The years that have passed are filled with the achievements of men who are graduates of Chicago-Kent. During all these years students in undergraduate life, struggling and fighting for their ideals, have won glory or suffered disappointment.

We students are now in the most enthusiastic period of our lives, and, if we are wide awake, we are looking forward to professional or industrial fields offering the best opportunities. Very few of us, up to the time we became seniors, can tell the branch of law in which we expect to specialize. Many of us, holding commercial positions at present, are not quite decided as to whether we should give up our positions and practice law as a profession, or whether we should use our acquired knowledge of law and more scientific thinking habits to further ourselves commercially.

Perhaps the main difficulty with many of us lies in the fact that we are not well enough informed, and surely nobody wants to make so important a decision without first understanding, from the past experience of others, what obstacles we shall have to overcome.

Can the Review help?

Articles written by Chicago Kent Alumni would attract the interest of every student. Let the articles tell us why you chose as you did. You have held the same ambitions as we—and were forced to sacrifice your every spare minute towards furthering them. You were willing to work hard to get somewhere, and you did. You, then, are in a good position to advise.

The CHICAGO-KENT REVIEW is an open forum where views and news of all the students and alumni should be registered and circulated.

Without 100% reader interest the REVIEW cannot properly function—and we have not yet reached anywhere near this goal so far as paid subscriptions concerned.

There has been a great need for the CHICAGO-KENT REVIEW and nothing would please us more than to be able to distribute it free of charge to everyone of you each month. But this is an impossibility.

From the first it has been our intention to devote several pages each month exclusively to alumni news—on what our alumni are doing, what they have done, and what they are going to do.

The February Issue, being the first, contained but very few alumni notes; by the time the March Issue went to press the class of 1910 was heard from. But now our organization is functioning smoothly, as it should, and we are glad to present four pages of alumni notes, in the APRIL EDITION, that will be of interest to all classes.

We shall try to constantly deserve STUDENT and ALUMNI support. Each month should find the REVIEW meaning more to you, telling you what your classmates and friends are doing, or have done; advising you of the up to date news; and holding forth, we hope, a few good laughs in the LINE OF COUNT DE MARCATION.

SENIOR NOTES

Graduation is now approaching and the seniors have little else in mind. Work on the TRANSCRIPT is nearing the end, and the senior class of 1923 is proud of their achievement.

It will be a great pleasure to the active participants in this work to view the delight of the school at large when copies are delivered. It has also been a great pleasure to these same workers to look back upon the general co-operative spirit of the entire student body which has aided largely to the high standard of this publication that in after years will bring fond recollections of our college days at Chicago Kent.

In every way has the help of the classes and individuals been appreciated. In a work of this kind many problems must be met, among which finances are of extreme importance. It is commonly recognized, we believe, that the mere subscription price of $2.50 per copy does not anywhere near cover the costs of production. To cover the difference a great deal of advertising must be sold and donations received.

It is not our purpose at this time to individually thank each donator but to express our appreciation to the school at large for their part in making the 1923 Transcript a success.

And do we appreciate, and feel sure that every one who has reserved his copy of the Transcript will also be of the same mind after enjoying the possession made possible the co-ordinated efforts of all.

The 1923 Kent Scramble was reported in the last issue exactly as witnessed by those present. The SCRAMBLE was a vaudeville show promoted by the senior class for the purpose of giving everyone in school a fine time, getting classes better acquainted with each other, and raising money for the 1923 Transcript. The senior class wishes at this time to publicly thank all these students who actively participated in the entertainment, and lent freely of their time and energy to give joy to their fellow class-mates.

In the last edition of the Review we noted that the Junior Class had under consideration the establishment of another tradition at Kent, namely that of a yearly JUNIOR PROM.

We believe that this is a worthy venture and understand that the date has been set for April 25th.

The senior class as a whole appreciates the co-operation that the Junior Class has given them this year—and the Juniors could not keep us away from their dance if they tried.

Everybody is boosting the Prom.

Question! Does Deiches talk in her sleep?

Ye Honorable Secretary of Chicago-Kent School of Law, Mr. Guernsey, and unknown auburn haired gentleman came in one night last week and looked us over. Understand the A. H. G. is a representative of the State Bar Ex. Board; Feel sure the Juniors passed muster, for the A. H. G. went out without saying anything, wearing a happy, pleased expression.

A brain exercise—imagine Peterson not arguing with the teacher; imagine Ev Walker weighing only 130 lbs.; imagine a Junior being absent or late; imagine Deiches keeping still; imagine Kent in bankruptcy—Bshaw! What's the use, it can't be did.

