A list of students who have submitted a Graduation Requirement Analysis Form is posted on the second floor bulletin board. PROFESSIONALISM DAY

The top five things to take note of as Professionalism Day draws near:

1. If you have not yet registered, it’s not too late. Remember, Professionalism Day is a graduation requirement. Come into the Career Services Office right away to fill out a registration form.

2. Day and evening classes are canceled for everyone on February 5!

3. Professionalism Day is an opportunity to discuss the legal and business world with practitioners. We strongly encourage you to dress in business attire, just as you would for any business function.

4. Over sixty employers will be participating in Professionalism Day. A list of these employers is posted on the bulletin board outside of the Career Services Office. Remember, if you do not attend a specific employer’s breakout session, there will be plenty of opportunities to meet with these employers during breaks, at lunch or during the reception.
The Record

5. Curious about which breakout sessions you will be attending? All day students received their first and second choices. Evening students received their first choice. If you can’t remember which sessions you selected, stop by the Career Services Office front desk to view your selections.

FROM ASSISTANT DEAN FOR ADMISSIONS MIKE BURNS

TO: All Continuing Students
FROM: Assistant Dean Michael S. Burns
DATE: Spring Semester 1997
RE: CRITICAL INFORMATION REGARDING: MERIT/NEED-BASED AND MERIT-ONLY SCHOLARSHIPS

Continuing students may be eligible to receive both merit-only and merit/need-based scholarships.

Merit-only scholarships are based solely on your academic performance and do not require a financial aid application. If you are exclusively interested in merit-only scholarships, you do not need to apply for financial aid.

Merit/need-based scholarships are based on both your academic record and your financial need. If you want to be considered for scholarships based on financial need, you must submit the required financial aid application forms, even if you are not planning to take out student loans. In order to be considered for need-based scholarships, you must:

1) submit the Chicago-Kent Institutional Application on or before April 15, 1997, and

2) must have a Student Aid Report (SAR) on file in the Office of Financial Aid on or before June 1, 1997.

Students who do not meet these deadlines will not be eligible for need-based scholarships.

Upcoming Career Services Programs:

Summer Opportunities for 1Ls

How do most students spend the summer? Are clerking jobs available? How do you find a clerking job? What's the timetable for summer hiring? How critical is it to gain legal experience during the summer?

On Tuesday, January 28 at noon and 5:00pm in room 570 the Career Services staff will address the common concerns of first-year students regarding how they spend the summer after their first year of law school. All 1Ls are welcome to attend either session. The special job searching concerns of evening students will be addressed in a future Career Services program, scheduled for 5:00pm on February 26. Evening students, keep that date on your calendar!

Practice Tracks 1997:

You've heard us talk over and over again about the importance of information gathering in identifying a career path and conducting a job search. We've recommended that you do some informational interviewing with practitioners to help you decide what you want to do and how best to market your skills. Now we've made this process even easier by bringing the practitioner to you!

On Saturday, February 1, J.D.s from 70 practice areas and alternative careers will be at Northwestern University School of Law for the express purpose of talking informally with students about careers in different areas. The practitioner will be positioned at tables in Northwestern's atrium so that students can circulate to speak with as many or as few of the attorneys as they wish.

It's your chance to find out directly from practitioner how seekers are faring in a particular segment of the market, what it's like to practice in an area, which credentials are helpful in finding employment in the area, what skills you should stress in applying, and more!

Join other area law students from 10:00am until 1:00pm at Northwestern to take advantage of this easy way to gather information! Please sign up in the Career Services Office if you plan to attend Practice Tracks. See the Career Services bulletin board for further information about which areas are being represented.

Note: The participating attorneys have volunteered their time. Participation does not indicate that the represented organizations have job openings. This program is sponsored by the Chicago Area Law School Consortium.

Young Lawyers Section of the Chicago Bar Association Event:

Law Student Interview Workshop:

The Young Lawyers Section of the CBA is hosting a Law Student Interview Workshop from 4:00pm to 6:00pm at the Chicago Bar Association, 321 South Plymouth Court. The Workshop is designed to give law students an opportunity to practice interviewing with attorneys from different areas of practice and to learn strategies to handle difficult and inappropriate interview questions. Interested students should sign-in and pick up a registration form in the Career Services Office. Students are responsible for sending their registration forms to the CBA by January 27, 1997.
The program is free to law student members of the CBA, and $8.00 for non-members. The $8.00 fee will also get you a membership with the CBA.

Are You Leaving Chicago This Summer?
The National Association for Law Placement annually publishes a listing of summer sublets of law students’ apartments in cities across the country. If you know you will be needing an apartment for the summer, or would like to sublet your own apartment, you can register to be included in the Exchange directory. This directory will be mailed to law schools nationwide in mid-March.

