FROM DEAN DEUTSCH

How’s everyone doing? The first week of classes seems to have gone pretty smoothly. First-years are settling in, and continuing students are getting back into classwork full-swing.

And moving into full-swing this week is the Democratic National Convention, taking place just a few blocks west of the law school at the United Center. As you know, we’re in the midst of a presidential election campaign, and your participation in our governing process is perhaps the most important contribution you can make to your community right now. I very much hope that all of you will participate in the November election, and, to that end, we plan to have an election registration table set up in the law school within a few days. I also hope that you’ll take a look at the transportation plans for the DNC (outlined later in this issue of the Record), so that you won’t get caught in any kind of commuting or travel problem, getting back and forth to the law school.

We’re just getting started, of course, but this semester promises a lot of activity for Chicago-Kent, in addition to activities like the self-study and the dean search. For one thing, we have a number of special visitors who will be spending some time at Chicago-Kent between now and the end of the semester. Already housed on the seventh floor is Visiting Faculty Member Dan Hunter, who is co-teaching a course on “Computers and Legal Reasoning” with Professor Wright this semester. Professor Hunter is a member of the law faculty of Melbourne University in Australia and a Research Fellow at Emmanuel College, Cambridge University, England. His research focuses on artificial intelligence and law, and his current project is an investigation into analogical reasoning in law. He has lectured extensively around the world and is co-author of a book, Building Intelligent Legal Information Systems: Representation and Reasoning in Law. He has a bachelor’s degree and a law degree from Monash University and a Master of Laws from Melbourne University in Australia. Prior to beginning teaching, he was a computer programmer and a practicing attorney in Australia.

In mid-September, Centennial Visiting Professor Robert C. Post will be spending several days at the law school, visiting and teaching classes, and talking with faculty and students. Professor Post currently is the Alexander F. & May T. Morrison Professor of Law at the University of California at Berkeley School of Law. He is one of the leading First Amendment scholars in the country and has written extensively about free speech and the social order. Several of his articles recently were collected in Constitutional Domains (Harvard U. Press 1995), and he also wrote Law and the Order of Culture. Professor Post received his bachelor’s degree from Harvard, his law degree from Yale, and he also has a Ph.D. in sociology from Harvard. He is a very genial, lively person and a dynamic speaker, and he should be a delightful visitor. More details about his visit, including opportunities for students to meet Professor Post, will be published soon.

The first of our endowed lectures for the year is scheduled for October 8, when Morris Lecturer Hein D. Kötz will give the 1996 Henry C. Morris Lecture in International and Comparative Law, entitled “Toward a Common Law of Europe?” Professor Kötz is Professor of Law at the University of Hamburg, Germany, and the co-director of the Max Planck Institute for International and Foreign Private Law, perhaps the leading institute for comparative law in the world. He holds a doctoral degree in law from the University of Hamburg, as well as a Master of Comparative Law degree from the University of Michigan. Professor Kötz is the author (with Konrad Zweigert) of an Introduction to Comparative Law, probably the best-known and most respected comparative law text in the world. It has been translated from German into English, Italian, Russian, Chinese, and Japanese. Professor Kötz’s lecture will focus on his proposal to encourage common legal culture, legal literature, and law schools among European countries.

On November 5, Green Lecturer J.C. Smith will speak on “Machine Intelligence and Legal Reasoning” at the Charles E. Green Lecture in Law and Technology. Professor Smith teaches at the Faculty of Law of the University of British Columbia, where he has taught for the last thirty-five years. He is a graduate of the UBC Faculty of Law and received his LL.M. from Yale, where he was awarded the Felix Cohen Prize in Legal Philosophy. He is presently the Director of the UBC Faculty of Law Artificial Intelligence Research (FLAIR) Project. Professor Smith is renowned for his research and writing on the nature and structure of legal discourse. He is the author of a large number of articles in various academic journals, and of a number of books, including Legal Obligation, Law and its Presuppositions, with S.C. Coval, Liability in Negligence, and The Neurotic Foundations of Social Order. His latest book, The Castration of Oedipus: Feminism, Psychoanalysis, and the Will to Power, with Carla Ferstman, was recently released by New York University Press. Professor Smith also is one of the founding members of the International Association of Artificial Intelligence and Law, and he recently received a $375,000 research grant from the Natural Sciences and Engineering Council of Canada for the automatic classification of the subject matter of legal documents.

