FROM ASSISTANT DEAN OF STUDENTS JULIE FENTON

Grades. One by one, your grades are being posted. For most of you, there is at least one unhappy surprise, one disappointing outcome. For many of you, there is more than one. How do you reignite the enthusiasm for the challenges of law school when you are feeling deflated and discouraged?

Don't go it alone. Why not join together with a small group of some of your classmates in order to address the issues of law school survival and success? Sherry Waldrep and I will facilitate ongoing structured discussion groups that will focus on "Expectations v. Performance." The groups will be small, supportive, and confidential. All Chicago-Kent law students are eligible to participate. You don't have to be a 1L to join! The participants can discuss how to establish reasonable expectations and goals, as well as share ideas about how to optimize academic performance. Sherry and I will guide the discussions and obtain outside speakers and information, if the participants request it.

Once we have formed the groups, we will accommodate the members' schedules in selecting convenient meeting times. Each group will meet at least four times during the semester. If you are interested in participating, please email me at JFENTON as soon as possible. If you are not interested in discussing these issues in a group setting, but would like to talk about overcoming your law school blues, please come visit Sherry or me. Sherry is now in Room 525, and I am in Room 544.

Graduation Committee

There will be a Class of 1995 Graduation Committee meeting on Thursday, February 2, 1995, at 5:30 p.m. in Room 580. Please email LLOCKWOO or call Lauren Lockwood at 906-5245 if you would like to attend.

Senior Class Photos

Senior class photos will be taken February 6th - 10th, in Room 583. Sign up sheets are on Lauren Lockwood's door, in the Office of Alumnae/i & Student Relations, Suite 310. FINANCIAL AID

Loan Checks

The requested second disbursement for all loan checks is January 2, 1995. This means that loan checks began arriving at the law school on January 4, 1995. The month of January is exceptionally busy for the Office of Financial Aid because when we receive loan checks we have to tear the checks apart, alphabetize them, stamp them, photocopy them, verify your enrollment, verify that your financial aid file is complete, and then verify the check amount before releasing the check to the Bursar's Office.
As soon as we have processed at least one of your loan checks, you will receive an email from FINAID. If your financial aid file is incomplete or you are not taking as many credit hours as indicated on your award letter, you will have a hold on your loan check(s) until the matter is resolved. The Bursar's Office will give you a hold slip that will detail what it is you need to do in order to have the hold removed.

We recognize that you need your loan checks to pay for living expenses and books. We will do our best to review and re-award students as quickly as possible. However, the first week of school (January 17 - January 20) is exceptionally busy/ hectical for us. It may take two weeks for the matter to be resolved, please be patient.

Perkins, Monash and Chicago-Kent Alumni Association Loans

All students who are receiving the Perkins Loan, Monash Loan, or the Alumni Association Loan and who did not sign their promissory notes on Wednesday, January 18 need to stop by the Office of Financial Aid to sign their notes before 5:00 p.m. on Friday, January 27, 1995. Unsigned promissory notes will be returned to the Student Loan Office (located at 3300 S. Federal) at 5:00 p.m. on January 27 and students will have to contact the Student Loan Office in order to sign them.

Financial Aid For Next Year: 1995-1996

Last but not least, it is time to start thinking about financial aid for next year. The Office of Financial Aid will put a notice in The Record when the financial aid applications for the 1995 Summer and the application materials for the 1995-1996 academic year become available. Stay tuned for more information...

U.S. Department of Labor ERISA Litigation and Regulatory Internships

Professor Jeffrey Sherman would like to alert everyone to the following internship. The Plan Benefits Security Division ("PBSO") of the Office of the Solicitor is a 40 attorney division which has primary responsibility for enforcing the fiduciary responsibility provisions of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 ("ERISA") for the Department of Labor. ERISA is a comprehensive federal statute designed to protect employee health and pension benefits. The work involves a wide variety of federal trial and appellate litigation.

PBSO is a dynamic litigation unit. Interns can expect to conduct substantive and procedural research, participate in discussions concerning litigation strategy, and draft pleadings or discovery requests. Interns will work closely with PBSO attorneys, will receive practical experience in litigation, including federal civil procedure and discovery issues, and will gain familiarity with ERISA. Interns may also receive research assignments related to trial, appellate and amicus briefs.

PBSO also represents the Department in its ERISA regulatory activity, including policy development, legislative drafting and review, rulemaking, and the drafting of interpretive bulletins and advisory opinions. Regulatory assignments include assisting attorneys in research related to drafting proposed legislation or regulations and the interpretation of federal regulations concerning the myriad issues relating to health care, pension plans or other matters.