Fay (2d section) has been very ill with pneumonia.

The Junior Prom is now under way. All arrangements have been made and the undivided co-operation of the entire Junior Class is absolutely necessary.

We are putting over something BIG. Something that is not merely a Junior Class Dance but A JUNIOR PROM. The big dance of the year for the entire school. We have gained the loyal co-operation of the Senior and Freshman Classes. The freshman Social Committee has agreed to dispose of a minimum of 65 tickets in the 4 freshman classes and as many more as they can.

With everybody's co-operation the JUNIOR PROM can't help but be a success—but if all the work and push is left to some few parties it is bound to be a failure. It is up to YOU—every one of you.

Junior Prom.

The Big Party of the Year.

The Juniors do not put on many parties, but when they do, they do things up right.

The big Junior Prom is to be held in the Gold Room of the Hotel LaSalle on Saturday, April 28th. Arrangements have been made to have the best music, and no pains have been spared to make every detail perfect.

The Kent Alumni are especially invited to attend this dance. Come out and get acquainted with the new men, and renew your school days—visit with the members of your own class who will be there.

Let's make it a real party. Every Senior, Junior, and Freshman in Kent should be present. If you miss this dance—Well it will be your loss, but believe me Buddy, you'll surely miss something!

Get your tickets now and avoid the rush, or mail your order to

FRESHMAN NOTES.
The Freshman Class of June,'25 with its usual enthusiasm staged a very enjoyable dance at the Crystal Room of the Great Northern Hotel, on Friday, April 6th. No effort was made to run a large dance for the entire school inasmuch as the Junior Class had made such plans for the latter part of this month. Upper Classmen were cordially invited, however, and the numbers present exceeded all expectations.

Radio Fans had the pleasure of dancing to the syncopation of the K. Y. W. Georgians, whose 9 piece musical combination was superb.

One of the outstanding features of the dance was the Invitation Program. We offer our opinion that many a fair maiden's heart beat faster when she realized that for some few hours at least she held her man under legal agreement. And if appearances count there is no doubt but what the boys enjoyed the experience.

We were delightfully entertained with special dancing numbers by Miss Fay Torme and Mr. William Torme. Miss Fay Torme needs no introduction to the members of the Freshman Class, having won our hearts securely at our previous SMOKER. Mr. William Torme is to be personally congratulated upon the ease and perfect rhythm of his dancing and as much as upon the instruction given to his little sister, which has resulted in such perfect satisfaction to those of us who have been privileged to enjoy her entertainment.

Among those present were B. Steiner with Celia Kohn, Christian Hardt and sister with Mrs. Adeline Bezold and Miss Jagade, Raymond Janosky with Mabel Campbell, Geo. M. Engle, E. T. Parks with Maryrose Raeicost, Sidney Newman with Mae-Marie Sisteck, M. S. Rosenblum, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hager, Ralph H. Heen, R. D. Bec'sett with Olive Williamson, M. J. Madden, E. D. Markhan with Edna Zimmerman, Ritz Herbert with Evelyn Saylor, B. F. McCormick with Louille Markhan, E. E. Murphy with Lucille Favioli, George Carolan, Julius H. Sacks with Rose Finklestein, Ed. Finklestein with Bell Gail, H. C. Qui ley with Gretchen Quizley, Joseph A. Gaue with Mildred Cauer, Irving L. Block with Lillian Buser, S. C. Bartholomew with Miss Yeager, Chas. Anderson with Miss Cockley, Irving E. Greenberger, Clarence Bucher with Miss Stueben, Mr. Johnson with Loritta McCaffrey, Bernard R. Garnec with Isabel M. Kyll, William G. Wood, C. Macaulay with Miss Macaulay, O. C. Strom with Miss Barnes, Vayle C. Johnson with Miss I'elen Gaudy, Leland L. Karas with Mary Stafford, Adrian L. Lammers with Ann O'Malley, Mr. Long with Miss Morrison, Fred Cushna with Amy Pearson, J. H. Koren with Dorothy C. Frazee, Joseph S. Tragarz with Rose Reshe, E. Stanly Brin with Marie Hisgen, Arthur Torme with Della Glasser, Billie Torme with Anna Epstein, Toney Vanney with Harrietta E. Peacock, Walter A. O'Brien with Charlotte Bacon, George W. Hansen with Margorette Maguire, B. Helford with Vera Beck, B. E. Padorr with Chic Sabel, R. Lester with S. Morgan, Miss Fay Torme, H. J. Tobin with Marie Shape, L. Johnson, E. E. Linebarges, D. C. Anderson, Kooperman with Sonia Keen, W. B. Jones, Arthur H. Watson with Ruth Bergstrom, James A. Jennings with Mary White, Frank M. Mautche with Miss Angela McHale and Richard Brookham with Miss Alice Ceiger. It is to be regretted that many others who had planned to join in our good time could not make their appearance, for unavoidable reasons.

