W. Hanmer.

If you're in love—get married.

We hear Brother Smith has passed the Bar examination. Congratulations "Jimmy" and here's to your success. We also want to congratulate brothers Robert C. Barney; Louis C. Binkley; Norman Gerlach; Axel Hofgren; Chester Kulp; Paul Speer and Joseph W. Townsend on their achievement and wish them the same. God bless you all.

KAPPA BETA PI SORORITY.

Chicago Kent Chapter of the Kappa Beta Pi Legal Sorority held its eighteenth annual installation of officers at the La Salle Hotel on Saturday evening, October 9, 1926. Marian Berg Bidderman presided and the following officers were installed: Gwendolyn Ostrum, dean; Grace Cooper, vice-dean; Beatrice Simon Shifrin, registrar; Helen C. Goltra, chancellor; Martha Ann Burrows, marshal, and Dr. Anna Sorna, Martha Elvert, and Barbara J. Matousek, directors. The installation of officers was preceded by a dinner in the East Room, at which time our past dean, Marian Berg Bidderman, was presented with two very attractively bound volumes of Abraham Lincoln, in appreciation of her work during the past year.

Our registrar, formerly Beatrice Simon, has acquired a new name by marrying Samuel Shifrin of Oak Park, on June 27, 1926, at the Southmoor Hotel. The bride was beautifully attired in a white chiffon dress beaded in pearls and had her veil held in place by an attractive pearl crown. The bridesmaids, attired in pastel shades, completed the charming bridal party.

Another of our eminent members, Esther Kotin Schour, is now residing in Denver, Colorado, where her husband is teaching oral surgery, while she is attending the University.

Emma B. Foley, who graduated last June, has brought honor to Kappa Beta Pi, having passed the last bar examination. Good luck to you, Emma.

ALPHA SIGMA IOTA FRATERNITY.

To predict an unusually successful year for the Alpha Sigma Iota Fraternity does not require an optimist; it appears to be a foregone conclusion. Up to the present time all of the affairs of the Fraternity have been voted successful but the doings of the Fraternity in the past few months are undoubtedly unprecedented and the Alpha Chapter has contributed mightily.

At nine o'clock Thursday evening, September 9, 1926, Chancellor Herman Weiss called the first meeting of the year to order under the new administration of officers with a one-hundred per cent attendance. The newly elected staff of officers are as follows: Herman Weiss, Chancellor; Frank Levy, Vice-Chancellor; Benjamin Chodash, Treasurer; Eli S. Fisher, Secretary; and Jack Cohen, Sergeant-at-Arms.

Three weeks later the petitions of eight new men were passed upon and on Sunday evening, October 10th, a pledge dinner was had at the Parkway Hotel and the following men were installed as pledgees to the Fraternity: Nathan Cohen, Harold Goldstein, Sidney W. Hollander, Samuel J. Mulkus, L. Rappaport, Meyer W. Reisman, Samuel L. Rosenblatt, and David Zimring. The speaker of the evening was Honorary Brother Frederick J. Fischel and, as is his wont, he gave a delightfully interesting talk. The entertainment, also, was of a high caliber and was enjoyed by all. On the whole, the affair was a pronounced success.

The members of the Fraternity take great pleasure in announcing that all of the men that took the last bar examination from Alpha Sigma Iota were successful. They were: Isaac Chessick, Milton D. Frifeld, Albert H. Levy, J. Bertram Levic, Joseph C. Miller, Irwin I. Slan, Sidney Wolfe, and A. Zeidman. Congratulations are extended herewith. May we carry on.

TO A LAW CLERK BY WAY OF CONSOLATION.

Truly, there is little of life which you have not glimpsed for, like Chanticleer, "even from a barnyard fence you can see the sky and the marching stars." Perusal of dusty volumes, shopping expeditions for stamps, and waiting in line before Filing and Process windows may abound in your existence, but they do not bound it. The monotony of a law clerk's life is not unmitigated; there are moments which transcend routine even to the point of drama . . .

