ROUNDTABLE

Mr. Harry Reid, city editor of the Chicago Evening American, addressed Roundtable at the March meeting. At the conclusion of his remarks, Mr. Reid offered to answer questions concerning newspaper work, and an interesting discussion followed.

Federal Judge John P. Barnes was a guest and the principal speaker at the April meeting. Judge Barnes told of some of the interesting cases which have been tried before him. In the discussion which followed, he commented on the functioning of the jury system, drawing upon his experience as a judge for illustrations.

The final meeting of Roundtable for the College year was held on May 7. Judge Pickett, director of Roundtable, conducted the business of the meeting and discussed plans for next year. The new executive committee will be composed of Roger Severns, John J. Balluff, Robert H. Barnes, L. C. Monroe, Maxwell H. Singer, Morris S. Kaplan and Robert H. Ware. The secretary-treasurer just elected is L. Roy Worth.

After the election of officers, Judge Pickett was presented with a charcoal drawing of himself, which was sketched from life by Miss Grace Liebenson. Forman L. Mueller, chairman of the executive committee, made the presentation on behalf of the organization. As is customary at the final meeting, entertainment was provided for the members.

New members will be elected to Roundtable on the basis of scholastic standings at the September meeting.

DELTA CHI

The chapter announces that it will continue to occupy its present quarters at 208 W. Washington Street, Room 301, during the ensuing year.

The annual spring dance was held on May 14 at the Medinah Country Club and proved to be one of the most brilliant social affairs in the history of the chapter.

The weekly dinners at Brennan's Restaurant, 160 North LaSalle Street, were resumed during the past semester and will be continued at the opening of school in the fall.

George Barton, Carroll Stallings and E. M. Davis, Jr., are graduating in the June class. Their departure is noted with regret and hearty wishes for their success.

Paul Kliewer and James Hayes were pledged during the past semester and will be initiated on June 4 at the chapter room.

Edwin J. Balluff, of the class of February '32, passed the Illinois State Bar Examination given in March this year.

The members of the fraternity attained an excellent scholastic average for the first semester of the year. The average was 1.7202.

KAPPA BETA PI

Kappa Beta Pi announces the pledging of Ann Carter, Ellen Dearmont and Agnes Kasper at a tea held at the Chicago College Club on April 9. Ann Carter is the chief clerk in the Illinois Central Law department and is active in the Railway Business Women's Association. Ellen Dearmont accomplishes the feat of teaching by day and night and attending law school in between. Agnes Kasper has come to us from DePaul and manages to keep busy in an office all day and comes to classes five nights a week.

On May 21 our pledges will be initiated at a joint ceremony of all the Chicago chapters at the Illinois Women's Athletic Club.

NU BETA EPSILON

The following men have been pledged for the current semester: Irving R. Golden, Cecil Alexander, Joseph L. Rotheild, Samuel B. Ring, Robert Marcus Kobrin, Fillmore G. Botome and Phillip P. Mizock.

Arrangements have been made to hold a golf tournament for all undergraduates and alumni on June 5 at Harlem. Smokers and other events have been arranged for the coming year.

Congratulations are extended to L. Hollander and M. Bernstein in successfully passing the March Bar Examination.

Frater Ben H. Samuel has been nominated and elected Exchequer, and Sol Harris, Sergeant-at-Arms.

PHI DELTA PHI

The annual picnic was held Saturday afternoon, May 14, 1932. The day was perfect and the crowd by far the largest undergraduates and alumni present can remember. The picnic was such a success that plans for another are under way, with June 5th as the tentative date.

Phi Delta Phi won the scholarship cup for the first semester of 1931-32 for the fourth consecutive time.

We are pleased to announce the pledging of Gerald W. Fearer, Ralph W. Applegate, and Jack B. Moore. The Senior Class under the direction of Brother President Hansen is very busy preparing the caps and gowns, but more busy in getting ready to pass the bar examination in July. The following Phi Delta Phis will get their "sheepskins" in June: Lalon Farwell, Fred Hansen, Layman Hay, Paul Jones, Paul Kinnare, George Levings, Forman Mueller, Robert Nichols, Robert Price, Grove Talcott, and Harvey Talcott.