The Freshman Social Committee is now planning a bigger and better Smoker to take place sometime in May, possibly the 24th, at which to entertain members of both the regular and mid-year classes for the last time this school year. A full orchestra will furnish the musical accompaniment to the group singing and specialty numbers. Short original playlets by fellow members, in costume, will be delightfully presented.

This final get together smoker will overshadow all former events in the magnificence of presentation.
DELTA CHI NOTES

On Tuesday March 22nd, Delta Chi gave an informal smoker and sing-song at its quarters at 123 W. Madison Street. Besides the active chapter there were present about 20 guests. The entertainment was impromptu: The Andersons gave a few sketches, Jimmis Moore friscoed on the table, Burge warmed up the piano, etc. Then the whole bunch turned loose on "The Good Old School of Law," and other college songs, ending with our old stand-by, "Vive-la" and "The Bond."

Delta Chi announces the successful initiation of Edmond T. Horne (25) and W. H. Shaner (24)

The chapter gave a dance at the Canadian Club on September 24th. This the third fraternity dance of the year, was a huge success. Delta Chi dances are always good, but this was better than usual. This will be our last dance until the annual commencement formal dinner dance.

Delta Chi has been making some extensive purchases for its quarters, including some 50 new volumes for our library, additional book cases to put them in, some additional easy chairs, floor lamps, etc., which add greatly to the comfort and appearance of our quarters.

PHI DELTA PHI

The regular election was held on Monday, April 2nd, at which the following officers were chosen to act for the coming year:

Magister
Clerk
Reporter
Historian
Gladiator
Historian
Tower

Our semi-annual initiation was held on Friday, March 30th, at the Bismark Hotel, and was a decided success. A class of eight men of excellent character was taken in, and the Chapter feels itself decidedly strengthened with their addition.

On Saturday evening, April 14th, the Kent Chapter of Phi Delta Phi will combine with the Inns of the University of Chicago and Northwestern University in giving a joint dance, to be held at the Quadrangle Club of the University of Chicago. An extremely enjoyable evening is in store for all who attend, and alumni of this Inn are especially urged to attend.

Of note among the men initiated into Phi Delta Phi was a new member of the faculty, Mr. G. Wood. The fraternity feels honored in extending its membership to Mr. Wood.

Count DeMarcation announces a spring course in neconomics and parkology to be held nightly throughout the months of May and June.

Text assignments to be assigned from "Snappy Stories" and the "Police Gazette." Laboratory instruction and experimental sessions to be conducted in the Lincoln Park Lake Drive every evening after second period (for those driving south—Wooded Island, Jackson Park).

Associate Instructors Wanted: Requirements; a fliver or better and one summer school attendance at the University of Wisconsin (one week end at Lake Delavan will qualify).

Further particulars in the May issue.

Dear Count: I am engaged in the Tire and Tube repair business, and I am looking for a good advertising slogan for the summer trade. Can you think up anything?
An Indiana Alumnus.

Dear Holiday Thief: All advertising matters are referred to Lammers. He ventured this slogan as merely a suggestion "Tourists and Fellow Hoosiers."
"Invite us to officiate at your next blow out."
Your Welcome: Consultation charge one subscription to the Review. Count DeM.

Dear Count: Those were some posters the freshman had to advertise their dance—who was the artist that made them, can he draw anything else? Parks.

Dear Parks: Tormey got those up. I'll say he is a good artist; one night he drew a picture of a hen which fell on the floor, and it lay there. Count DeM.

Dear Count: How can I find out whether Marion really loves me? Gorman
Dear Gorman: Squeeze it out of her, my boy, squeeze it out of her. Count DeM.

Dear Count: I found out why Hager is always so well prepared on the evenings assignment. He is married and they say that his wife keeps his nose on the grindstone all the time. Moudy.
Dear Moudy: So that's it. Well—more power to her, she should make him turn the grindstone too. Count DeM.

Dear Count: You think you are pretty smart don't you? Can you tell me one important thing we have now that we did not have a hundred years ago? O'Brien.
Dear O'Brien: Yes! "Me." Count DeM.