Moments when in a murder trial an interpreter was put back on the stand to correct one word of the translation he had previously made. Six letters to establish the presence of another weapon—one word with the potency of the most conclusive of sentences.

Moments when twelve men with impassive faces and ominous tread filed into the courtroom. Inauspicious—but for whom? Were they going to abide by their oath to "render a true and just verdict" or would the decision be in favor of the other side?

Moments when you listened to a faltering story which lacked none of the artistry of "Rain." A sad-eyed girl in the Court of Domestic Relations was protesting with painted, trembling lips that it was not her fault.

Moments when, while waiting to answer a call, you imbibed the clever, incontrovertible, but gracefully unostentatious arguments of a man who has been called great. His words and, above all, his manner taught you many things which are not found in textbooks.

The moment when a client expressed his gratitude for something you, the law clerk—the answerer of calls and telephones—had done for him, "as if I were blind and you had read it to me."

Moments when, while waiting to present your carefully repared motion as to costs, you idly watched the little rays of sunlight forming grotesque patterns on the heavy, ink-stained tables—as timid as you had been the first time you entered the sombre room—and the realization came to you that there can be no happiness comparable to that which comes to one who has dedicated himself to the work which, to him at least, is the most wonderful thing in the world.

They say that you are a fool to work for fifteen dollars a week, but "they" are the ones who are lacking in wisdom for you are paid in other coin.

GRACE COOPER.

WHO WILL BE CHAMPIONS?

Have you made your plans to participate in the athletic program announced in the first issue of the Review? You are expected to help make your class or section or fraternity the leader in athletic competition at Kent.

Plans are rapidly developing and the athletic department will soon announce the place and time for the regular periods for games. It is expected we will have the use of one of the most up-to-date gymnasiums in the city. It is one that is approximately a ten-minute trip from the school. This will save the time heretofore required to get on location when we used a gymnasium located at some distance from the school, as during last year.

It is important that each of the recently elected class presidents appoint an athletic representative for the class, and have him report at once to the Director of Athletics. It is also important that each fraternity have a representative report, so that the schedule of games may be drawn up, and the athletic department advised of the sport in which they will have representation.

There will be a meeting of all athletic representatives in the office of the school at 7:30 P. M. Thursday, November 4th, at which time it is expected all details will be ready for presentation, and the school athletic program will then get under way.

Your ideas and those of your representative will be welcomed, so please tell the Athletic Director of any plan you have which you think will add to the interest of this program. It is built for you, and the more students who join in the early games, the greater will be the assurance of arranging one big night of considerably greater magnitude than even the homecoming of two years ago. Should this event be possible, an extensive program of athletics and class competition will be arranged.

Two men in the Junior Class will be given the opportunity this year to try out for the office of Athletic Director for next year, and it is requested that those men interested hand in their names and qualifications to Miss Scheiner or to the present Athletic Director, Mr. Felt of the Senior Class.

Watch for the announcement which will appear on the bulletin board within a few days, and in the meantime, talk to the other fellows in your section. Make your plans now to have the best section team in the school, and then boost your gang as the first Champions of Chicago-Kent.

CHICAGO-KENT FORENSICS.

It is the ambition of every good lawyer to be an eloquent speaker, and rightly so, for the ability to speak before an audience is an asset of inestimable value to the practicing attorney. The curriculum of the College provides for the teaching of legal forensics whereby the students may receive much valuable training in public speaking. In addition to this, another form of public speaking is also provided for the students, namely, inter-class debating and intercollegiate debating. Every student in the College is eligible to compete in the class contests.

By way of selecting the three best speakers in the Freshman Class, a contest was held on September 25th at the College, in which the first year students were invited to participate. A large number competed in this try-out. The judges, after careful deliberation, awarded the prizes and honors as follows:

First prize—Charles H. Edwards.

Second prize—G. R. Waller.

Third prize—Vernon Sigler.

Honorable mention—Louis Russell, Gilbert Volke, Charles A. Wilson.

