FROM DEAN CHAPMAN

Today is the Last Day...

to add a course for the Spring semester.

1L’s: Illinois Bar Registration

A Certificate of the Dean of the Law School has been mailed to the Illinois Board of Admissions to the Bar for every student who began their law studies at Chicago-Kent in August, 1994. Students who began last August are reminded that the Illinois Bar Exam Registration Form is due on March 1, 1995. If you submit your Registration Form after that date, there is an extra $250 fee. If you plan to take the bar exam in another state, you should find out if the other state has a law student registration requirement. You may check other states’ bar requirements in the Registrar’s office or my office, Room 320.

Registrar On Leave

Registrar Monique Laplanche is on maternity leave; as of Thursday afternoon, January 26, the baby has not arrived yet. For the next several weeks, please direct your questions to Assistant Registrar Matt Alex. The other staff members in the Registrar’s Office are Debra Hoskin and George Spencer.

Multistate Professional Responsibility Exam (MPRE)

Senior law students must take the Multistate Professional Responsibility Exam (MPRE) as part of the bar examination requirements in Illinois and many other states. The MPRE is administered separately from the regular bar exam and may be taken within one year prior to graduation from law school. The exam is administered three times a year; in 1995, the dates are March 10, August 11, and November 10, 1995. A completed application and the $35 fee must be postmarked by February 10, July 14 and October 13, 1995. For applicants applying after the deadline, the fee is $75. Applications are available in the Registrar’s Office. Note: the fee must be paid by a cashier’s check, money order, or certified check; no personal or business checks are accepted. Apparently the National Conference of Bar Examiners are concerned that an applicant for the professional responsibility exam might pay the $35 fee with a bad personal check!
Summer Course Cancellation

Family Law, which was listed on the preliminary 1995 Summer Schedule, will probably not be offered in the Summer session.

FROM ASSISTANT DEAN OF STUDENTS JULIE FENTON

Help Wanted: Student Orientation Coordinator

I am accepting applications now through February 10 for the position of Student Orientation Coordinator. The Student Orientation Coordinator assists the Assistant Dean of Students and the Assistant Dean of Admissions (among others) in planning, organizing, and running the first week of school for incoming first-year students. The job requirements include great enthusiasm for the school, ability to inspire your classmates to serve as orientation volunteers, organization skills, self-motivation, a sense of humor, and did I mention enthusiasm? Lots of enthusiasm! The position will involve some planning work during the spring semester, but most of the job must be performed this coming summer. For more information about the position, please contact me.

Interested in Improving Your Law School Performance and Resurrecting Your Self-Confidence?

Consider participating in our group sessions this semester. If there is sufficient interest, Sherry Waldrep and I will facilitate ongoing structured discussion groups that will focus on "Expectations v. Performance." The groups will be small, supportive, and confidential. All Chicago-Kent law students are eligible to participate. Participants can discuss how to establish reasonable expectations and goals, as well as share ideas about how to optimize academic performance. Sherry and I will guide the discussions and obtain outside speakers and information, if the participants request it. To join a group, please email me at JFENTON as soon as possible.

From Professor Bernstein - Anyone Interested in Publishing a Paper?

Did you write a paper here at Chicago-Kent that you actually can stand to reread, that got a good grade, on a topic that continues to inspire you? If so, you probably have the beginnings of a publishable paper - and if you are willing to put in (much) more work, I’m willing to help you pull it together. Although they don’t exactly advertise it, student-edited law reviews at other schools, and some other journals, will consider publishing papers by Chicago-Kent students: I’ve recently helped with pieces that landed in Wisconsin’s international journal and Columbia’s feminism journal. You must be motivated; I won’t hold your hand or give you pep talks. I will, however, provide comments and advice, both orally and in writing. When the paper is ready, I’ll guide you through the submission process.

