Please come to room 546 or e-mail EBERGER to sign up for this program.

We’re on the fifth floor...

We may be a bit off the beaten path, but we’re worth the trip. Law school can be a very isolating experience. Your colleagues may all seem to have the right answers and know where they are going. No one wants to feel like he or she is the only one who doesn’t “get it.” You may feel like you have no one to turn to when you are feeling this way. Come in and talk to us. If you haven’t found your way to our offices yet, Ellen Berger (EBERGER) is in room 546, Victoria Bensley can be found at the desk across from room 544, and I’m in room 544.

We can give you ideas about how to study, how to prepare that mystical “outline” that everyone talks about, how to handle the stress of law school, or how to get involved in law school activities. Stop by or make an appointment to see one of us. We look forward to meeting you.

Some reading for your spare (or not so spare) time!

Our Student Resource Library contains commercial study aids, books about law school survival and success, and books about health and mental health topics. The material in the Resource Library is available for you to borrow. A listing of available resources can be found on the Student Services bulletin board and outside of rooms 544 and 546. New Weekly Feature!!

New to Chicago? Don’t know what to do? Don’t know how to find things? You’re not alone. The good news is there’s help, and it’s on the Internet. Each week we’ll be featuring an Internet site or two on the Web with site topics ranging from lawyer jokes to stress management.

This week’s site is: www.wtmx.com -- This is a site put together by the folks at the WTMX 101.9 radio station. It includes many links related not only to music, but to Chicago events, weather and even restaurants. One of the best sites you can get to from the WTMX home page is www.chiweb.com -- a site created by Gordon Lake that provides links to pretty much anything and everything related to Chicago, including golf courses, movies, what’s on sale at local grocery stores, restaurants and clubs. CHECK IT OUT... NEWS FROM THE INFORMATION CENTER

Tutorial

This week’s tutorial is designed to familiarize students with the law and research materials used in bankruptcy law. The tutorials are being presented by the Reference Staff of the Information Center and the schedule is posted on the 9th floor bulletin board. You don’t have to sign up for them; just show up by the Reference Desk at the scheduled times. If you have any comments about the times or the topics being offered, we would be happy to have them. Send them to Lenore Glanz (LGLANZ).

Who Is That Man?

In 1886, several young law clerks, worried about passing the new bar examination, sought instruction from Judge Joseph M. Bailey of the Appellate Court of the First District of Illinois. Judge Bailey soon had a number of potential lawyers meeting in his chambers at night for tutoring sessions. Joined in 1887 by his friend and colleague, Thomas Moran, this group became know as the Chicago Evening Law School, one of the nation’s first law schools to hold classes at night, and the first in Chicago. In 1988, the Chicago College of Law was formally chartered as the second law school in Illinois and Judge Bailey was named the law school's first dean. The Chicago College of Law was one of the foundation institutions for the Chicago-Kent College of Law.

The bust of Judge Bailey was prominently displayed at the 77 S. Wacker building and with the Info Center staff on the 9th floor next to the Reference office. There is no truth to the rumor that rubbing his nose ensures good luck on exams (or is there? Judge Bailey’s nose is noticeably shiny.)

Developments in du Pont Murder Case

A Pennsylvania judge has ordered John du Pont to undergo psychiatric evaluation and treatment because he is mentally incompetent to stand trial at this time for the shooting of Olympic wrestling champion Dave Schultz last March. Among other things, du Pont has referred to himself as the last czar of Russia and the Dalai Lama. A court appointed psychiatrist had testified he believed du Pont incompetent; a psychiatrist hired by the defense testified that he thought du Pont has paranoid schizophrenia. Meanwhile, prosecutors insist du Pont is faking the mental illness, pointing out that du Pont has been able to manage his personal and business affairs. du Pont’s status will be reviewed in 60 days. This development was reported in the New York Times on September 25, 1996.

LEXIS/NEXIS

OFFICE HOURS

* During office hours, the LEXIS Rep., Karin Kiyabu, is in Room 700 (large 7th floor Computer Lab inside the Information Center) or at the tables directly outside the lab. If you have any LEXIS/NEXIS questions, e-mail LEXISQ or call 1-800-45-LEXIS.