Registration forms must be received by the NALP office in D.C. no later than February 14, 1997. Late forms cannot be accepted. Pick up Handout #50 for additional information and registration materials.

Other Special Opportunities: Handouts Available in Career Services:

TUTORIAL
Wondering if the U.S. has an extradition treaty with the country where that absconding financier has taken refuge? Searching for an international environment treaty? Learn how to find treaties and other international agreements by coming to the tutorial on TREATY RESEARCH. The Reference Staff of the Information Center is offering these tutorials this week.

Tutorials last about 20 minutes, and the schedule is posted on the 9th floor bulletin board. You don't have to sign up for them; just show up by the Reference Desk at the scheduled times. If you have any suggestions regarding future topics or the times when they are offered, we'd like to have them. Send them to Lenore Glanz (e-mail: LGLANZ).

ID STICKERS

Be sure to stop by the Registrar's Office and get the current semester's validation sticker for your ID. You will need it for many library services, including checking out books and reserving study rooms.

COOK COUNTY VISITORS

On January 15, members of the Cook County Law Library -- “the Daley Center” -- paid a visit to the Information Center to discuss our distinctive philosophy, products and programs. Jackie Bass, Fred Pearson, and Camille Dzija spent the morning touring the I.C., using eLOISe and meeting with staff. All three agreed that the Information Center should be commended on our implementation of technology and critical use of non-traditional organization models. In particular, they were enthusiastic that Chicago-Kent’s business models were giving law students the opportunity to understand the economics of legal research. It is their belief that programs such as for fee copying and Westlaw and Lexis printing would give our graduates a competitive advantage in the market.

FROM PROFESSOR VIVIEN GROSS, FACULTY ADVISOR OF SERVING OUR SOCIETY (SOS), AND SOS STUDENT COUNSELORS, MR. STEVE MCKENZIE (3L) AND MS. ANN CELINE O’HALLAREN (2L).

Please stop by and see us. We can counsel you generally about legal and non-legal interest opportunities, and specifically help you locate a volunteer experience in a public interest area. There are lots of new listings. Here is an example:

First Defense Legal Aid

First Defense Legal Aid (formerly Police Custody Hotline Program) needs 7-11 students. Join this innovative program and learn more about our criminal justice system by volunteering as little as one week-night a month. After receiving training from the Hotline’s staff attorneys, the volunteer will spend one evening a month being dispatched to various Chicago Police Stations in response to emergency calls from an arrestee or his/her family. While at the police station the volunteer will collect basic information about the client, inform the client of his/her basic constitutional rights, document any injuries suffered by the client, convey any messages to the client’s family, and place the police on notice that the client is not to be questioned outside the presence of counsel. The Hotline’s representation ends when the client is transferred from the police station to bond court.

The next training session is scheduled for February 4, 1997. Please stop by the SOS office for more information.

NEWS FROM THE CENTER FOR LAW AND COMPUTERS (CLC)

Announcing InnerKent!
The Center for Law and Computers announces InnerKent, the Chicago-Kent College of Law Internal Information System. InnerKent is Chicago-Kent’s internal web server; it is intended for the use and benefit of the Chicago-Kent community, and is accessible only from within the school itself.

To get to InnerKent, start Netscape Navigator (in Windows, in the Communications group), and in the line near the top that says “URL,” “Netsite,” or “Go To,” type “ck” and press Enter. This will take you to the InnerKent homepage. At this time, InnerKent is still under construction. We are actively pursuing information to make available, so the lock and content of InnerKent may change unexpectedly for a while.

InnerKent contains a variety of class related materials (such as the academic calendar, the Record and the Student Handbook), technology resources (such as computer support information and e-mail directories), and administrative resources. We hope to make this site a valuable resource for the entire Chicago-Kent community.

Please contact Jeff Harrison (JHARRISO) in the CLC if you have any questions, comments or suggestions for InnerKent.