Because I don’t know how many people will respond to this announcement, I can’t guarantee that I will have time for all who are interested. In the event of a crunch, I’ll give preference to students who are NOT Chicago-Kent Legal Scholars or members of the law review, and who are not ranked in the top 10% of their class. Writing isn’t a credential-driven activity: you just do it. Send me an email message (ABERNSTE) if you’d like more information.

GAYLAW Announces Two Informational Distribution Lists

GAYLAW has developed two current news, issue and information email lists, which the organization would like to make available to others outside its membership who would like to participate. Every day you can, via email, receive two or three selected current news items culled from the vast resources of the Internet.

GAYLEGAL is an information list which gathers actual legal cases, policy statements, election results, candidate statements and press releases. Current items will allow you to: find out why a Virginia court has ordered children removed from their mother and given to their grandmother ONLY because the mother was a lesbian; find out why lesbians and gays will probably be able to legally marry in Hawaii in 1996; learn if a Mississippi murderer’s defense that he killed his victim because he feared his victim had AIDS and would infect him will be an effective defense; find out about the legal inconsistencies of the “don’t ask, don’t tell” policy; and learn why in 1994, federal and state judges have indicated that lesbians and gays are probably a “quasi-suspect” group under the Equal Protection Clause. To find out about these and other legal issues, email NFOSS with the words SUBSCRIBE GAYLEGAL in the subject line.

GAYCULTURE is an information list which gathers cultural issues regarding the large part Gay culture has in influencing American life on a daily basis. When MTV’s Real World star, Pedro Zamora, was diagnosed with AIDS, his affliction captivated those people in our nation that have always thought AIDS was someone else’s problem. Through this database you can take the cultural pulse of the nation and keep tabs on the American tragedy: learn about the rabid Topeka, Kansas minister that protested at Zamora’s funeral; learn about the division in a small South Carolina community when a leading citizen died of AIDS and his pastor in the eulogy stated that the man probably wouldn’t enter the kingdom of heaven because of his disease. To find out more about these and other Gay cultural issues, email NFOSS with the words SUBSCRIBE GAYCULTURE in the subject line.

CAREER SERVICES NEWS

Spaces are still available for evening students to participate in the Alternative Career Planning Series offered on March 7, March 14, April 11, and April 18 at 5:00 p.m. in Room 520. The deadline for evening students to reserve space is Friday, February 3rd at 5:00 p.m. After that date, remaining spaces will be given to students on the waiting list from the day program.

Day Students Still Interested in the Alternative Career Planning Series

If you are still interested in the Alternative Career Planning Series but could not get a space for the day series, sign up on the "waiting list" sheet in the Career Services Office. If there is enough interest, we may be able to schedule another series. The students on the waiting list will be called to fill any remaining spaces in the evening series, if available. Please include your email name when you sign up so we can get in touch with you.

Federal Jobs: Applicants Need Not Worry About the SF-171

The Office of Personnel Management (OPM) informed us that it has eliminated the SF-171 form from the federal employment application process. According to OPM, applicants for federal government positions will not need to complete special application forms for most positions. For those who prefer a structured application, the optional Application for Federal Employment is available through the Career Services Office. Because each federal agency has its own hiring procedures, we advise students to call the individual agency to inquire whether a special application form is required or whether a resume and cover letter constitute a complete application. Pick up Handout #66 for the full details and a copy of the optional application form.

Judicial Clerkship Applicants: Information Regarding References

In general, we advise students to create a separate list of references rather than include the names on a resume. We also usually suggest that students wait to be asked for a list of references rather than include the information with an initial mailing. In the case of judicial clerkship applications, however, members of the Faculty Judicial Clerkship Advisory Committee advise students to include references on the resume. Judges appreciate having the information in one place as early as possible in the application process. Appropriate references include law professors, legal writing instructors, undergraduate professors (for recent college graduates), and supervisors from previous jobs. Personal references are unnecessary and ineffective, no matter how many wonderful things they may say about you! Do not use relatives of any kind.