This Week’s LEXIS QUICK TIP: LEXIS SEGMENT Searching

After selecting a particular LIBRARY and FILE, try the following:

NAME(COCA-COLA) <enter>

This will locate all the documents containing the word "COCA-COLA" in the NAME segment. (Single, hyphened, or multi-word searches with several connectors (e.g. AND, OR, etc.) and several searches within multiple parentheses are possible.)

Each document on the LEXIS service is divided into distinct "SEGMENTS," or portions. Cases, for instance, are divided into segments called NAME, NUMBER, COURT, CITE, DATE, OPINION, etc.

To find out the list of SEGMENTS available in the particular library and file, press the SEGMENTS key or type .SE.

Students who would like to learn how to practice law while they are in law school should register for the in-house clinical education program, LAW OFFICES. Applications are now available for spring. The spring applications are due October 18.

Students may enroll in Law Offices after they have completed their first year of law school (current first years may not apply for Spring 1997). To be eligible to enroll, ALL students (except LADR students) must complete and return a completed Law Offices application. Applications must be turned in to the Law Offices receptionist in Suite 600 by the deadline.

Students who have taken or are currently taking Law Offices (called Continuing Law Offices Students) and who submit their applications by the due date will be given preference if availability permits. Other new students who have submitted their applications by the due date will be selected in the Law Offices lottery.

The in-house programs are comprised of two components. One is a graded classroom component for one credit. The other is a pass/fail three-credit fieldwork component. For the fieldwork component students work in practice groups on client cases or similar projects assigned to them by a supervising attorney. It also includes practice group lectures, supervising attorney conferences, section meetings, and various client interview experiences.

There are five in-house practice groups from which to choose - employment discrimination/civil rights with some general practice, criminal defense, mediation and other ADR procedures, health law, and tax.

For more information, you may talk to the clinical professors who supervise the various practice groups - Professors Gonzalez (room 629) and Norton (room 623) for employment discrimination/civil rights with some general practice; Professors Kadish (room 613), Kling (room 625), and Thomas (room 609) for criminal defense; Professor Kentra (room 690) for mediation and other ADR procedures; Professors Altman (room 611), Elster (room 692) and Toolan (room 621) for health law; and Professor Livingston (room 688) for tax.

Many externships offer the externs opportunities to obtain a 711 license and appear in court.
The accompanying classroom component consists of a 1-credit hour weekly class, which focuses on the profession and practice of law today.

If you are interested in learning more about externship opportunities or in applying to the program, please see Professor Vivien Gross in room 617.

We will also be showing the American History School House Rock cartoons.

Second, the Chicago Lawyers’ Chapter is hosting Professors Richard Epstein (Chicago), Thomas Merrill (Northwestern), Steven Calabresi (Northwestern), and Gary Lawson (Northwestern) to discuss the recent decisions and the upcoming term of the Supreme Court. The event it titled “Whither the Supreme Court?” and students can attend for $15, which includes a fine dinner. All others are $25. It will be held on Wednesday, October 2 at the Midland Hotel (BarBrit’s basement), 175 West Adams, with cocktails at 5:30 pm and dinner at 6. Please RSVP Paula Stannard TODAY at (312) 407-0729.

Walk for Hope Against Breast Cancer: Every 3 minutes a woman is diagnosed with breast cancer. Every 12 minutes a woman dies of breast cancer. 2.6 million women have breast cancer, yet 1 million are unaware they have it. In 1996, 45,000 women will die from breast cancer, and as many as 180,000 women will be diagnosed with breast cancer. But there is hope. On Sunday October 13 from 10 am -12:45 pm the City of Hope organization is sponsoring a fitness walk to raise money for breast cancer research. Registration begins at 9:00 am. The walk is 5 miles (with an option for 6.2 miles). Participants must raise a minimum of $25 in contributions. This is a "flat fee" contribution and not a "per mile walked" one. The event will be held rain or shine. Anyone interested in participating should e-mail RDONEGAN. Look for more information posted on the WIL bulletin board.