Litigation and ERISA experience are not required. 1st, 2nd and 3rd year students are encouraged to apply. Submit a resume and short writing sample to the following address (please do not telephone): Program Coordinator, Law Student Internships, Plan Benefits Security Division, Office of the Solicitor, U.S. Department of Labor, P.O. Box 1914, Washington, D.C. 20013.

FACULTY NEWS

Professor Sheldon Nahmod’s new casebook, CONSTITUTIONAL TORTS, coauthored with Michael Wells and Tom Eaton of the University of Georgia Law School, has just been published by Anderson Press. In addition, Professor Nahmod was responsible for and moderated two programs at the recent Association of American Law Schools Convention in New Orleans. The first, for the Section of Law and Religion of which he is chair, was Different Perspectives on the Religion Clauses. The second, for the Section of Civil Rights of which he is co-chair, was The Problematics of Civil Rights Immunities. Professor Nahmod is visiting this semester at Boston College Law School.

Law Librarian and Adjunct Professor John Strzynski spoke on the fundamentals of international and foreign law research at the monthly meeting of the International & Foreign Law Committee of the Chicago Bar Association. His presentation reviewed the original source materials, online databases, and developing sources now available on Internet.

Professor Mickie Voges attended a meeting of the American Bar Association Intellectual Property Section Committee on New Information Technologies. The meeting was held in Washington, D.C. in the office of the Register of Copyrights who briefed the committee on the activities of that office. Discussion included the anticipated legislative agenda in Congress regarding copyright and other intellectual property areas, the international changes with the GATT/TRIPs agreements and the European Union recent directives, and the efforts of the Register's office in the National Information Initiative/Global Information Initiative discussions on fair use. Professor Voges also met with Department of Energy and International Atomic Energy Agency personnel with whom she is consulting regarding strategies for electronic document management and delivery worldwide.

STUDENT NEWS

The Illinois State Bar Association recently published its FAMILY LAW HANDBOOK. Second-year student Jan Russell wrote the chapter on child abduction. She is also the principal author of the Illinois Child Abduction Statute. Jan ran a legal advocacy agency dealing with child abduction for four years, after which she worked for the State's Attorneys' office for five years as that office's family issues specialist. She worked on policy issues related to domestic violence and child abduction. Jan is now working for the Chicago Police Department. She provides service to domestic violence victims who are abused by Chicago police officers and she is the principle trainer for the department on domestic violence and child abduction.

CAREER SERVICES NEWS

Federal Jobs: Applicants Need Not Worry About the SF-171

The Office of Personnel Management (OPM) informed us that it has eliminated the SF-171 form from the federal employment application process. According to OPM, applicants for federal government positions will not need to complete special application forms for most positions. For those who prefer a structured application, the optional Application for Federal Employment is available through the Career Services Office. Because each federal agency has its own hiring procedures, we advise students to call the individual agency to inquire whether a special application form is required or whether a resume and cover letter constitute a complete application. Pick up Handout #66 for the full details and a copy of the optional application form.
Judicial Clerkship Applicants: Information Regarding References

In general, we advise students to create a separate list of references rather than include the names on a resume. We also usually suggest that students wait to be asked for a list of references rather than include the information with an initial mailing. In the case of judicial clerkship applications, however, members of the Faculty Judicial Clerkship Advisory Committee advise students to include references on the resume. Judges appreciate having the information in one place as early as possible in the application process. Appropriate references include law professors, legal writing instructors, undergraduate professors (for recent college graduates), and supervisors from previous jobs. Personal references are unnecessary and ineffective, no matter how many wonderful things they may say about you! Do not use relatives of any kind.

Always ask a person to be a reference in advance and explain the type of position for which you’re applying so that the person will not be caught off guard by a call regarding your professional skills. If that person hesitates or suggests someone else who may be a better reference, thank the person and try your next choice. The last thing you want is a reluctant reference or one who will not say glowing things about you. When a person agrees to be a reference for you, follow up with a short thank you letter and include your current resume so that he or she can speak knowledgeably about you when contacted.

The Career Services staff is available if you have any additional questions regarding references. Good luck!

The Alternative Career Path: How to Plan Your Way

The Career Services Office is proud to present a series of four seminars for students interested in alternative career planning. Career services professionals will help guide you in identifying alternative career paths through career inventory exercises, interaction with speakers who have taken the alternative road, and active discussions about various career options. Most importantly, you will find out how to search for alternative careers - where to start, what to expect, and what steps are involved.