Always ask a person to be a reference in advance and explain the type of position for which you’re applying so that the person will not be caught off guard by a call regarding your professional skills. If that person hesitates or suggests someone else who may be a better reference, thank the person and try your next choice. The last thing you want is a reluctant reference or one who will not say glowing things about you. When a person agrees to be a reference for you, follow up with a short thank you letter and include your current resume so that he or she can speak knowledgeably about you when contacted.

The Career Services staff is available if you have any additional questions regarding references. Good luck!

Office Tours

If you missed the tours of our office last semester, you can still sign up for our spring tours. The tours, which will last approximately 20 minutes, will be offered at the times listed below; sign up in the Career Services Office to attend.

- Tuesday, January 31st 11:45 a.m.
- Thursday, February 2nd 11:45 a.m.
- Wednesday, February 8th 3:00 p.m.
- Wednesday, February 15th 3:00 p.m.

We will be happy to introduce evening students to the office after 5:00 p.m. on Wednesdays and Thursdays by request.

Learn About Yourself and Your Workstyle Through the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator

The more you know about your strengths and your working style, the better you’ll be able to market yourself to prospective employers and the better you’ll perform on the job. The Myers-Briggs Type Indicator (MBTI) is an instrument that can help you recognize your working style and make the most of it.

What exactly is the MBTI? The Myers-Briggs Type Indicator is a psychometric instrument based on the work of Carl Jung and his theory of personality types. The MBTI helps you identify your behavioral preferences - including how you gather information and how you make decisions. Once you’ve identified your "type," you have one more piece of information to help you find your ideal work environment, plan an effective job search, and work with colleagues, supervisors and clients once you’re on the job.

An important note: the MBTI is not a "test" - there are no right or wrong answers. Nor is it a career interest inventory; it doesn’t tell you whether you should be a lawyer, a door-to-door salesperson or the next David Letterman!

We are offering two sessions - one for day students and one for evening students. Here’s what to do:

1. Make sure you can attend Part One and Part Two of the Myers-Briggs workshop. You must attend both parts of the workshop for it to be worthwhile.

   Day:

   Part I Tuesday, Feb. 14 at 11:45 a.m.
   Part II Tuesday, Feb. 21 at 11:45 a.m.

   Evening:

   Part I Thursday, Feb. 16 at 5:00 p.m.
   Part II Thursday, Feb. 23 at 5:00 p.m.

2. Sign up for the Myers-Briggs on the sign up sheet at the reception desk in Career Services no later than Thursday, February 9th at 8:00 p.m. Each session is limited to 40 students, so sign up early.
3. Before February 9th, find a spare thirty to forty minutes of time, and stop by the Career Services Office to complete the MBTI. You must complete the Indicator before the end of the day on February 9th in order to participate. The Indicator must be completed in the Career Services Office - we cannot allow the booklets to leave the office.

4. Come to the workshop prepared to learn about how you think and how you make decisions. Be prepared for some interactive exercises that will make the MBTI come alive. The MBTI can be a lot of fun, and it can help you see your professors, classmates, and significant other in a whole new way!

Thinking About Setting Up A Law Practice?

Lawyers Cooperative Publishing will present an informal seminar entitled How to Set Up a Law Practice on Saturday, February 11th from 10:00 a.m. - 12:00 p.m. in Room 370. Chicago-Kent alumnus Brian Kalata will be the featured speaker; at the end, Lawyers Cooperative will demonstrate LawDesk, a new CD-Rom legal research system.

Brian Kalata will discuss the practical aspects of starting your own firm including selecting a structure, addressing start up considerations, and running your own business. Coffee and bagels will be provided in the morning and attendees are invited to stay at the conclusion of the presentation for pizza and an opportunity to try out LawDesk.

Sign up in the Career Services Office no later than Monday, February 6th at 5:00 p.m.

