Internet Site of the Week:

Wonder what ever happened to that nice kid you knew in fourth grade? Want to find an E-mail address for a college buddy? Curious about information on your hometown? Well, this week’s site can answer many of those questions. www.infospace.com has world-wide search engines for E-mail addresses, white and yellow pages, blue pages (government) as well as information about cities and towns around the country. When you run out of people to look up, head over to www.soc.qc.edu/phonetic/ and run your own phone number through the ringer. When you enter a phone number, the computer spits out a list showing every word that can be spelled from the digits in the number. Just a few study break distractions for you to check out!

UN SELECTS NEW SECURITY COUNCIL MEMBERS

After an intense campaign, the United Nations has filled five rotating seats on the Security Council. Under the UN charter, this is the UN organ responsible for maintaining international peace and security, and member states agree to carry out its decisions.

In addition to the five permanent members, who were victorious allies at the end of World War II—China, France, the UK, the US. and the Russian Federation, there are 10 non-permanent memberships rotated among the remaining countries by world region. Five of them were open for the 1997-1998 term, and the five countries which won these seats by secret ballot were: Costa Rica (Latin America), Japan (Asia), Kenya (Africa) Portugal (Western Europe), and Sweden (Western Europe).

The Resolutions, Decisions, Proceedings, Agenda, and other records of the Security Council are received by the Library of International Relations, which is a depository library for United Nations documents and publications.

SUPREME COURT TO REVIEW SEPARATION OF POWERS CASE

The United States Supreme Court has recently agreed to hear a case that may define Congress’s power to legislate constitutional requirements. The case, Flores v. City of Boerne, 73 F. 3d 1352 (5th Cir. 1996) concerns denial of a construction permit for a Catholic church seeking to expand into a historic district. The church sued under the Religious Freedom Restoration Act of 1993 and the City argued that the law was unconstitutional. Several federal appeals courts have upheld the Act. Other interested parties include state and local officials, including prison officials who have had to allow unusual religious activities among inmates and a coalition of religious groups seeking to bolster the Act. City of Boerne v. Flores, No. 95-2074.

CHARLES GREEN LECTURE IN LAW AND TECHNOLOGY

On Tuesday, November 5, at 12 noon in the Auditorium, Professor JC Smith, who is Director of the Faculty of Law Artificial Intelligence Research Project at the University of British Columbia, will deliver the annual Charles Green Lecture in Law and Technology. He will speak on “Machine Intelligence and Legal Reasoning.” The central focus of Professor Smith’s research and writing has been the nature and structure of legal discourse, which has led him to pursue research of a broad interdisciplinary nature, including substantial research in the area of artificial intelligence and law. His lecture will focus on the problems of simulating legal reasoning in the computer. He will explain and demonstrate some of the innovative ways by which some of these problems can be solved, and how these solutions lead to a better understanding of our own mental processes. His thesis is that the future of legal practice will lie not so much in the direction of machines taking over the functions of lawyers, but rather in a union between the lawyer and the machine made possible by the capacity of the computer to represent and manipulate legal knowledge in patterns similar to the way humans think.

Professor Smith is a graduate of the UBC Faculty of Law and received his LL.M. from Yale, where he was awarded the Felix Cohen Prize in Legal Philosophy. He is the author of numerous academic articles and books. He has lectured around the world and has received many honors and prizes. A reception for Professor Smith will be held in the event room on the 10th floor immediately following the lecture.

Paper Research - Name that Database

So let’s pretend that you’re writing a paper. Let’s also pretend you have no idea where to find materials on your idiosyncratic choice of topic. Let’s pretend that there’s this database called IDEN which contains all the scope information on every Westlaw database and that your topic has something to do with foreign direct investment in Latin America. Using a terms and connectors search, type: (INVESTMENT BUSINESS) IS "LATIN AMERICA" and about 20 or so databases will be identified that bear some relation to your topic. You can then read the scope sections on these and further narrow your search for relevant databases.

On a similar note, any time you are in the Westlaw directory, there is a “Search for DB” button on the bottom of the screen which will automatically open a Natural Language search screen in the IDEN database.