The Kenneth M. Piper Lecture in Labor Law will be scheduled sometime during the spring semester.

I hope all of you will make an effort to attend some or all of these special events and lectures. And I hope everything continues to go well for you in the coming weeks!

Grade Distributions

A summary of the grade distributions for the 1995-1996 academic year is attached to this Record. The grade distributions for individual courses for the Spring, 1996 semester are posted on the second floor bulletin board.

"AmJur" Awards

For decades, The Lawyer's Cooperative Publishing Company awarded "AmJur" awards to the students who earned the highest grade in certain specified law courses. Last year, the AmJur awards program was abruptly terminated in all regions of the country except California. Chicago-Kent has always awarded an Academic Achievement Award to the students who earn the highest grades in each section of every law school class. The Center for Computer-Assisted Legal Instruction (CALI) will begin awarding a "CALI Excellence for the Future" achievement award to the student who achieves the highest grade in each law school course. CALI is a consortium of 164 law schools, with offices on the fifth floor of our law building. Information about the CALI award, which incidentally was established as a result of my suggestion to CALI Director John Mayer, is attached to the Record.

MEMORIAL FOR MARC A. GRINKER

The Chicago-Kent community mourns the loss of Marc A. Grinker, Professor of Legal Research and Writing and Chicago-Kent's 1996 Professor of the Year, who died July 22 at Northwestern Memorial Hospital after a lengthy illness. Marc was a member of the faculty since 1990, teaching courses in business organizations, law and sexual orientation, securities regulation, and, most notably, directing our Appellate Advocacy program, which he established. He was justifiably proud that, in its first year, the Ilana Diamond Rovner Program participants won awards in 14 interscholastic competitions. In recognition of his efforts with the Rovner Program, Marc received the Henrietta and Adolf Nudelman Award for Outstanding Faculty Support. He was also a recipient of the 1992-93 Dean's Prize for Excellence in Teaching.

Prior to joining the Chicago-Kent faculty, Marc taught at Hofstra University School of Law. He served as special counsel for the National Coalition for the Homeless and general counsel for CEL Communications, and he practiced with the New York law firm of Davis, Polk and Wardwell.

Marc received his bachelor's degree from Emory University and his law degree from Hofstra University School of Law, where he served as managing editor of the Hofstra Law Review.

We will be hosting a memorial service for Marc on Wednesday, August 28, at 5:00 p.m., in the Ogilvie Auditorium. We very much look forward to welcoming Marc's parents, Charles and Audrey, and his sister, Lori, who will join us for the service.
For those of you who would like to make a charitable contribution in Marc's memory, his family has requested that donations be made to the American Foundation for AIDS Research, c/o The Marc Grinker Memorial Fund, 733 Third Ave., 12th floor, New York, NY 10017, or to Chicago-Kent College of Law's Marc A. Grinker Outstanding Student Commitment Award Fund, Office of Development, 565 W. Adams St., Chicago, IL 60661-3691.

FROM CAREER SERVICES

Class of 1998: Adjusted Ranks for Career Services Purposes Now Available in Career Services

At the request of the Career Services Office, official class ranks for the 1998 graduating class were adjusted on August 20th to take into account people who have left the law school. This adjusted class rank indicates your standing among classmates who will graduate from the institution with you and is for job search purposes only. The adjusted rank is based on course work completed through the end of the Spring 1996 semester and does not include summer 1996 grades. Pick up your adjusted rank in the Career Services Office. A picture I.D. is required.