How to Gain Legal Experience

It's not too late to sign up to come to the 3:00 p.m. or 5:00 p.m. program! On Monday, January 30th, Stephanie Rever Chu and Lisa Abrams will present two programs for 1Ls on the variety of ways students can develop legal experience. The first program will be at 3:00 p.m. in Room 590. At 5:00 p.m. in Room 590, we will address the special concerns of evening students and outline creative ways to add legal experience into days already full of work and school.

Handouts Concerning Special Opportunities:

ACLU of Southern California Death Penalty Project Summer Internship in L.A.

The Death Penalty Project seeks summer interns to perform legal research and writing and undertake factual investigation for the summer of 1995. 2L’s are preferred, but 1Ls are also welcome to apply. Although there is no deadline, we encourage you to pick up Handout #71 and send a resume soon.

Public Defender of Indiana Seeks Volunteer Clerks for Summer

The State Public Defender of Indiana is looking for students to assist in the representation of indigent death row prisoners throughout the state in post-conviction proceedings. While the office cannot afford to pay clerks, clerks will gain valuable experience in legal research and writing.
1Ls: First Chicago Bank's First Look Internship Program

The bad news: First Chicago will not be hiring 1Ls for summer legal positions this year. The good news: the bank's legal department is offering ten one-week paid internships so that 1Ls can explore the in-house counsel career path. The internships will run from May 22nd through May 26th. Pick up Handout #67 for a full explanation of the internships and a description of First Chicago's legal department. Apply soon!

National Lawyers Guild Summer Legal Internships

The National Lawyers Guild is coordinating public service internships for fourteen legal projects with organizations across the country including the Association of Community Organization for Reform Now (ACORN), the Asian Law Caucus, the Michigan Migrant Legal Assistance Project, and Proyecto Adelante. Interns are paid a stipend of $2,000 and may supplement that amount with work study grants or student fellowships up to a ceiling of $3,000. Students must apply directly to the projects and to the National Lawyers Guild by February 1, 1995. Descriptions of the projects and the application form are in Handout #68.

John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts Summer Internships in D.C.

The Kennedy Center is accepting applications for 20 summer full-time internships in areas including advertising, education, development, government relations, press, programming, management information services, and volunteer coordination. Interns receive a monthly stipend of $500 and may attend all performances and educational events for free when space is available. 1Ls or law students exploring alternative careers in performing arts administration may want to pick up Handout #69 for more information. The deadline is March 1, 1995.

3Ls, 4Ls: Nutrition Action and Food Safety Fellowships

The Center for Science in the Public Interest, a non-profit consumer advocacy organization, is offering one year fellowships in nutrition and food safety advocacy to outstanding recent graduates with Ph.D., M.S., M.P.H., M.D. or other advanced degrees. Fellows will work in CSPI's Washington, D.C. office beginning in June of 1995. See Handout #70 for further details.

The reference staff of the library is always ready to help you with your research and strategy questions. Our tutorials are mini-courses lasting 15 to 20 minutes on various topics that can assist you in your study and classwork.

The topic for the week of January 30 - February 5 is Legal Newspapers. These can be great sources of information about current cases in the news as well as new developments in the field of law, career news, job advertisements, intrigue in the legal world, and famous personalities in the law.
Stop by the 9th floor library bulletin board to check out the times when tutorials are scheduled. There is no need to sign up; just show up at the reference desk. If you want to suggest any tutorial topics or a change in times, please email Lenore Glanz at LGLANZ. We will be happy to hear from you.

Reference Librarians Staff Computer Classroom

Reference librarians will again be available in computer classroom 700 to help you with computer research and other computer questions. The Spring schedule is 10:00 a.m. - 12:00 p.m. Monday through Friday and 1:00 p.m. - 3:00 p.m. Monday through Thursday. At other times, just ask at the reference desk.