Dear Count: What kind of a girl is this Miss Demeanor anyway? Schultz.
Dear Schultz: You ought to know, didn't you go out to get those golf clubs? I venture an opinion that she is the kind of a girl who is liable to ask why the basement windows of gymnasiums are always frosted. Count DeM.

Dear Count: Since you have set yourself out as an authority kindly tell me a good way to encourage all of my life insurance clientele without incurring their displeasure. An Alumnus.

FRESHMEN

Here is a question to solve. Was Miss Cavanaugh's A in criminal law due to her proficiency in criminology or vampology? We believe the latter to be the probable cause.

Is Miss Tucker studying a medical problem or law. Possibly Dr. Clark may throw some light on the subject.

Why refer to Webster when Miss Corcoran is with us.

If in doubt of anything -no matter what -call on May Viner. If she can't tell you Miss Elliott can.

The boys in the southeast corner of the room are giving "Crisp" attention these days.

THE DETROIT-KENT DEBATE

Messrs. Beck, Levinson, (seniors) and Mr. James (Freshman) wish to heartily thank the student body of Chicago-Kent for the financial support given through the TAG NIGHT enabling them to journey to Detroit and meet their adversary, the Detroit College of Law, on April 6th.

We brought home, for you, the popular decision, but the judges decision went to Detroit. In commenting upon this debate nothing much can be said except that we tried hard to justify the faith you placed in our abilities, and believe that we have not been entirely unsuccessful.

The debate was conducted with all fairness and every courtesy was extended to Chicago-Kent by the Detroit College of Law. We would be personally eager for another opportunity to test our mutual powers and are sure that at some later date Chicago-Kent will come out ahead on both counts.

ATHLETICS

In the February Issue of the CHICAGO KENT REVIEW all men who had any experience in base ball whatever were urged to report for practice, and try out for the CHICAGO-KENT BASEBALL TEAM.

The good weather has now started and practice will be shortly under way. Mr. Polly, in room 203, will give all particulars to students interested, at any time between periods or before classes. Judging from the interest aroused in basket ball last winter, baseball should become an even greater school activity.
CHICAGO KENT MASTERS' CLUB

For those who have achieved the degree of Master of Law conferred by Chicago Kent College of Law there is and shall be a feeling of pride and satisfaction.

During the period of attendance upon classes at Kent those pursuing the same studies are brought in contact one with another and their future being similar and their tastes somewhat the same, a bond of sympathy is established that often lasts long after school classes are over. Frequently friendships are formed during this period that last during life.

The post-graduate class of 1920 have maintained its class organization since graduation, at intervals meetings have been held which has tendered to foster the class spirit which it has endeavored to keep alive and active.

On the 14th day of April the annual banquet will be held of the 1920 class at which time most of the members of the class have signified their intention of being present.

It is the purpose of these members to perpetuate this organization in order that they may get the greatest amount of benefit out of their degree.

After the meeting of the 1920 class a call is to be sent out to all the post-graduates of Kent for a meeting to be held to organize all the classes of post-graduates into a permanent organization and to adopt a name and have regular meetings, elect officers, adopt a constitution and by-laws, and have a real live association. Since the organization of the post-graduate course in 1904 by Kent one hundred forty students have had the degree of Master of Law conferred upon them.

In recognition of the common bond of interest and fellowship existing among these post-graduates some of the members got together in 1912, there was organized a club or society known as "Kent Master Club". The membership of which was limited to those invited to join from among those upon whom the Master' of degree had been conferred by Kent.
This club was somewhat exclusive and those who were fortunate enough to become members considered themselves honored indeed. But through indifference the club was allowed to disintegrate until finally it ceased to function altogether.

It is the purpose now to organize, in place of the old Masters' Club, a new and more democratic association. All those having attained the degree of Masters of Law by Kent are eligible to membership and are to be invited to join.

A new Kent Masters Club will be brought into existence with new life and vigor. There is already a demand for organization and any one eligible ought to consider it an honor to be given the privilege of joining this distinguished association. The date of the meeting and place where we will assemble will be given later.

All post-graduates of Kent will be urged to attend this meeting and help in perfecting the organization of the new Chicago Kent Masters Club.

Watch for an announcement that will appear later in this publication telling of the meeting that will be held.

If you are interested you might communicate with the officers of the present club and learn more of the plans and purposes of the new club that is to be that will extend the fame and good name of Chicago Kent College of Law.

Byne Tyler,
Pres. Post-Graduate Club 1920.

W. C. Thomas, Secretary.