Computer Lab Printing Policy
We have received several questions from students regarding the college’s printing policy. For the Spring Semester, every student at Chicago-Kent will receive 400 complimentary pages of laser printing. If you print more than 400 pages during the semester, you will be charged 5¢ per page for every page over 400. Here are details of the printing policy:

- You will receive 400 complimentary pages of laser printing at the beginning of each semester.
- Every time you print to the laser printers in the computer labs, the number of pages printed will be deducted by special network page counting software. The page balance that appears on the print queue computer (next to the printer) when you release a job to the printer is not correct. Please refer to the student printer account balance menu (described below) to find out your true balance.
- A KENTNET menu option will allow you to view your current printing balance anytime. The option is under the KENTNET Network Services menu.
  - Select the balance for the semester you are interested in seeing.
  - If you want to see individual print jobs or print a balance sheet, answer Yes to Would you like to see a detailed listing?
  - Answer Yes to Print a Balance Sheet? The balance sheet will print on the local printer.
• If you print more than the number of pages allotted for the semester, the system will continue to count pages, but these pages will be charged to your print account at the rate of 5¢ per page. If you exceed the semester allotment of free pages, you can still print. Printing will not be turned off.

• Before the end of the second week of the following semester, you must pay any outstanding printing balance before you can receive your next semester’s allotment of free pages. At the end of the second week of the new semester, students who have not settled their previous semester’s print accounts in full will have printing privileges discontinued until payment in full is received by the Bursar’s office (room 290).

• You cannot carry forward a balance of unused pages from one semester to another. Every student starts with a new balance at the beginning of every semester.

• You cannot lend pages to other students.

• If you print out materials for faculty or staff, print out a detailed listing of your account (see above) and have the faculty or staff member sign-off on the pages printed. Present this listing to the CLC (Theda Mickey, room 711) and you will be credited for these pages. Remember, this is only necessary if your total semester printing is more than 400 pages.

• Graduating students will not receive their diplomas until their print accounts are paid in full.

• The CLC staff check the printers daily for paper and toner. Please report any problems with printers or printing to HELPDESK.

THE BILLABLE HOUR -- STILL TICKING
Reports of the death of the billable hour are greatly exaggerated. In spite of the widely publicized desire of major corporate clients for alternatives, the billable hour is still the billing method of choice for most law firms, most of the time. Access the Wall Street Journal database (WSJ) and run the following search to read about a tradition that still has some life left in it.

SEXUAL HARASSMENT -- PYRRHIC VICTORY
Suing your employer for sexual harassment is tough. Doing so while keeping your job is tougher. And doing so when your employer is the Taconite mine that also employs most of your friends and relatives -- that’s most unbearable. Access the Washington Post database (WP) to read about the unhappy experience of 21 women from Minnesota’s iron range who won their class action lawsuit, but suffered almost as much in court as they did on the job.

Not that law students and buttoned-down lawyer types would be interested, but here is an item that you may want to pass along to your carefree younger sibling. Arguably the most eye-catching shape on four wheels today comes not from Ferrari or BMW but from a stodgy old American car company: Plymouth.

FROM MARK SCOTT, PRESIDENT OF THE STUDENT BAR ASSOCIATION

In an effort to minimize scheduling conflicts between student events, all student organizations should forward event information to Ivy Israel, Chair of the Student Organization Committee. Ivy will log the event on a calendar for review. In addition, Ivy will forward the notification to the student organization leaders. All organizations should take the information into consideration when planning events.

1. Spring 1997 Budgets and Amendments: The Board of Governors met last week and voted on the Spring 1997 Budget. Copies of the budget are available outside the SBA office, C88. Any student organization that needs additional funding, in excess of the approved budget, must submit an amendment request. Please contact Kim Jessum, Treasurer, or Elayna Pham, Assistant Treasurer, should your organization need to file an amendment.

2. Financial Statement: The SBA financial statement will be available to the student community tomorrow, January 28. The statement will reflect the financial standing of the SBA as of the end of the fall semester. Copies of the statement will be provided outside the SBA office, C88. If you would like us to e-mail you the file, please request through SBAQ.

3. Law Week: Law Week will occur April 6 - April 12, 1997. The week will be filled with a variety of speaking events and student activities (similar to the Fall Lecture Series). Please forward any suggestions regarding themes and activities to George Petrovich and Carlos Poza, Co-Chairs.

4. January Social: Please note that the first SBA Social will be this Thursday, January 30. The social will begin at 7:00pm and will end at 11:00pm. The location has not yet been determined. We will update the student population through e-mail, broadcast messages, and signage. Please watch for the information during the early part of this week. Should you have a suggestion for a future SBA Social, please e-mail Jonathan Gelperin.

5. Student Organization Elections: Student organization leaders may want to consider establishing their 1997-98 Executive Boards during this semester. We noticed that some organizations elected their 1996-97 boards during the fall semester. Keep in mind that we hope to establish contacts for each organization in the event newly admitted students would like to talk with a representative.

6. Code of Conduct Committee: We would like to propose new language to the faculty and administration regarding the non-academic section of the Code of Conduct. If you would like to participate on the committee or if you have suggestions, please e-mail Adam Weiss, Chair.