The 1997 graduating class ranks will not be adjusted because Chicago-Kent students who are visiting at other law schools this year will still graduate with the class of 1997.

If you have questions or an employer would like to verify your rank, please contact Lisa Abrams or Stephanie Rever Chu. Our thanks to Dean Chapman and Registrar Monique LaPlanche Herard for their efforts on our students' behalf.

In Search Of: A Resource Coordinator for the Career Services Office

We are looking for a new resource coordinator in the Career Services Office (see announcement below!). The resource coordinator assists our resource manager by providing hands-on training for students and staff in on-line database use; writes Careerline; manages the job posting system; and answers the telephone and directs office visitors.

Interested? See the bulletin board outside the office for a complete job description and talk to Charis Runnels. Please submit a cover letter and resume to Assistant Dean of Career Services Lisa Abrams no later than 5:00 p.m. on Tuesday, September 3rd.

2Ls, 3Ls & 4Ls Interested in Patent Law: Resume Collection

We've received requests from two prestigious Chicago law firms for resumes of students who are qualified to sit for the patent agents' exam. Firm #1 is looking for 2Ls, 3Ls or 4Ls with any engineering background and excellent academic credentials. Firm #2 is looking for graduating students and prefers an electrical or mechanical engineering background and excellent academic credentials. The firms will contact students directly if they wish to arrange interviews. Interested students should submit resumes (please mark in pencil on the back of the resume whether it is to go to Firm #1 or #2) to the Career Services Office no later than 7:00 p.m. on Thursday, August 29th.

Welcome Back! Meet Our New Staff Members!

We hope you enjoyed your summer break! When you visit our office next, you'll notice two familiar faces in new positions and one new face.

Our former Resource Manager, Dan Walsh, graduated and moved to Cleveland to work for Key Corp. Bank - read all about it in the Happy Endings column in the first issue of Careerline, now available outside the Career Services Office! Charis Runnels, our former Resource Coordinator, is now the Resource Manager.

Ann Rainhart, our former Administrative Manager, has been promoted to Assistant Director. You'll see more of her in this new role!
We also welcomed part-time career strategist Kim Reynolds on board this summer. Her master's degree in counseling and experience with the legal field will surely make her a highly sought after source of information for students and alumnae/i. Kim will be in the office on Tuesdays from 8:30 until 2:30 and one Saturday each month during the semester.

Counseling Appointments

Second, third, and fourth year students who need resume or job search counseling can make an appointment by visiting our office or calling 906-5200.

If you need resume counseling to prepare for the fall on-campus interview program, be sure to schedule an appointment right away. The last day of resume counseling for the fall on-campus interview program has been changed to Monday, August 26.

Our counseling staff this year includes Stephanie Rever Chu, Director of Career Services; Lisa Abrams, Assistant Dean for Career Services; and part-time career strategists Debbi Gutman and Kim Reynolds. Each of these staff members has a strong career counseling background. Our receptionist will assist you in making an appointment with the person who best suits your needs.

Please note: evening counseling appointments are available! Students can see Debbi Gutman on Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

Mock Interviews: Polish Your Interviewing Skills

One of the best ways to prepare for interviews is to participate in a mock interview session. Career strategist Deborah Gutman will be visiting several Chicago law schools, including Chicago-Kent, to conduct mock interviews in August and September.

The half-hour sessions in the Career Services Office will include a videotaped mock interview, playback of the videotape, and a critique of the interview. We encourage you to bring your own videotape so that you can review your interview again on your own.

Dates for mock interviews are: Thursday, August 29th; Friday, August 30th; and Tuesday through Friday, September 3rd through 6th.
There are a limited number of mock interviews available; sign up soon! You must leave a resume in the Career Services Office prior to the date of the interview. Please give 24-hour notice of any cancellation.

I.D.s Requested!