Research Strategies - Lab 5 of the series the Reference Staff has been presenting to first year legal research and writing students began last Wednesday and will continue through February 5. Sign-up sheets for Lab 5 are at the Library Service Desk on the 9th floor. The format of lab attendance has changed slightly; you may sign up for any session as long as there is space available.

The lab sessions are mandatory for all first year students and will focus on developing a research strategy and natural language search on both LEXIS/NEXIS and WestLaw. We will take time at the end of each lab to answer any questions you may have about legal research and resources in order to prepare for the Research Skills Exam. These are small group sessions, so bring your questions. You will be given a brochure on legal research strategies written by the reference librarians.

New Databases Recently Added To LEXIS/NEXIS And WestLaw

LEXIS/NEXIS has recently announced the availability of uniform laws on line. These are in a library called MODEL. WestLaw now has Wright and Miller, FEDERAL PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE online as FFP.

NEWS FROM THE CENTER FOR LAW AND COMPUTERS

Free Laser Printing

Please remember that for Spring 1995 each student receives 300 FREE pages of laser printing. You can use KENTNET to check your personal account in order to view your current printing balance. Choose "E) KENTNET Services" and then "A) Student Printer Account Balances". You will then see a screen showing you how many pages you have printed this semester, how many free pages are left in your account, and (if applicable) the cost of your pages over the limit. You also have an option to see a detailed listing of your print jobs, and an option to print your account status.

Call for Student Involvement in Technology

The Chicago-Kent College of Law Center for Law and Computers focuses on four coordinated goals:
I. Electronic Course Materials an electronic publishing press, similar to traditional paper-based materials, through which quality legal educational materials are produced, marketed, and distributed to law professors, law students and practitioners;

II. Legal Domain Network
   a rolling filtered archive of academic, administrative, and practice discussion digests, of law-related electronic discussion lists and USENET discussion groups;

III. Chicago-Kent Collaboratory a project designed to establish and support collaboration among law faculty and law practitioners where substantive legal issues are discussed;

IV. Student Support Services
   continuing support of students in using the range of technology tools for legal education.

Rosemary Shiels is looking for a research assistant to work on research, writing, and electronic development tasks on these several projects. This work will involve legal research for electronic course materials in a variety of courses, writing reports and summaries of survey findings, preparing materials for electronic course kits, and developing training materials. Contact Dominick Grillo (DGRILLO), Manager of Electronic Publishing, for more details.

Thank You To CLASS

The Center would like to thank the members of CLASS for holding their semi-annual Computer Clinic this past January 20th. CLASS members installed software and did trouble-shooting on student computers.

CLASS also staffs the Helpdesk in Lab 700 and the Spring 1995 schedule will be made available this week.
CLASS members also answer questions sent to the HELPDESK email account; send your general computer questions to them. If you would like more information on CLASS, or would like to become a member, send email to HELPDESK or contact CLASS' president, Laura Wallace (LWALLACE). CLASS will be holding a meeting on Tuesday, January 31st at 11:45 a.m. in Room 744 to plan for the current semester.

Our Email System Has Been Upgraded

We have upgraded the DOS email system to add enhancements to the way we use email here at Chicago-Kent. There are 3 major changes which you may have already discovered. One is the ability to delete many emails at a time. You can do this by "Tagging" with the F5 key. Press F5 when the cursor is on any email message. Tag as many messages as you want. Press the Delete key once, and all of the tagged messages will be deleted.

Another change is how you send an email message. If you just press F10, a "mini-menu" will pop-up allowing you to set the send options for that message. Just hit "Y" to make the message registered for example. This "mini-menu" also points out the third major difference; after you send a message a copy of that message no longer remains on your screen. If you want to keep a copy of the outgoing message you must set File Copy to "Y". After the message has been sent, a screen will pop-up and you will be able place a copy of the message in whatever folder you wish.
We have also upgraded our email environment to integrate better with other email systems on the Internet. The upgrade sends and receives email faster and more reliably from our email system to others who use SMTP-based mail.