The series will be offered twice: once for day students and once for evening students. The series for day students will be held on Wednesdays, January 25th, February 8th, February 22nd, and March 8th from 3:00 p.m. - 4:30 p.m. in Room 520. The series for evening students will be held on the following Tuesdays from 5:00 p.m. - 6:00 p.m.: March 7th, March 14th, April 11th, and April 18th.

Space is limited to the first twenty students to sign up for each series. Register for the series in the Career Services Office’s program sign-up notebook no later than Monday, January 23rd. Participants are expected to attend all four seminars in the series. Each participant must complete a 40 minute career inventory exercise in the Career Services office prior to the first seminar: day students must complete the exercise by Tuesday, January 24th at 5:00 p.m.

The ISBA is sponsoring a program entitled Job Opportunities for the Bottom 90% of the Class, during which three attorneys will share their experiences and discuss job opportunities in their fields of practice. The featured speakers will be Domenica Stephenson from the State’s Attorney Office, Albert F. Ferolie of Ferolie & Stephenson, and Mark A. Mosby of HealthCare COMPARE Corporation. In addition to the wonderful advice and information you’ll receive, the ISBA is providing soft drinks and snacks for attenders. But you must sign up in advance to attend the program. Register to attend in the Career Services Office’s program sign-up notebook by Monday, January 23rd.

How to Gain Legal Experience

Very few people enter law school with the ability to immediately add a substantial "legal experience" section to their resumes. During meetings with 1Ls this fall and winter, they often ask us about ways to "grow" professional or college resumes into full-fledged legal resumes which will help students land part-time, summer or post-graduate jobs. On Monday, January 30th, Stephanie Rever Chu and Lisa Abrams will present two programs for 1Ls on the variety of ways students can develop legal experience. The first program will be at 3:00 p.m. in Room 590. At 5:00 p.m. in Room 590, we will address the special concerns of evening students and outline creative ways to add legal experience into days already full of work and school. Sign up in the Career Services Office to attend.

Tutorials Resume

Reference librarians are again offering tutorials. The Spring schedule starts this week. Tutorials are 15-20 minute mini-courses on topics that will help students with research for papers or your clerking job. This semester tutorials begin on Monday, January 23 and continue throughout the week.

Using ClarK is this week’s topic. ClarK is the online inventory of all the holdings in the library. You will learn how to access ClarK from any computer on the network and the finer points of locating materials for your research. If you have ever wondered how the librarians find titles in ClarK that you didn’t think were there, this tutorial is for you. Check the library bulletin board on the 9th floor for dates and times.

If you want to suggest any tutorial topics or a change in times, please email Lenore Glanz at LGLANZ. We will be happy to hear from you.

Reference Librarians Staff Computer Classroom

Reference librarians will again be available in Computer Classroom 700 to help you with computer-assisted legal research and other computer questions. The Spring semester schedule is 10:00 a.m. - 12:00 p.m. Monday through Friday and 1:00 p.m. - 3:00 p.m. Monday through Thursday. At other times, just ask at the Reference Desk, we'll be happy to help you out.

Research Strategy Lab Scheduled

Research Strategies - Lab 5 of the series the Reference Staff has been presenting to 1L legal research and writing students—will begin on Wednesday, January 25. Sign up sheets for Lab 5 will be posted Monday, January 23 at 8:00 a.m. at the Library Services Desk on the 9th floor. The format of lab attendance has changed slightly; you may sign up for any session as long as there is space available. There will be numerous sessions available during day, evening, and weekend hours. Sessions will be offered from January 25 through February 5.

The lab sessions are mandatory for all 1L students and will focus on developing legal research strategies and Natural Language searches on both LEXIS/NEXIS and WestLaw. We will take time at the end of each lab to answer any questions you may have about legal research and resources in order to prepare for the Research Skills exam.
NEWS FROM THE CENTER FOR LAW AND COMPUTERS

New Printers For The Computer Labs Are Here!

Over the Winter Break, the staff of the Center for Law and Computers replaced the dot matrix and HP Laserjet IIs in the computer labs with four high-speed, high-quality, quiet Hewlett-Packard Laserjet 3si and 4si printers. For the Spring Semester, every student at Chicago-Kent will receive 300 FREE pages of laser printing. LEXIS/NEXIS and WESTLAW case download printing, as well as LOIS printing, will still be routed to the Document Center for $.05 per page.