Due to the explosive growth of traffic in the Career Services Office and because our services sometimes attract students from competing law schools, we ask that you please show your student I.D. to the staff member at the front desk upon entering the office. We’re enforcing our policy to protect our resources! Thanks in advance for your cooperation!

Computer Policy Reminder

Laser printing resumes and cover letters is free in our office, but you must bring your own paper, including paper for drafts. We ask that you use other computers in the building for composing resumes and cover letters so that we may efficiently accommodate everyone who needs to print.

Please remember that students’ use of the computers will be limited to 20 minutes when other people are waiting. Be sure to sign in on the sheet by the computers indicating the time you arrived. If you wait more than twenty minutes, please let Charis Runnels or the receptionist know. If you must relinquish the use of the computer to another person, please sign the list again to put yourself back in line.

Alumnae/i have priority because they do not have access to other computers in the building at which to compose; upon showing an alumnae/i I.D., alums may use the next available computer.

Fall On-Campus Interview (FOCI) Program

New Policy for Missing an Interview

Please remember to talk to Lisa Abrams or Stephanie Rever Chu if you have an emergency which will prevent you from attending an interview scheduled through the fall on-campus program. Also, if you are accepting a job offer, let Lisa or Stephanie know so they can cancel the remainder of your on-campus interview schedule.

Last year, several students missed interviews because they simply forgot about the date or time. Interviewers become very irate when a student doesn’t show up, and sometimes they refuse to participate in the program in future years. Please help us make sure this doesn’t happen again this year!

As a result of last year’s problems, Assistant Dean Lisa Abrams has instituted a new policy, effective immediately: any student who misses an interview for reasons other than an emergency will not be permitted to participate in the remainder of the program. Thanks for your cooperation with this policy.

Important dates for the FOCI Program:

A Reminder to Fall On-Campus Interview Program Participants -- Stay in Touch!
Information concerning changes and additions to the interview program will be posted on the bulletin board outside the Career Services Office.

If we need to communicate directly with you, we will do so through e-mail. We will not phone you--please read your e-mail daily.

Interview Tips for Large Law Firm Employment from the Employer and Student Perspective

On Tuesday, September 3rd, we'll present a program to help you prepare for fall interviews. Attorneys involved in on-campus recruiting for law firms and students who have participated in previous fall on-campus interviewing will share their perspectives and hints for making the most of your interviews.

The program will be at noon and 5:00 p.m. in room 570. Sign up by August 29th in the Career Services Office to attend!

Beyond Fall Interviewing -- There Are Other Ways to Find a Job!!

It's hard to do, but keep the fall interview program in perspective! Keep in mind that these fall recruiters represent a very small part of the total employment market.

You may find these statistics reassuring: the class of 1995 had a 94% employment rate when measured six months after graduation. This employment rate was higher than the national law school average of 86.7%. Only 7.5% of the Chicago-Kent class of '95 ultimately found jobs through the on-campus interview program. The rest of the class found positions through networking, clerking for firms, making direct contact with firms, following job listings in the Career Services Office, and a variety of other methods.

The Career Services Office is anxious to work with you to determine the job search methods that will help you reach your career goals. We encourage those of you who are not participating in fall recruiting to meet with one of our career strategists this fall to design a job search plan that will work for you. We're committed to working with every Chicago-Kent student. Come get to know us -- we're here to help!

NEWS FROM CLC (CENTER FOR LAW AND COMPUTERS)

Computer Lab Printing Policy
Since the second week of classes is here, it's time to review our printing policy. For the Fall Semester, every student at Chicago-Kent will receive 400 free pages of laser printing. If you print more than 400 pages during the semester, you will be charged 5¢ per page for every page over 400. LEXIS and Westlaw case download printing, as well as LOIS printing, will be routed to the Document Center and must be paid for when you pick it up. Here are details of how the system works:

- At the beginning of every semester, each student will be given a number of free pages of laser printing for that semester. The number for the Fall 1996 Semester is 400.