GAYLAW

GAYLAW’s first meeting in 1995 will be on Wednesday, February 2nd in Room C25 at 3:00 p.m. All interested parties are welcome.

GAYLAW announces two informational distribution lists. Every day you can, via email, receive two or three selected current news items culled from the vast resources of the Internet. GAYLEGAL is an information list which gathers actual legal cases, policy statements, election results, candidate statements and press releases. Current items will allow you to: Find out why a Virginia court has ordered children removed from their mother and given to their grandmother ONLY because the mother was a lesbian; find out why lesbians and gays will probably be able to legally marry in Hawaii in 1996; learn if a Mississippi murderer’s defense that he killed his victim because he feared his victim had AIDS and would infect him will be an effective defense; find out about the legal inconsistencies of the "don’t ask, don’t tell" policy; and learn why in 1994, federal and state judges have indicated that lesbians and gays are probably a "quasi-suspect" group under the Equal Protection Clause. To find out about these and other legal issues, email NFOSS with the words SUBSCRIBE GAYLEGAL in the subject line. GAYCULTURE is an information list which gathers cultural issues regarding the large part Gay culture has in influencing American life on a daily basis. When MTV’s Real World star, Pedro Zamora, was diagnosed with AIDS, his affliction captivated those people in our nation that have always thought AIDS was someone else’s problem. Through this database you can take the cultural pulse of the nation and keep tabs on the American tragedy: learn about the rabid Topeka, Kansas minister that protested at Zamora’s funeral; learn about the division in a small South Carolina community when a leading citizen died of AIDS and his pastor in the eulogy stated that the man probably wouldn’t enter the kingdom of heaven because of his disease. To find out more about these and other Gay cultural issues, email NFOSS with the words SUBSCRIBE GAYCULTURE in the subject line.

Illinois Committee to Save Legal Services

The new Republican Congress plans to completely zero out funding to the Legal Services Corporation (LSC) for fiscal year 1996 and greatly reduce funding for fiscal year 1995. LSC provides most of the funding for legal aid programs around the country. The Illinois Committee to Save Legal Services has been formed to lobby Congress to preserve LSC funding at current levels. The Committee realizes that law school leaves very little time for volunteer work, but we have to organize quickly if we are going to save the funding mechanism that has provided the poor with access to the civil justice system for thirty years. Don’t delay! BECAUSE OF OBVIOUS TIME CONSTRAINTS, THE COMMITTEE NEEDS VOLUNTEERS NOW. Contact Roslyn C. Lieb (312) 609-6600 or Jim Wascher (312) 554-1616.

Illinois State Bar Association

Know anyone who volunteers time to help others? Wish they would get the recognition they deserve? Or maybe you help out others either within or outside the law school community? ISBA’s Public Service Award will give those who help others without putting profit first the recognition they deserve. Look for nomination applications in the current issue of the ISBANNER publication, or in various locations around school, including the legal clinic on the 6th Floor and the cafeteria. Please contact Melissa Durkin (MDURKIN) with any questions.

Interested in getting involved with the law school, but don’t know how? Apply to be an ISBA representative. In this position, you can meet people both in law school and in the profession and make great networking contacts. We are looking for 1Ls and 2Ls to act as liaisons between Chicago-Kent students and Illinois’ largest legal professional organization for next year. Please contact any one of your current representatives, Susan Walter (SWALTER2), Rupal Dalal (RDALAL) or Melissa Durkin (MDURKIN) with any questions. Don’t miss a great opportunity to get involved and make great future contacts!!

Thanks to everyone who attended the program Job Opportunities for the Bottom 90%. The number attending was beyond our wildest imagination and we appreciate your interest. If you have any comments, please feel to contact any your ISBA representatives.

Finally, now that the new semesters here, don’t forget to become an ISBA member if you’re not one already. Applications are on the Concourse level!