If you print more than 300 pages during the course of the semester, you will be charged $.05 per page for every page over 300. There is more good news. You will not need a vendacard or a pre-paid printing deposit. Here are the details of how the system works:

- At the beginning of every semester, each student will be given a number of free pages of laser printing for that semester. The Spring 1995 Semester number is 300.

- Every time a student prints to the laser printers in the computer labs, the number of pages printed will be deducted by special network software.

- A new KENTNET menu option will allow students to view their current printing balance at any time.

- If a student prints more than the number of allotted pages for the semester, the system will continue to count pages, but these pages will be charged to the student’s print account at the rate of $.05 per page. Students who exceed their semester allotment of free pages will still be able to print. Printing will not be turned off.

- Before the second week of the following semester, any students who have outstanding charges on their print accounts must pay for their printing before they receive their next allotment of free pages. At the end of the second week of the new semester, students who have not paid their print accounts will not be allowed to print in the computer labs. Payments are made to the Bursar on the second floor.

- Students cannot carry forward a balance from one semester to another. Every student must start with a clean slate at the beginning of a new semester.

- Students cannot lend pages to other students.

- Students who print out materials for faculty or staff must print out a detailed listing of their account (from a KENTNET menu option) and have the faculty or staff member sign-off on the pages printed. Students can present this to the Bursar and be credited for these pages. Remember, this is only necessary if the student’s total semesterly printing exceeds the number of free pages for that semester.

- Free pages cannot be applied towards LEXIS/NEXIS, WESTLAW or LOIS (image system) printouts. This printing must be directed to the Document Center and paid at their prevailing rates.
Graduating students will not receive their diploma until their print accounts are paid in full.

Students should register any disputes (in writing) with Julie Fenton, Assistant Dean of Students. Center staff will be checking the printers daily for paper and toner. Report any problems with printers or printing to HELPDESK.

Our Email System Has Been Upgraded

We have upgraded the DOS email system to add enhancements to the way we use email here at Chicago-Kent. There are 3 major changes which you may have already discovered. One is the ability to delete many emails at a time. You can do this by "Tagging" with the F5 key. Press F5 when the cursor is on any email message. Tag as many messages as you want. Press the Delete key once, and all of the tagged messages will be deleted.

Another change is how you send an email message. If you just press F10, a "mini-menu" will pop-up allowing you to set the send options for that message. Just hit "Y" to make the message registered for example. This "mini-menu" also points out the third major difference; after you send a message a copy of that message no longer remains on your screen. If you want to keep a copy of the outgoing message you must set File Copy to "Y". After the message has been sent, a screen will pop-up and you will be able place a copy of the message in whatever folder you wish.

We have also upgraded our email environment to integrate better with other email systems on the Internet. The upgrade sends and receives email faster and more reliably from our email system to others who use SMTP-based mail.

WestLaw Representatives

Your WESTLAW reps are Brian Gill (BGILL), Cynthia Tackett (CTACKETT), Tim Engling (TENGLING), and Shalla Hyderi (SHYDERI). They will be in the computer lab (Room 700) in the library or right outside the room at one of the tables during the following hours. You may also contact them via email for assistance in using WESTLAW.

Work-A-Day is this Saturday, January 21, 1995! Please get in touch with your favorite student group and find out what they are doing on Saturday to make the day a special one. Everyone who participates will get into the first happy hour FREE!!

The first happy hour of 1995 will be held on Thursday, February 2nd, from 6:00 p.m. - 11:00 p.m. It will be held at the Jackson Street OTB Parlor near the corner of Franklin and Jackson. For those who do not participate in the Work-a-Day, there will be a charge at the door: $3.00 per person or 2 persons for $5.00. For those who have attended before, it will be the same great time and for those who have never attended, come and find out what everyone’s talking about!

December 1994’s Happy Hour at Glascott’s: Apologies to those people that showed up after the first 300. Although we attempt to estimate the numbers that will show up by using the counts from past events, it was impossible to predict how extraordinarily popular the December Happy Hour was. In the past, the December Happy Hour attendance records barely brushed the 200 mark. Clearly, we were wrong in our prediction and we do plan on budgeting accordingly in the future.

This year’s Barrister’s Bash will be held on Friday, April 21, 1995, from 8:00 p.m. - Midnight. It will be held at the Field Museum (Roosevelt Road at Lake Shore Drive). Further details will be made available at a later date. Remember to keep this date open for yet another grand and glorious time!

Law Week: Chicago-Kent will be holding Law Week this year from April 17 through April 21. Special events will be scheduled for each day. Further details to be provided at a later date.