- Every time a student prints to the laser printers in the computer labs, the number of pages printed will be deducted by special network software.

- A KENTNET menu option will allow students to view their current printing balance anytime. The option is in the KENTNET Network Services menu.

- If a student prints more than the number of pages allotted for the semester, the system will continue to count pages, but these pages will be charged to the student's print account at the rate of 5¢ per page. Students who exceed the semester allotment of free pages can still print. Printing will not be turned off.

- Before the end of the second week of the following semester, any students who have outstanding charges on their print accounts must pay for their printing before they receive their next semester's allotment of free pages. At the end of the second week of the new semester, students who have not paid their print accounts in full will not be allowed to print in the computer labs. Payment may be made to the Bursar on the second floor.
• Students cannot carry forward a balance of unused pages from one semester to another. Every student starts with a clean slate at the beginning of a new semester.

• Students cannot lend pages to other students.

• Students who print out materials for faculty or staff must print out a detailed listing of their account (from a KENTNET menu option) and have the faculty or staff member sign-off on the pages printed. Students can present this listing to the CLC (Theda Mickey, Room 711) and be credited for these pages. Remember, this is only necessary if the student's total semester printing exceeds the number of free pages for that semester.

• Free pages cannot be applied toward Lexis-Nexis, Westlaw, or LOIS (Image System) printouts. This printing must be directed to the Document Center and paid at their prevailing rates.

• Graduating students will not receive their diplomas until their print accounts are paid in full.

Most students will not use the semester's allotment of free pages. Students should register any accounting disputes with Julie Fenton, the Assistant Dean of Students. CLC staff check the printers daily for paper and toner. Please report any problems with printers or printing to HELPDESK.

Virus Detection Software for Windows 95
If you have Windows 95 on your computer, stop by any lab and download a copy of the new Win95 virus detection utility from McAfee. You will need a blank, formatted disk to do this. E-Learn and other laptop users especially should run the detection software as soon as possible, and report any viruses you find to HELPDESK. The CLC encourages you to install this software on your Windows 95 computer and use it anytime you use a floppy disk. HelpDocs on Windows95 and DOS virus detection software are available in Lab 700 and the CLC's offices on the seventh floor.

Windows 95 and KENTNET Dial-In Software
Several students have reported problems installing KENTNET’s dial-in package in computers running Windows 95. If you have this problem, pick up the special HelpDoc, KENTNET Dial-In and Windows 95, available in Lab 700 and the CLC offices on the seventh floor.

Back Up Your Work
Every semester, someone in the CLC is asked to retrieve a corrupted or erased document file on a floppy disk. Usually it's the only copy, and it's due in five minutes. To avoid this, we recommend that you keep two copies of all your work on two separate floppy disks. Floppy disks wear out with time and use. Please protect yourself and the time you invest in your work by making backup copies.

Internet Mail Update
A recent upgrade to our ExpressITI mail system simplifies the way we address Internet Email. From now on, just put the recipient's actual Internet address in the To: field. You no longer need to use the name @ SMTP placeholder to send messages to other Internet sites.

Leave a Forwarding Address
The ExpressITI upgrade also added “Automatic Reply” to the system. Use the automatic reply function whenever you will not be near Email for a while and want people to know you're not there. Automatic Reply is available under the Forwarding Options (F4) option in DOS Email. Pick up a HelpDoc in Lab 700 or the CLC offices for more details.

FACULTY NEWS

Professor Mickie Voges has accepted appointment on the Board of Directors of the Chicago Metro History Education Center. The Center works with Chicago inner city high school students developing projects that enhance their history classes. Prof. Voges will be working to develop technological approaches to some of the Center's projects.

Prof. Voges is also consulting with CANCOPY, the copyright reporting agency for Canada, to enhance ExM ENTIS (the copyright management software developed with the ExLIBRIS Group at the Information Center of Chicago-Kent) for use at the reporting agency. She is providing the copyright expertise in the system design.

