Former Student An Author

The classes of '13, '14 and '15 will be especially interested in EUROPEAN SKYWAYS by LOWELL THOMAS, which is reviewed in this number. They will recall Mr. Thomas as a fellow student and also as an instructor in Forensics in the college.

ENDOWMENT

During the past month contributions have been received from the following: Samuel Deutsch, '25; Joseph Gilman, '28; John L. McInerney, '06; Charles N. Pray, C'91 and E. E. Tupes, '18.

It is noteworthy that Mr. Gilman, who is still a student, has already contributed an amount which entitles his name to a place on the HONOR ROLL.

Mr. John L. McInerney's contribution was decidedly substantial in character and constitutes a material addition to the endowment fund. His gift amounts to several times that required to place his name upon the HONOR ROLL.

The HONOR ROLL is composed of those who, by contribution to ENDOWMENT of one hundred dollars or more, have assisted the work of Chicago-Kent College of Law and have advanced the cause of legal education.

LOUIS H. PFOHL '27 ON HONEYMOON IN EUROPE

On July 25, Louis Henry Pfohl '27 took unto himself Pauline Mathis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse L. Mathis at Mound Chapel, Sinsinawa, Wisconsin.

Although having just survived three years at Chicago-Kent and though encumbered with the cares of husbandry he did not forget his friends at college. He wrote a post-card to McAdams and Larish informing them that Vienna, Austria, is a beautiful place and the beer is fine.

Received a letter from Tyrrell Krum in acknowledgment of the last alumni issue of The Review. He expressed his appreciation and willingness to help wherever he could and when he would have time from his arduous duties as Assistant Corporation Counsel.

We were very glad to receive the Legislative Compendium for 1927, which was sent to us through the kindness of Barrett O'Hara. Mr. O'Hara was at one time Lieutenant Governor of the state of Illinois and is one of our outstanding alumni. In writing from his offices at 80 W. Washington Street, he commends the members of the staff for their excellent alumni issue.

R. C. McAllister, '19, writes us expressing his appreciation for the Review and the continued contact with the College and his former classmates which it furnishes. Mr. McAllister is now City Attorney of Pasadena, California.
