ALUMNI NOTES

Henry Lee Wallace, C'93, died on January 19th after a brief illness. Mr. Wallace resided at 6818 Merrill Avenue, and is survived by his wife Caroline Whiteside Wallace and three children. Mr. Wallace started his law practice with the firm of Lackner and Butz, and later opened his own office, which he soon left to serve in the Spanish-American War. The Cuban fever, contracted at this time, caused two year's illness after his return and was indirectly the cause of his death. After the war he returned to the practice of law and later became a member of the firm of Smith and Wallace. Mr. Wallace was commissioned a captain in the U. S. Army during the World War and upon his return he resumed his law practice and for the past six years has been in the legal department of the Chicago Title and Trust Company.

Thomas F. Sheridan, K'95, is dividing his time between his office in the Marquette Building, Chicago, and his farm in New Hampshire. The following extract from a letter recently received from Mr. Sheridan will be of interest to his numerous friends among the alumni: "I still maintain an office at my old location, for consultation purposes and advising old clients and associates, but my home is in or near Center Harbor, New Hampshire. To all intents and purposes I retired from all active participation in the practice of Patent Law nearly two years ago and am getting a great deal of pleasure in the breeding of Guernsey cattle. In retiring I carried out an idea which I had in view for many years; that of farming and I have a large and thoroughly equipped stock farm in my New Hampshire home. I am in Chicago at various times for the purposes alluded to, but spend most of the time at the farm. If any of the older or younger graduates are intending to visit our mountain or lake sections, tell them the latch string is always out." Mr. Sheridan's mailing address is Red Hill Farms, Center Harbor, New Hampshire.