Professor Martin Malin had two articles published this summer: Unemployment Compensation in a Time of Increasing Work-Family Conflicts, 29 U. Mich. J. L. Ref. 131; and Arbitrating Statutory Employment Claims in the Aftermath of Gilmer, 40 St. L. L.J. 77. Also, on June 12 he appeared, along with Donna Ledhoff, the Vice-Chair of the Commission on Family Leave, on the Mara Tapp Show on WBEZ Radio and discussed the Family and Medical Leave Act. On July 5, he was the sole guest on the Tom Clark Show on Wisconsin Public Radio and discussed the competing proposals of the Republican Congressional leadership and the Clinton Administration to amend the Fair Labor Standards Act and provide for compensatory time in lieu of time-and-one-half payments for overtime work.

The Democratic National Convention (DNC) will be held in Chicago from August 26-29, 1996, at the United Center. More than 25,000 people will attend the DNC, including the President and Vice President of the United States, Senators, Congressmen, delegates and members of the press. DNC attendees will stay at fifty hotels, primarily located in the Central Area of downtown. Sixteen thousand rooms have been reserved.

Transportation between the hotels and the United Center will be provided by the CTA; a fleet of 65 to 100 fully accessible buses will be used. Taxis and limos are also expected to be a significant part of the transportation system. Three primary corridors will be used to accommodate convention attendees traveling between the hotels and the United Center. The corridors are:

A. Grand Avenue to Ogden Avenue to Washington Boulevard to the United Center.
B. Randolph Street to Ogden Avenue to Washington Boulevard to the United Center.
C. Roosevelt Road to Jefferson Street to Harrison Street to Ashland Avenue to Washington Boulevard to the United Center.

The return corridor for the Randolph Street and Roosevelt Road shuttles will be Warren Boulevard and Washington Boulevard. The Grand Avenue shuttles will return to the Central Area via Ogden Avenue and Grand Avenue.

Although the main corridors do not include Adams, Jefferson and Quincy Streets (our location), secondary corridors have been designated for use by taxis, limousines, and as alternates for shuttle buses. These are:

- Madison Street (Michigan Avenue to Paulina Street)
- Monroe Street (Paulina to Michigan)
- Adams Street (Michigan to Wood Street)
- Jackson Street (Damen Avenue to Michigan)

We hope you find this information useful in planning your transportation routes during the convention.

ORGANIZATIONS

FROM MARK SCOTT, PRESIDENT OF THE STUDENT BAR ASSOCIATION

Judging by the amount of e-mails and conversations that I have seen, WE ARE ALL HAPPY TO BE BACK. I hope you spend time this year getting to know more of your fellow students. Now is the best time to develop the friendships that can last a lifetime. Be nice to the people around you. You never know where your paths will cross again.

I am excited by the amount of student organizations that are gearing up for the school year. If you are experiencing difficulties in trying to establish meeting agendas, dates or times, please get with the SBA for suggestions. At a minimum, student organizations need to let their respective members know when the first meeting will take place.

Old Business:
1. Student Organization Budgets: Organization leaders, remember to return completed Budget Packets no later than Thursday, August 29. The completed forms should be placed in the labeled envelope provided to your Organization. All of the forms are available on a diskette in WP6.0 format. If you would like the electronic version, please e-mail (e-m) me as soon as possible. The following organizations HAVE NOT PICKED UP A BUDGET REQUEST PACKAGE or communicated their intentions to me:
   a. Chicago-Kent Democratic Club
   b. Devil’s Advocate
   c. Family Law Society
   d. Islamic Law Students Association

2. E-M General Questions and Comments: As a reminder, please use e-m address SBAQ to correspond general questions and comments to me. I access the e-m account daily.

3. Fall Election: SBA Executive Board positions not decided during the Spring 1996 Election include the Vice President Day Division and Vice President Evening Division. Only candidates who participated in the Spring Election contests for these positions will be given the opportunity to compete during the Fall Election for these positions.