Updating Your Research

Once you’ve identified the databases and searches that are proper for your paper topic, you can save yourself alot of time by using WESTCLIP. You can access Westclip via the button with the paperclip on the toolbar or via the menus. You tell Westclip what database to search, how often and with what query. It then runs your search on a periodic basis and whenever you want to be notified (say, at log-on) it will inform you if anything that corresponds to your search criteria has been added to the Westlaw databases since the last time your search was run. If you get a hit, you automatically access the new information with one button click. Yeehaw, life is good. Remember, Westlaw is your friend. Be nice.

LITIGATION AND DISPUTE RESOLUTION STUDIES: What Is LADR???

This is a program in which first-year students may apply and is different from anything at any other law school! The first-year students who are accepted will begin the program during their second year of law school.

Becoming a lawyer takes more than sitting through three years of law school lectures. It involves more than learning how to cross-examine hostile witnesses, write persuasive briefs, and talk to clients. Reading about subjects such as legal ethics or law practice management is not the same as learning about them from experience.

Throughout the LADR program, you will learn legal doctrine, lawyering skills, and professional values, and work in Chicago-Kent’s teaching law firm, supervised by clinical professors who are expert practitioners and mentors. You will learn the art of lawyering through two years of intensive skills and clinical training. Your experience will teach you how to become a competent, ethical, socially responsible lawyer.

There will be informational meetings and brochures available soon. WATCH THE RECORD FOR FUTURE ANNOUNCEMENTS!

THE FEDERALIST SOCIETY

Mr. Roger Pilon of the CATO Institute will be speaking about "Federalism, Unfunded Mandates, and the 104th Congress", among other things, on November 7 in room 580 from 4-5:30pm. We intend to have a reception afterwards. The event should prove especially interesting to 2Ls in Constitutional Law, as we hope to engage at least one of your professors in the discussion. We will be posting some information about Mr. Pilon and CATO on our bulletin board.

We are co-sponsoring an event on the benefits of legal immigration on November 12 in room 170 at noon. A video by the American Immigration Lawyers' Association will be shown, and a member of that association, Peggy McCormick, will be present to discuss the video, immigration law in general, and answer any questions. FOOD will be served.

Professor Paul Cassell of the University of Utah will be discussing the 30th Anniversary of the Miranda decision with famous defense attorney and esteemed Professor Richard Kling. This event will take place on November 18 from 4-6pm in room 570. Prof. Cassell is a former law clerk of then-Judge Scalia and Chief Justice Warren Burger, and has written extensively about Miranda and other law enforcement topics. Prof. Kling is an excellent criminal defense attorney with the Chicago-Kent Law Offices and has been involved in several high-profile cases. Recently, Prof. Kling successfully defended Helmut Hofer, accused of murdering Dean Olds' wife. If you haven't heard anything about that, you truly are living in a box.

We are still waiting on the room and date for the panel we intend to host on the Partial Birth Abortion Ban. Please watch the Federalist Society bulletin board and your e-mail for breaking news. Also, we have added many new handouts and other free articles to our bulletin board. Please help yourself to our propaganda.

Questions, donations, insults, or a desire to be included on our mailing list? E-mail CHAGE, CBENTLEY, CPOULSON, or JMRAZ.

"The Constitution is the rock of our political salvation; it is the palladium of our rights; ... [but] when the [government] pursues a favorite object with passionate enthusiasm, men are too apt, in their eager embrace of it, to overlook the means by which it is attained. These are the melancholy occasions when the barriers of the government are broken down and the boundaries of the Constitution defaced."

