THE ROUND TABLE

The second monthly meeting of the Round Table convened at the Eastgate Hotel on Saturday, October 29th at 1:30 P. M. Despite the fact that attendance on the part of members is purely voluntary this meeting, like all others, was attended by almost every member. This fact speaks eloquently for the interest of the members and for the benefits that are derived from such an organization.

The first thing on the program, as usual, was the eats which disappeared with amazing rapidity. Whether this was due to the appetite of the members or in contemplation of what was to follow is not known, but if the latter, no one was disappointed.

After luncheon the meeting was given over to Mr. Bilger of the Chicago Title and Trust Co. who chose as his topic, "Practical Suggestions for The Examination of Abstracts." Mr. Bilger emphasized the importance of care on the part of lawyers in examining titles and pointed out many errors which might easily be avoided by the application of certain principles. At the close of his talk Judge Pickett led in a round-table discussion of various problems suggested by Mr. Bilger. In this manner a great many points which have been regarded as quite difficult were explained.

The meeting adjourned at five o'clock after extending thanks to both Mr. Bilger and Judge Pickett.

ASSOCIATE EDITOR CHOSEN

The Review takes pleasure in announcing the selection of Mr. J. Warren McCaffrey, '30, for the post of Associate Editor of the Chicago-Kent Review. Mr. McCaffrey has had a long and varied experience along journalistic lines, and his acquisition will be a distinct benefit to this publication.

We wish further to express our thanks to those who generously offered their services, practically all of whom were eminently well fitted for the post. There appears to be no lack of editorial talent at Chicago-Kent.