4. BOG Positions: Vacant 3L day, 3L evening, and 4L evening Representative positions will be filled in accordance with Article VI, §3 of the SBA Constitution. Election petitions for these particular vacancies will be available on Thursday, August 29, 1996. To be placed on the ballot that will be presented to the BOG for selection, completed petitions must be received by me no later than 5:00pm (SBA Office (C88) clock standard) on Thursday, September 05, 1996.

New Business:
1. Policy and Procedures Manual: The SBA will hold a meeting on Tuesday, September 03, 1996 to discuss the Policy and Procedures Manual. The SBA distributed the P & P Manual to the student organization leaders at the same time the Budget Request Packets were distributed. This, as you might recall, is the “blue book.” The meeting will begin promptly at 11:45am. The meeting place will be posted on the SBA Office (C88) door and the SBA bulletin board located on the Concourse level. All student organizations must send at least one officer to this meeting.
The Record

August 26, 1996

2. Code of Conduct Committee: The SBA is forming a student committee that will concentrate specifically on Chicago-Kent’s Code of Conduct. This Committee will eventually propose section language to the Chicago-Kent Administration for their consideration. If you would like to participate on this important Committee, please e-m your interest.

3. Faculty Meeting: I attended the August 20th faculty meeting. During the meeting, I voted on a couple of issues dealing with applicability of the new grading curve. The new policy terminology, along with my vote on behalf of the student population, will be provided as soon as possible.

4. Ralph L. Brill Award: Please be advised that the Ralph L. Brill Award will be given to a qualified person in recognition of long-term dedication to the students of Chicago-Kent. I will be making the nomination to the BOG in the near future. If you would like for me to consider a qualified person, please forward your suggestion and rationale to me no later than Friday, August 30, 1996. The qualifications for the Award are as follows:

   a. must be a present member of the Faculty, Administration or Alumnae/i
   b. for at least ten years
   c. has for that period of time shown dedication and devotion beyond their normal duties to help students fulfill their academic and/or school related social needs.

5. Constitution and By-Laws: The SBA Constitution and By-Laws are on file in the SBA Office (C88). If you would like a copy of these governing documents, please stop by the office or send me an e-m requesting such. We can use the student mail box to transfer the information. In addition, all student organizations must have similar governing documents that apply to their respective organizations. Copies must be available to members.

6. Bulletin Boards: Bulletin board space is provided for each student organization. The bulletin boards are located on the Concourse level. Each organization maintains the information posted in their respective space. If your organization does not have an assigned space, please e-m me. Thank you.

PHI ALPHA DELTA LAW FRATERNITY

CALI TO RESUME LAW SCHOOL SCHOLASTIC ACHIEVEMENT AWARD

CALI, the Center for Computer-Assisted Legal Instruction, a consortium of 164 of the nation's law schools, announces the "CALI Excellence for the Future" law school scholastic achievement awards program. The student in each law school course achieving the top grade in the course will receive an award.

The CALI Excellence for the Future Award Program replaces Lawyer's Cooperative's "AmJur" awards program in many of the schools. In the course of the past two years, Lawyer's Cooperative Publishing has ended its "AmJur" awards program in all regions of the country except California. Bancroft-Whitney, a Thomson Legal Publishing, Inc. company, has continued the "AmJur" program in California. A number of California schools are participating in both CALI's program and Bancroft-Whitney's program.

The CALI program recognizes the top student in all law school courses. CALI is not placing a size limit on the courses. The former AmJur program placed a minimum enrollment size of 12 on award-eligible courses.

The award is a certificate suitable for framing, the same recognition provided by the AmJur award program.

CALI provides research and development in computer-based instruction and a distribution network for computer-assisted instructional materials to its member law schools. Its library of instructional materials contains over 100 exercises in 21 areas of the law. CALI also sponsors an annual conference for law school computing.