Junius Americanus [pseud.]
letter in the New York Daily Advertiser
July 13, 1790

Note: Last week in this space two quotes (one by Thomas Jefferson and the other by Adolph Hitler) were run that might imply that the Federalist Society was anti-gun control. The Federalist Society is a group of libertarian and conservative individuals who are committed to encourage full and free debate of issues, with full participation from all viewpoints. We do not presume to advocate a position on the issues. In addition, the second quote, intended by the author to illustrate possible dangers in limiting the citizens' right to bear arms, was in no way intended to endorse Hitler or his views.
HISPANIC LAW STUDENT ASSOCIATION (HLSA)

MARCH FOR JUSTICE AND DIGNITY: We would like to recognize the five Chicago-Kent law students who attended the “March for Justice and Dignity” in Washington D.C. on October 12. The March was a culmination of a nationwide mobilization initially organized in 1994 by some of the most astute Latino thinkers and community activists, whose purpose for gathering was in response to the recent “Hispanic hysteria” that has been sweeping our country. There is a video on reserve in the library for anyone who may be interested in viewing this historical event.

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY LAW SOCIETY

IPLS’s first speaker event of the year, held in conjunction with CLASS, will take place on Tuesday, October 29 from 4:30-5:45pm in room 170. Mr. Marty Delano, a member of the contracts group with Andersen Consulting, will discuss the ProCD v. Zeidenberg case involving shrinkwrap licensing. Mr. Delano asks that those who plan to attend read the case, located at 86 F.3d 1447, beforehand so that the discussion can be interactive. Refreshments will be provided. A few days later, IPLS is having its Halloween bake sale on Thursday, October 31 in the 3rd floor Spak. Volunteers are still needed to sit at the table as well as bake goodies. Please e-mail TMCCARTY if you are interested in helping out. Additionally, IPLS is selling Entertainment coupon books for $35.00. Finally, mark your schedules for our Resume Workshop on Tuesday, November 19 from 4-6pm in room 570. If you’re interested in a career in intellectual property and want a practicing IP attorney to review your resume, sign up for a fifteen minute time-slot on the sheet posted on the IPLS bulletin board located on the concourse. OUTLINES

If you were supposed to get an outline but didn’t, contact Melissa (MSMEJKAL). She’ll help you out. Also, to all those 2Ls and 3Ls, Melissa has some outlines available for your classes, too. Instead of sending her a barrage of e-mails, though, I think I’ll just e-mail a list of the classes for which she has outlines for. Stay tuned...

- SOWLE FOR CRIM - if you have Sowle for Crim, we have a new and improved outline for you. Just send an e-mail to MSMEJKAL and she’ll send it to you.

- OUTLINES NEEDED - any 2Ls or 3Ls that have outlines for Con Law, Crimm Pro, or Sales, WE NEED YOU! Those of you who are willing to donate to our collection would be doing us a huge favor. Just send them to MSMEJKAL. Thanks!

WOMEN IN LAW

Thanks to everyone who was able to attend our meetings last week. We covered a lot of upcoming business.

We are in the midst of planning our Fall Reception at which we will pair up mentors and mentees. The tentative dates are November 7 and November 14.

Movie Night: We want to host a showing of the recent HBO movie "If These Walls Could Talk." The time and date is still up in the air, but we’ll keep you posted.
Professor JC Smith of the University of British Columbia Faculty of Law, who will deliver the Green Lecture in Law and Technology at noon on Tuesday, November 5, is also the co-author, with Carla J. Ferstman, of a book recently published by New York University Press, entitled THE CASTRATION OF OEDIPUS; FEMINISM, PSYCHOANALYSIS, AND THE WILL TO POWER. The book draws from the work of Nietzsche, Freud, Lacan and Derrida, and ends up with a challenging reversal-of-power thesis. Professor Smith would be very interested in discussing the book with interested faculty and students on Monday, November 5, at either noon or afternoon (time TBA). This is a great opportunity to meet a scholar of feminism in a relaxed informal forum. Please contact TPETRUSO if you would like to attend and to voice a preference for the time of the talk.

Look for an upcoming forum on Late-term/ Partial Birth Abortion that WIL is co-sponsoring with The Federalist Society. The emphasis in the forum will be on the legal implications of the bill prohibiting partial birth abortion that was recently vetoed by President Clinton. Particular emphasis will be on the impact such a law would have on previous abortion decisions. The forum will take place in early November.

Committees are still forming. If you signed up to be on a committee, expect to be contacted by the chair of that committee soon. The committees are: Speaker Series, Fundraising, Special Events, Community Service, and Public Relations.