The judges were Prof. Wm. G. Wood, Mr. Howard R. Brintlinger, Mr. William M. James.

On October 2nd the Juniors were given their opportunity to demonstrate their forensic ability. A smaller but none the less enthusiastic number of students took part in this contest. The judges awarded the prizes and honors as follows:

First prize—Irving S. Toplon.

Second prize—R. E. Burke.

Third prize—Arthur Quadow.

Honorable mention—John R. Howard.

The judges were Robert K. Hill, Howard R. Brintlinger, and William M. James.

The last class contest was held on October 9th, and was open to all students having more than fifty semester hours of credit. This included the mid-year Seniors and regular Seniors. The judges, after listening to all of the contestants, decided that three men, namely, Harold Fishbein, H. M. Keele, and Gray Phelps, were so nearly on a par with each other that it would be an injustice to them to attempt to place one ahead of the other, and therefore ordered the prize money split equally among them. Honorable mention was awarded to Frank Foley. Irving S. Toplon, Robert K. Hill, and William M. James acted as judges.

The prizes consist of suitably engraved gold pins which will be presented to the winners at the time the last inter-class debate is held. In addition, cash prizes of $15.00, $10.00, and $5.00 were awarded to winners of first, second, and third places respectively.

On October 22nd, the annual Freshman-Junior class debate was held. The subject for discussion was: "Resolved that the eighteenth amendment should be modified to permit the sale of light wines and beer under governmental supervision." The affirmative arguments were advanced by the Junior Class team, consisting of Irving S. Toplon, R. E. Burke, and Arthur Quadow, while the attack on the constitution was defended by the Freshman team consisting of Charles H. Edwards, Vernon Sigler, and Charles A. Wilson. The Freshman team succeeded in annexing the decision by a narrow margin, the vote of the judges being 2 to 1 in their favor. The Freshman team will meet the Seniors on November 4th to determine the class championship of the College. The Senior team will be composed of that redoubtable trio, Harold Fishbein, H. M. Keele, and Gray Phelps.

The first intercollegiate debate of the season will take place December 10th, when the University of Oklahoma sends its team here. Chicago-Kent had the pleasure last year of participating in a debate with the men from Oklahoma. They proved to be a very high class debating organization, and it was for this reason that they were again invited to visit Chicago for another contest with the Kent boys. The subject of this debate has not yet been selected, but will be announced in the next issue. The debate will be held in the studio of MAQ, and will be broadcast.

The object of broadcasting these intercollegiate debates is to provide for the radio public an impartial discussion of questions of national interest and importance. That they are appreciated by many people throughout the United States is evidenced by the hundreds of comments received last year when the same plan was followed.

The students who have succeeded in winning the class prizes, thereby becoming eligible for intercollegiate debating, deserve the congratulations and wholehearted support of their fellow classmates and the Alumni of the College. The debating teams of the Chicago-Kent College of Law have become nationally known, and it is an honor to be numbered among them.

Mr. William M. James has again been retained by the College in the capacity of coach and manager of debating activities. Mr. James commenced acting in this capacity four years ago, at a time when intercollegiate debating was virtually unknown at the College. During the period embracing the past four years, he has built the organization up to a point where it is widely known throughout the country for its prowess in the forensic field. With the extraordinarily fine talent that has been uncovered this year, and with the coach again at his old post, the teams will undoubtedly meet with a large measure of success and will bring much glory to themselves and their Alma Mater.

Over-anxious student who has just participated in a practical Halloween joke consisting in tying a full-grown cow to the Professor's chair: "Professor Higgins, how do you suppose that cow got in here?"

Professor Higgins (looking quizzically over his spectacles): "Oh, I presume he just followed some calf in."

DICTIONARIES!!! Have You Got One?

A dictionary is an absolute necessity for the law student. The college book store has a miscellaneous assortment of good dictionaries. If you are uncertain as to the best dictionary for your particular need, inspect those for sale at the College Book Store.
